PRESIDENT BARS PUBLISHING OF POWER LETTER

Court Keeps Note to Ickes Secret.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—At the request of President Roosevelt, secret correspondence between him and Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes over the New Deal's policy in spending hundreds of millions on subsidizing municipal power plants will not be disclosed. This marks a new chapter in the conflict over the forced disclosure of telegrams and letters bearing on pending legislation.

When the President's stand was made known today Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat of the District of Columbia Supreme court refused the plea of counsel for private power companies to subpena the correspondence. The ruling followed a statement by Jerome Frank, radical New Deal attorney, that the President had directed that his "privilege" of testimonial immunity be asserted in the case.

Attorneys' Pleas in Vain.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war under President Wilson, and Dean Acheson, who resigned as assistant secretary of the treasury because of New Deal policies, argued in vain that the President's memorandum dealt with the spending of public money and was, therefore, public business. Baker and Acheson are representing five power companies in their battle to block the government's 200 million dollar municipal power program.

Whatever is contained in the memorandum is still a mystery and Frank strove mightily in court to keep it so. Boker and Acheson asserted that the note would prove the New Deal is attempting to "get" private utility companies through making power loans to municipalities. The memorandum, initialed "FDR," was sent by President Roosevelt from his Hyde Park, N. Y., estate on or about Sept. 10, 1934.

Cites British Difference.

In demanding that the note be made public, Baker declared there was a difference between privileges in the courts of England and the courts of the United States.

"In England they are the king's courts," said Baker, "and the king theoretically is presiding in every case. This has led to a complete exoneration of having the king take the witness stand. But in this country we have no such privilege for the chief executive."

Baker recalled the trial of Aaron Burr for treason in 1807 during the administration of President Thomas Jefferson. Chief Justice John Marshall had subpenaed Jefferson to appear at the trial and also to send all documents pertaining to the case. Jefferson refused to attend, but he sent correspondence and other data.

No Prior Privileges.

"Our problem here unhappily deals with the President," said Baker, "and I have the utmost respect for the office and its occupant. But the President is under no privilege as to any document that affects the right of a private citizen, no matter how humble."

Frank contended that the contents of the President's power note did not matter but that the government was fighting its release because it was a matter of principle.

"Since all this came out the President has read the memorandum and directed that his privilege be asserted," said Frank.

Frank maintained that if Baker's plea were upheld the President might be called to the witness stand and the business of the executive branch of the government disrupted. Baker denied any intention of calling Roosevelt into court.

Sees No "Public Necessity."

Justice Wheat said he could see no "public necessity" for divulging the President's note. Acheson immediately took exception to the ruling and this phase of the case undoubtedly will be passed on by the higher courts.

Meanwhile Justice Oscar Luhring of the District Supreme court entered a formal order overruling the government's motion for a continuance until fall of an injunction suit brought by five privately owned Nebraska power companies to block the development of a "model state power system" in their state. New Deal attorneys had wanted to try other cases before the Nebraska suit. The trial probably will start within two weeks.

DISCOURAGING THE KIDNAPING INDUSTRY

NAZIS BAR CRITICISM OF NEW PLAY UNTIL NOON OF NEXT DAY

[Copyright 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, May 13.—Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi propaganda minister, has issued an order forbidding the German press to print dramatic criticism regarding a new play on the morning following the opening night, as is usual in most countries. The same prohibition applies to musical criticism. The earliest hour at which such criticism may be printed is noon of the following day.

The official announcement says:

"In the liberalistic epoch the artistic criticism of the German press had begun to run wild to such an extent it had no longer anything in common with constructive and responsible criticism. An attempt to present to the reader, almost at the conclusion of a performance, complete criticism of the work concerned became a particular evil.

"It is obvious such criticism had to be written without a proper estimate of the performance and without opportunity for the critic to collect and digest his impressions. Such criticism lacks all reverence for artistic achievement no matter how big or small that may be."

CIGARET LIGHTER TOP IN LUNG IS FATAL TO GIRL, 16

Philadelphia, Pa., May 13.—(AP)—Pauline Lane, 16, Knoxville, Tenn., girl who came to Philadelphia to have a cigaret lighter top removed from her lung, died today. The metal had been in her lung nineteen days.

Temple University hospital issued this statement:

"Following the swallowing of the foreign body, an abscess had developed in the lung. A large blood vessel became ulcerated, and a sudden, profuse hemorrhage resulted early this morning.

"No operation had been performed in the hospital because of the abscess."

The girl was brought to Philadelphia last Thursday.

Louisville, Ky., May 13.—(AP)—Thomas H. Robinson Jr., latest of the nation's major criminals to be captured, pleaded guilty of the Stoll kidnaping and was sentenced to life imprisonment here tonight.

The 29 year old former inmate of a Tennessee insane asylum stolidly heard Federal Judge Elwood Hamilton pronounce sentence.

Robinson slugged Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, young Louisville society matron, with a lead pipe and kidnaped her from her home here Oct. 10, 1934. For more than nineteen months he eluded the federal agents. He spent most of his time traveling between New York and California, and federal agents said he spent freely the $50,000 paid him as ransom for Mrs. Stoll. He had held her for a week in an apartment in Indianapolis.

Ordered to Atlanta.

Monday night he was caught in Glendale, Cal., and whisked here in a government chartered airplane. His sentence came within less than 48 hours after his capture. Judge Hamilton directed that Robinson be sent to Atlanta federal penitentiary with the usual specification that he was subject to transfer to any other federal prison on order of the United States attorney general.

Loomis E. Cranor, United States marshal, and a guard of federal agents left by train with Robinson tonight for Atlanta.

All seats in the large federal courtroom were filled as the kidnaper was brought in after a long wait for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Robinson Sr., of Nashville, Tenn., to arrive and confer with him and his counsel, E. B. Gabbard and Clem Huggins.

The kidnaper's wife, who started divorce proceedings after she and the elder Robinson were acquitted last November of complicity in the kidnaping, was not present; nor was the kidnaper's 5 year old son, Jimmy, who has been told his father is dead.

Mother Clings to Arm.

Robinson came in manacled to a federal agent and with his mother clinging to his arm. The mother, who had cried softly after visiting her son before the arraignment, recovered her composure, as did her husband and her sister.

Judge Hamilton read the first count of the indictment, charging conspiracy to kidnap. Pointing out that the other two defendants had been acquitted, he dismissed that count. Than he read the second count, charging that the defendant had abducted Mrs. Stoll and carried her across a state line, and asked: "How do you plead?"

"It is the sentence of this court," said Judge Hamilton, "that you be confined for the term of your natural life in the penitentiary."

Stares as in Daze.

Manacled again to a federal agent, Robinson was led back to the marshal's office for a farewell with his parents. He walked stiffly and stared as in a daze over the brief proceedings that had resulted in a life sentence.

It was reported Robinson's parents had urged him to plead guilty impelled by the hope of a parole after 15 years.

District Attorney Bunk Gardner said, however, that it was his opinion Robinson never would be eligible for parole and that he would make no recommendation for one. The father had said earlier that he wanted his son to plead innocent on insanity grounds.

QUEEN MARY PRESENTS PERSONAL STANDARD TO NAMESAKE LINER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOUTHAMPTON, England, May 13.—Queen Mary of England, mother of King Edward VIII., today presented her personal standard to the giant Cunard-White Star liner bearing her name. It was handed to company officials here and will be placed behind a glass panel on the grand staircase of the liner.

The standard is of silk and about three and one-half feet square. It has the same design as that of the large standard flown from Buckingham palace when Queen Mary is in residence alone. It bears the royal arms side by side with the queen's personal arms. The unveiling ceremony may take place when Queen Mary and her second son, the duke of York, visit Southampton and the liner on May 25.

At 6 p. m. tomorrow the giant liner with a number of distinguished guests aboard will leave its berth in the ocean dock at Southampton on a twenty-four hour cruise to Penzance and back. The Jewish synagogue on the liner was opened this afternoon by Otto Schiff and consecrated by Chief Rabbi Dr. J. R. Hertz.

41 JUDGES QUIT CHICAGO BAR IN POLITICS FIGHT

Refuse to Submit to Lawyers' Inquiry.

Forty-one of the 47 judges of the Superior and Circuit courts voted yesterday to withdraw as members of the Chicago Bar association. The action was the result of a demand by the bar association that four of the judges appear next Tuesday before its board of managers on charges of judicial misconduct because of their political activity in the recent primary campaign.

At a meeting held in the court room of Judge James Joseph Kelly of the Superior court on the eighth floor of the county building the 41 judges adopted a tartly worded resolution which declared that it was incompatible with their judicial duties "to be subservient to any group of lawyers practicing in their respective courts."

Four Judges Spurn Bar Quiz.

Immediately after the meeting the four judges summoned before the bar association's board of managers made public a letter they had sent to Herbert M. Lautmann, president of the association, informing him that they would not answer the charges and would not appear at next Tuesday's hearings. The four are Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit cuort and Judges Kelly, John J. Sullivan, and Oscar F. Nelson of the Superior court. Judge Sullivan sits in the Appellate court.

Forty-three judges attended the meeting. John P. McGoorty of the Superior court was the only judge who voted against the resolution to withdraw from the bar association. Judge David F. Matchett of the Circuit court, who is assigned to the Appellate court, was present but did not vote. Four judges were absent.

41 Vote to Withdraw.

The judges, including those assigned to the Appellate court, who voted to withdraw from the association, are:

APPELLATE COURT.
Ross C. Hall	Denis E. Sullivan
Oscar Hebel	John J. Sullivan
John M. O'Connor	Kickham Scanlan
SUPERIOR COURT.
Francis B. Allegretti	Donald S. McKinlay
Joseph B. David	Michael L. McKinley
Rudolph Desort	Harry B. Miller
James F. Fardy	Oscar F. Nelson
E. I. Frankhauser	Grover C. Niemeyer
Martin M. Gridley	Robert C. O'Connell
James Joseph Kelly	Joseph Sabath
John C. Lewe	Peter H. Schwaba
William J. Lindsay	Walter T. Stanton
John J. Lupe	Walter P. Steffen
CIRCUIT COURT.
Frank H. Bicek	C. J. Harrington
William V. Brothers	Stanley H. Klarkowski
Joseph Burke	Walter J. La Buy
John R. Caverly	Thomas J. Lynch
Benjamin P. Epstein	D. J. Normoyle
Michael Feinberg	John Prystalski
Philip J. Finnegan	George Fred Rush
Harry M. Fisher

Absent were Judges Hugo M. Friend and Daniel P. Trude of the Circuit court and Charles A. Williams and William H. McSurely of the Superior court.

Resolution Adopted by Judges.

The resolution adopted by the judges was introduced by Judge Hall. It said:

"The board of managers of the Chicago Bar association have seen fit to take it upon themselves to discipline certain of the judges of the Circuit and Superior courts for alleged conduct not involving their judicial duties.

"The judges of these courts support the position taken by the judges who refuse to answer alleged charges against them, deeming it incompatible with the proper performance of their judicial duties for judges to be subservient to any group of lawyers practicing in their respective courts.

"In view of the position taken by the board of managers of the bar association that it will attempt to discipline the members of the bench for any reason, it becomes our duty to withdraw as members of the bar association."

Reject McGoorty Peace Plan.

The meeting of the judges was harmonious, so far as could be learned, except for vociferous opposition to Judge McGoorty's proposal to seek

3,000 Salute Hindenburg at German Port

BULLETIN.

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, Germany, May 14 (Thursday).—The Zeppelin Hindenburg landed here at 6:10 a. m. (12:10 a. m. Chicago time) today, concluding its return flight from the United States. Before landing the Zeppelin circled twice over Frankfort. Three thousand spectators cheered the arrival.

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, Germany, May 14 [Thursday].—(AP)—The Zeppelin Hindenburg arrived over the airdrome here at 4:55 a. m. today [10:55 p. m. Wednesday, Chicago time], completing in record time its return trip from the first of a series of voyages to the United States.

The German dirigible was over the airdrome 48 hours and 18 minutes after leaving Lakehurst, N. J. It took 61 hours 53 minutes for its crossing from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst.

The Hindenburg bettered existing lighter than air craft records for both the eastward and the westward crossing. The best previous mark from the United States to Germany was set by the Graf Zeppelin in August, 1929, when it flew from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen in 54 hours.

The previous westward record was set by the Los Angeles, then known as the ZR-3, in October, 1924, when Dr. Hugo Eckener brought the airship across the Atlantic in 81 hours 17 minutes.

Has Favorable Wind.

Though the Hindenburg took off May 6 from Friedrichshafen, where it was built, the airship hereafter will be housed in the new hangar here, which will be the home port for future trips to the United States.

The landing crew remained up and ready all night to receive the Hindenburg, which yesterday was benefited by tail winds and clear weather over the Atlantic and England and made a speedy finish to the trip.

In contrast with Monday, when fog and vagrant winds held the airship to an average of 71 knots per hour, the craft yesterday at times touched 80 and 83 knots [92 to 95 miles per hour].

Its pilots followed the northern Atlantic shipping lane to Ireland, then took the England-Netherlands-Rhine route they had taken on the outward trip to avoid crossing French territory.

Sight Isle Off Ireland.

The 48 passengers on the Hindenburg caught their first sight of land off the European continent when the huge ship flew over Great Skellig, off the coast of Ireland, 36½ hours after leaving New York.

Civil guards at Goleen, County Cork, saw the airship passing over that town at 7:05 p. m. [1:05 p. m. Chicago time]. From Cobh it went over St. George's channel to South Wales and Monmouthshire. Over England it was first seen above Dean Forest, Gloucestershire, then Oxford, where its searchlights swept the roofs of the ancient university town. It went out to the North sea from

ROOSEVELT AND CHIEFS SWING REBELS IN LINE

Pressure Results in 235 to 142 Vote.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Under tremendous pressure from administration leaders, the house late today defeated the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage refinancing bill by the decisive vote of 235 to 142.

Thus, currency inflation to the extent of 3 billions of dollars, suddenly resurrected as a political issue two short weeks ago, suffered a speedy and violent death. No further action on inflation legislation is deemed possible at this session.

A most impressive display of whiplashing preceded today's vote. Word had been received by the leaders direct from the White House that President Roosevelt did not desire to be faced with the problem of approving or disapproving such a controversial measure, with its strong agricultural backing, in an election year.

159 Given Ultimatum.

On Monday 159 Democrats had voted to bring the bill up for consideration. Every one of these members today was given the ultimatum: "Vote for this bill and you'll be putting the President on the spot. He won't like it and you know what that means."

Those were the words of Party Whip Pat Boland of Pennsylvania and were easily understood by all the statesmen. Whip Boland marshaled his cohorts into the chamber this noon, and so stringent was the discipline that several representatives remarked that they felt like raising their hands and asking for permission when it was necessary to leave the floor.

In dismay, as they saw the majority of 220 votes they had rolled up Monday dwindling, the inflation bloc proposed amendment after amendment modifying the measure until it was hardly recognizable. The main feature of inflating the currency so that farmers might pay off mortgages, however, remained unchanged.

But Final Vote's Different.

But when the final test came many members looked at the glowering faces of Boland, Majority Leader William B. Bankhead and Speaker Joseph W. Byrns, considered rapidly the consequences of bucking the administration and hastened to reverse their stand of Monday.

Some votes undoubtedly were changed because the representatives voted Monday on the principle that any bill was entitled to a fair hearing, but the majority of votes were switched, it was conceded, for purely political reasons.

Thus of the 159 Democrats voting for consideration of the bill last Monday only 105 stuck to their guns today and voted for the measure. They were joined by twenty-seven Republicans, seven Progressives, and three Farmer-Laborites to make the total of 142.

Opponents' Ranks Swell.

On the other hand, the total of 115 Democrats against the measure last Monday was swelled to 173 today. They were joined by 62 Republicans to pile up the emphatic majority of 235.

The Illinois delegation was among those voting almost unanimously for consideration of the measure Monday, but against the bill today. Representative Leo E. Allen [Rep., Ill.] asserted that Monday's vote was "due solely to a desire to see that the bill had its day in court," and that the members, after hearing the debate, decided the benefits of the measure were insufficient to offset the dangers of inflation.

Among the amendments agreed to by Representative William Lemke and his followers in their desperate attempt to stem the turning of the tide were several lessening the power of the board of agriculture set up under the bill.

Board Advisory Only.

The original bill had provided for the creation of a board of agriculture, consisting of one member from each of the 48 states, to be elected by farmers in each state benefiting under the act. This board would elect an executive committee of three serving at a $7,500 salary each.

This board and executive committee were originally intended to have supervisory authority over the liquidating and refinancing of farm mortgages and thus would be given power over the farm credit administration and the federal reserve board. When critics pointed out the absurdity of giving such a board this authority, Lemke and his followers agreed to amendments giving the board merely advisory powers.

Speaker Takes the Floor.

Anxiety on the part of Democratic leaders to defeat the measure was strikingly emphasized when Speaker Byrns took the floor, an unusual procedure, to make a personal plea against passage of the bill and to read a letter from President William Green of the American Federation of Labor condemning the inflationary aspects of the legislation.

It was learned that the Democratic leadership had suggested Green's intervention and the latter hastily summoned the federation's executive council into session this morning and shortly thereafter the letter arrived in Speaker Byrns' office.

States Its Opposition.

It read:

"The executive council of the A. F. of L. has just given special consideration to the Frazier-Lemke bill. We are in accord with all practical legislation for relieving the economic condition of the farmer. The council is opposed, however, to the Frazier-Lemke act largely because of the inflation feature.

"Labor knows and understands that the proposal to print and circulate billions in currency very vitally will affect the economic wellbeing and status of labor. We know when inflation of this character is adopted, commodity prices rise but wages stand still. Labor would suffer a reduction in living standards and reduced buying power and the problem of unemployment would become more acute. There are other features highly objectionable in the measure. We call upon our friends in congress to vote against it."

Pits "Class Against Class."

"I have read this communication to the house," said the speaker, "because this bill involves the whole country. I am as deeply interested in the farmers as any man on this floor but I cannot vote for a bill which makes a clear discrimination in favor of one class as against other classes."

In answer, Representative William P. Connery [Dem., Mass.], chairman of the committee on labor, announced that "with all respect to Mr. Green, I'm still for this bill because it promotes the prosperity of both farmer and worker." And Representative John E. Rankin [Dem., Miss.], shouted angrily: "I resent the impudence of this man Green sending a letter to congress to tell us what to do!"..

Offers Compromise Bill.

When debate on the measure was concluded, Chairman Marvin Jones, [Dem., Texas] of the committee on agriculture offered a substitute bill which would provide for the issuance of 2 billion dollars in currency but backing the issue up with 40 per cent in gold and the remaining 60 per cent in farm mortgages. The Frazier-Lemke bill would provide for farm mortgages only as security.

The inflationist bloc protested that the substitute bill was in violation of house rules and the point of order was sustained.

The first test of strength between the inflation group and the opposition came on an amendment submitted by Lemke modifying the bill to eliminate loans on farm live stock and permitting loans on farm lands only.

The strategy of the Democratic leaders was to attempt to defeat such amendments which were intended to remove objectionable features.

Delay Hearing on Removal of Desperado to Denver

Joe Pannell, 41 years old, Colorado kidnaper and burglar, who was arrested here Tuesday by federal agents, was held in bonds of $10,000 yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker for a hearing tomorrow on removal proceedings to Denver, where he is wanted for robbery and questioning into the murder of the holdup victim. The hearing was put over until tomorrow on the request of Assistant District Attorney Raymond Drymalski to await arrival here of authorities from Denver.

CREW INSPECTION DELAYS LINER IN LABOR SQUABBLE

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—The United States liner President Roosevelt, carrying 275 passengers and 4,676 sacks of mail, was held at her North river pier an hour and a half today while federal inspectors examined the credentials of her crew of 201.

The move was in response to protests by striking seamen that men unqualified to go to sea had been hired as strike breakers.

At the conclusion of the inquiry, the crew was declared qualified far beyond the federal requirements and the ship permitted to sail for the channel ports. Immediately action was started which is intended to place blame for the false reports spread about labor conditions on the ship and about other Atlantic liners.

Joseph B. Weaver, director of the United States bureau of navigation and steamboat inspection, in Washington, announced he was prepared to act against strike leaders and agitators who have spread false propaganda.

LINDBERGH CASE FIGURE IS FIRED FROM PWA JOB

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—The Public Works administration announced today that Arch W. Loney, who entered the Lindbergh case shortly before the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, had been dismissed.

A spokesman for Secretary Ickes declined to specify the reason for the action but asserted it had nothing to do with Loney's attempts to break down part of the state's case against Hauptmann.

Loney, employed as a materials expert, contended that the famous "rail 16" of the Hauptmann ladder was not made from lumber in Hauptmann's home.

SEES TAX CUTS FOR BIG FIRMS UNDER NEW BILL

Morgenthau in Admission at Senate Hearing.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. admitted before the senate finance committee today that 283 out of 600 corporations with incomes of more than $1,000,000 would have their taxes reduced more than 50 per cent under President Roosevelt's undistributed earnings tax bill. Of the 283 that would have their taxes reduced by more than half, 138 would pay no taxes, Morgenthau's figures showed.

The secretary appeared before the finance committee in response to a request from Senator Harry F. Byrd [Dem., Va.], who demanded to know whether the bill would not favor large corporations with reserves on hand sufficient to distribute all their income, and thus pay no taxes, and crush smaller companies, which would not be permitted to build up reserves.

Leaders Embarrassed.

Morgenthau's reluctant admissions embarrassed the administration leaders as much as they delighted Senator Byrd and the other eight revolting Democrats on the committee. The main argument in support of the bill, originally advocated by Prof. Rexford Guy Tugwell, was that it would force huge corporations to disgorge their surpluses, so that rich "tax avoiding" stockholders could be soaked with the surtaxes running up to 75 per cent. A lot of revenue would be raised—620 million dollars, they estimated—without touching the little man and the little corporation.

But Senator Byrd came along and transformed what was calculated to be a stroke of political genius into a load of political dynamite. Mr. Morgenthau made no comment outside the committee chamber, but one of the "experts" who came up with him admitted privately that Senator Byrd's discovery was "something we hadn't thought of."

Plan Compromise Bill.

Chairman Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.] indicated after today's session that the committee would hear no more experts but get down to work on a compromise bill, combining a flat rate corporation income tax with something of the "principle" of the undistributed earnings tax. But the opposition senators, it was learned, are not through. They plan to call James M. Landis, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, and refute through him, the New Deal argument that small corporations can pay out their earnings in dividends and then sell more stock if they want to build up their reserves.

They believe Mr. Landis, who will be on a spot, like Mr. Morgethau, will have to admit that it would be difficult and costly to raise money in this manner. Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.], estimated that the total cost of borrowing $100,000, including registration of the new capital issue with the SEC, would be $15,000.

The senators in open session made it so uncomfortable for Herman Oliphant, the treasury's general counsel, and George C. Haas, statistical expert, yesterday, that Mr. Morgenthau was permitted to appear behind closed doors.

Chairman Harrison sought to minimize the importance of the figures brought out by Senator Byrd, saying: "The secretary further stated that while 283 corporations with incomes of more than $1,000,000 would have their taxes reduced by more than 50 per cent, there would be at least—he could not state accurately — an equal number whose taxes would be increased by more than 50 per cent." He said Mr. Morgenthau would "look up and supply the figures."

Senator Byrd and other opponents of the bill, however, questioned this generalization of the secretary. "I am more convinced than ever that this bill is to the advantage of the strongly intrenched companies and disastrous to the smaller ones," Senator Byrd said.

A WARTIME SPY FOR GERMANY CLAIMS HE SET NEW HAVEN FIRE

New Haven, Conn., May 13.—[Special.]—Robert Ortloff, who was arrested on a charge of drunkenness today, told Police Sergeant James Dinnan that he was a German spy during the world war and the man who set the fire which consumed the Union railroad station when this city was a key military center. He started the fire, he said, because the terminal furnished large quantities of arms and munitions to the allied cause.

Ortloff said he came to the United States from Hamburg in 1914 as a sailor aboard a ship that was interned in Brooklyn. Half of the crew, he said, was sent to California to a concentration camp and the others were detained by immigration authorities in Brooklyn.

With six others, Ortloff said, he finally was released from custody and, with one shipmate, came to North Haven to work in a brickyard.

Records proved that his assertions were true, police said.

Saves $1,000 as Robbers Take $106 and $250 Ring

Harold A. Sims, 5239 Wrightwood avenue, was robbed of $106 and a $250 ring last night, but he saved $1,000. Two men in an automobile crowded Sims' car to the curb as he was riding with his wife, Margaret, and two sons in the 2500 block of North Lockwood avenue. One of the robbers displayed a revolver and Sims handed over an empty wallet, the ring, and a roll of bills. He drove on as the bandit returned to his car. "I had close to $1,000 in another pocket," Sims told the Cragin police. Sims is the head of an automobile agency at 2550 North Cicero avenue.

In Jail Five Months for Theft of a Razor Blade

St. Joseph, Mo., May 13.—(AP)—For theft of a single safety razor blade, Willie Anderson is completing his fifth month in the county jail. Officials said Anderson, charged with petty larceny, pleaded guilty before they knew how trivial the offense was. He received a six month sentence.

Louisville Woman Killed Here by Sleeping Potion

Summerdale police last night were seeking the relatives of a women who registered at the Thorwin hotel, 5016 Winthrop avenue, Monday, as Mrs. Mary Phillips, 30 years old, from Louisville. She died yesterday in the Rogers Park hospital from an overdose of sleeping tablets.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO ALTER TITLE OF ICKES

Secretary Loses Power Under Measure.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—The fall from glory of Harold L. Ickes was poignantly symbolized today when the senate passed a one paragraph bill changing his title to secretary of conservation and leaving him little more than the Indians to conserve.

The bill in its original form, as introduced by Senator James Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.], at Ickes' request, would have changed the name of the department of the interior to the "department of conservation and works," and Ickes' title to "secretary of conservation and works." But that was two years ago when Mr. Ickes spoke only to the President, when he defied ordinary cabinet officers, disdained senators, governors, and mayors, and dictated laws for state legislatures; when he had 3 billion, 700 million dollars to spend and spent it with a high and mighty hand.

Visions Go Glimmering.

Mr. Ickes had visions of a permanent public works program, running around five billion dollars a year, with himself in charge as a sort of three tailed bashaw, and he found the title "secretary of the interior" hopelessly inadequate. From his exalted station he looked down upon the Washington scene and saw commissions, agencies, bureaus, boards, divisions, services, and branches, particularly in the sprawling department of agriculture, that he wanted to take over and operate properly, so he sent up his bill giving the President authority to transfer any or all of these to the department of "conservation and works."

As he explained in a letter to Senator Lewis, the department of agriculture, anyway, was a mere "offspring of the department of the interior."

Wallace Makes Protest.

But Secretary Wallace appeared at the hearings with loud protests. He didn't want any of his activities lopped off. A controversy developed and Senator Lewis was slapped down every time he tried to get action on the bill. Today he asked that everything after the enacting clause be stricken, and offered a simple amendment in the form of a substitute. It made the changes in name only and even eliminated the word "works." Mr. Hopkins is on top now and Mr. Ickes has no "works." He hasn't much of anything left, save the Indians, the parks and the buffalo and a new title, if the house passes the bill."

COURT INSTRUCTS ATTORNEYS UPON HUGE TAX SUIT

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki outlined to twenty-four lawyers yesterday the procedure they should follow in filing a number of cases in which they expect to challenge the legality of about 15 million dollars in 1934 tax levies. Judge Jarecki gave the attorneys until May 25 to file, adding that the municipalities, representing about 400 taxing bodies, will be given ten days to answer, after which hearings will start. He warned that he will countenance no delays.

Judge Jarecki repeated his oft spoken criticism that many taxing bodies continue, in the face of adverse state Supreme court rulings, to make illegal levies.

"You are not prejudging this case, are you?" asked Frank Righeimer, an attorney for the board of education, one of the large taxing bodies whose levies are under attack.

"I am not," Judge Jarecki retorted crisply, "but you know what I'm talking about."

Landon Backer Re-elected Indiana G. O. P. Chairman

Indianapolis, Ind., May 13.—[Special.]—Don B. Irwin, backer of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas in the race for the Republican presidential nomination, was reëlected G. O. P. state chairman by a twelve to eleven vote of the Indiana state committee here today. Irwin, Frankfort political leader, was opposed by Ralph Gates of Columbia City, who was backed by Everett Sanders, former national chairman, and George Ball of Muncie.

RULING OUTLAWS COURT FIXING OF CLEANING PRICES

NRA Decision Quoted by Appellate Justices.

The right of a court of equity to limit free competition through the setting of minimum prices in an industry was denied in an opinion handed down yesterday by the Illinois Appellate court. The ruling reversed and threw out completely the price fixing injunction issued last July in behalf of the Cleaning and Dyeing Plant Owners' Association of Chicago.

The injunction, which was directed against 22 independent cleaning and dyeing concerns, was issued by Judge Benjamin P. Epstein in the Circuit court. It set a minimum price for cleaning a dress or suit at 90 cents, when called for and delivered, and at 75 cents for cash and carry trade, under the assumption of the court that it had a common law right to protect members of an industry and the public from harmful conditions caused by competitors.

Jail Sentence Is Vacated.

The ruling yesterday was on the appeal taken by six of the independent concerns. In addition to reversing the injunction, the Appellate court vacated a 60 day sentence in the County jail imposed upon Edward A. Fink, president of one of the independent firms, on a charge of contempt of court for failure to abide by the injunction.

A $3,000 fine imposed upon Fink's company, the Peacock Cleaners and Dyers, also was set aside. Both the jail sentence and the fine were imposed by Judge Harry M. Fisher in the Circuit court.

It was expected that the Appellate court's ruling yesterday would have no immediate effect in the cleaning industry, as it was agreed previously the injunction would not be enforced pending the appeal. Some cleaning officials, however, hazarded the guess that some of the association members may engage in a price cutting war with the independents. Fink said he would expand his field of operation immediately.

U. S. Supreme Court Quoted.

The 27 page opinion which cited the general rule that "the right to follow any of the common occupations of life is an inalienable right" was delivered by Justice Oscar Hebel. It was concurred in by Presiding Justice Ross C. Hall and Justice Denis E. Sullivan.

The opinion quotes numerous decisions of the United States Supreme court, including the famous Schechter poultry decision in which the New Deal's National Recovery administration was declared unconstitutional.

The NRA ruling was quoted in answer to the contention of the association that freedom of competition is no longer a dogma but a problem which should be formulated in view of the factual conditions and the changing needs of social economic life.

Cite Constitutional Limits.

"Extraordinary conditions do not create or enlarge constitutional power," said the excerpt from the NRA decision. "Those who act under these grants are not at liberty to transcend the imposed limits because they believe that more or different power is necessary."

In their opinion the Appellate court justices declared:

"This is an argument better addressed to legislative bodies than to the courts. Neither is it wise for the courts to countenance the introduction of artificial distinctions dependent upon the variant economic views of individual judges.

"Distinctions which are specious, or analogies which are but apparent, will but afford opportunities to whittle away broad economic principles lying at the bottom of our public policy."

Protection Under Sherman Law.

From another United States Supreme court decision the opinion quotes: "For whatever difference of opinion there may be among economists as to the social and economic desirability of an unrestrained competitive system, it cannot be doubted that the Sherman law and the judicial decisions interpreting it are based upon the assumption that the public interest is best protected from the evils of monopoly and price control by the maintenance of competition."

And from another decision: "No common law right has been more firmly established or more treasured than the right of the individual to sell his goods or his services at whatever price he and his purchaser agree upon."

"Competition No Violation."

The Appellate court opinion then continues:

"Competition is not of itself a violation of any right of one engaged in a like business. The life of a business enterprise is the sale of its products or services at a price such as will conduce to the disposition of its products by encouraging large sales. The profits will depend largely upon the methods employed in production cost, including economy and the necessary expense in carrying on the business.

"It is self-evident that large sales necessarily result in large returns. . . . To say that the sale of a commodity for a smaller profit results in the destruction of a competitor is not sound.

"The courts are not concerned with the conduct of a business enterprise unless it appears that the conduct of those engaged in the business seek by their methods to destroy a business adversary, and that such methods are used only for the evident purpose of driving from the business field a competitor by acts which indicate an intent to destroy and injure.

Field Is Not Limited.

"The fact that a merchant is engaged in a profitable business does not limit the field to such enterprise. The field must necessarily remain open, and the merchant engaged in an enterprise is chargeable with knowledge that he may have to meet competition, and for that reason it will be necessary for him to apply his efforts to withstand successfully the price range for the sale of the products. The fact that there are sales for less than those of a like business is not of itself unfair.

"The courts of last resort in this country have considered the question of what would be unfair competition and the law governing such question, and have by the weight of authority approved the doctrine that fair competition, of itself, is not a violation of any lawful right of a like competitor.

Lays Monopolies to Plaintifs.

"The record does not show that the conduct of the defendants in their several businesses was for the purpose of injuring the plaintifs by means of unfair competition; but on the contrary the evidence suggests that the plaintiffs by use of suppressive measures endeavored to create a monopoly in the cleaning and dyeing business in this immediate territory by attempting to compel the defendants to accept and sell at prices fixed by the plaintifs.

"Failing to accomplish this, means were used that led to violence and destruction of defendant's properties."

Considerable portion of the opinion is given over to a discussion of the turbulent affairs in the cleaning industry and the numerous strikes called against the independents.

The opinion pointed out that the plaintif's association practically controled the entire industry and adds, "Is it not strange that the membership of this plaintif corporation was not molested in all this violence?"

In issuing the injunction, from which the appeal was taken, Judge Epstein held that the independents were guilty of a conspiracy to engage in destructive and ruinous trade competition with the purpose of unsettling and destroying the cleaning and dyeing industry in Chicago.

The judge based his ruling on an attempt not only to "bring justice to the cleaning industry, which has suffered from questionable persons and methods, but also to protect the public."

Attorneys William Jaffe and George Lavin, counsel for the association members, said they would recommend a further appeal be taken to the Illinois Supreme court.

Wife Divorces Sugar Fortune Heir

MR. AND MRS. ADOLPH B. SPRECKELS.

Hearing Is Secret

Reno, Nev., May 13.—(AP)—Testifying behind the locked doors of District Judge Benjamin F. Curler's courtroom, pretty Mrs. Gloria De Bevoise Spreckels won speedy dissolution today of her marriage eight months ago to Adolph B. Spreckels, heir to a California sugar fortune.

The young and socially prominent New York matron charged extreme cruelty in asking for the divorce decree, which was handed down by Judge Curler after a hearing which required only a few minutes. The decree was granted a few hours after suit was filed.

Robert Z. Hawkins, Mrs. Spreckels' attorney, declined to comment on the case and would not discuss terms of a property settlement agreement effected by the couple May 11, 1936. They were married last Sept. 6. Marital troubles were reported after their European honeymoon.

It was the second time Spreckels had been divorced in Reno. His first wife, the former Lois Clarke De Ruyter Spreckels, won a decree here May 17, 1935, and then married Frank C. Clinton of San Francisco and Los Angeles.

D'ORSAY PALMER ALIMONY TERMS HOLD UP DIVORCE

New Agreement Drafted on Estate's Plea.

There is a hitch in the divorce case of the Potter d'Orsay Palmers, it was learned yesterday, because of the generous settlement young Palmer has insisted on providing for his wife, the former Maria Martinez de Hoz, daughter of a wealthy Argentine family. Mrs. Palmer, however, according to her attorney, Jay Fred Reeve, doesn't seem to care one way or the other what happens to the fortune her husband wants to settle on her.

Adventure on Ellis Island.

Attention was called to the hitch in the D'Orsay Palmers' divorce proceedings after it was discovered that young Mrs. Palmer had spent last Monday night on Ellis Island in New York harbor because of a misunderstanding with immigration authorities. She returned short of funds from an extended cruise to the West Indies and lacked proper identification as a citizen.

The delay in issuing a divorce decree to Mrs. Palmer, it was learned, is due to objections raised by trustees of the Potter Palmer estate to the generous settlement which her husband wishes her to have.

On Jan. 26 Judge Oscar F. Nelson of the Superior court heard her charge that Palmer had been cruel to her, and ruled that she was entitled to a divorce. Attorney Reeve said yesterday that he was about to take the decree to Judge Nelson for signature when representatives of the Palmer estate asked him to wait.

New Draft Is Requested.

"They said the out of court settlement signed by the Palmers was unreasonable," said Mr. Reeve, "and asked me to get the permission of Mrs. Palmer to redraft the terms. As a matter of fact, both Theodore Hardeen Jr., Mr. Palmer's attorney, and I urged the couple to modify the settlement before it was signed.

"Later, when I told Mrs. Palmer of the family objections, she replied: 'By all means return the settlement to them. I don't care what is done with it. I'm tired of the whole business.'

"The settlement has now been redrafted, but I have not heard from Mrs. Palmer again."

Mr. Reeve said the original settlement provided a $500 a month payment to Mrs. Palmer until the death of her father-in-law, Honoré Palmer, when d'Orsay comes into his one-fourth share in the estate left by his grandmother.

After Honore Palmer's death, the original agreement provided, Mrs. D'Orsay Palmer would receive one-half of D'Orsay's income up to $48,000 a year, or $24,000, and one-fourth of any sum over $48,000. If she should remarry she was to receive the $500 a month payments until Honore Palmer's death, and then would receive one-third of D'Orsay's income, her share, however, not to exceed $15,000. D'Orsay agreed to set up a $2,000,000 trust fund after his father's death to guarantee such income payments.

In the event of d'Orsay Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer was to retain a dower right, or one-third interest, in his share of the Palmer estate.

STEEPLEJACK WHO FELL HAS SERIOUS INJURY: HIS PANTS TAKE FIRE

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—[Special.]—Charlie England, steeplejack who fell 140 feet yesterday and nearly lost his left arm with a burn to the bone, only to reascend his flagpole, today suffered another accident. His pants caught fire.

Swinging on his boatswain's chair, wielding an acetylene torch to cut a segment off the courthouse flagpole, the chair swayed with the wind and the torch ignited his trouser leg. After being painfully burned about the left leg he beat out the flames.

England is cutting down the 150 foot flagpole on top of the Hall of Justice because the county jail is located on the top two stories and a couple of years ago a prisoner got hold of the flagpole rope and swung himself to safety.

100 ARRESTED AT CLOSE OF ONE DAY STRIKE IN ATHENS

ATHENS, Greece, May 13.—(AP)—More than 100 persons were reported arrested tonight after mild disturbances between street car motormen and police as a twenty-four hour general strike closed.

"The general strike did not succeed," Premier John Metaxas declared. "The public was practically unaffected due to government control."

The strike was called in protest against recent clashes between troops and striking tobacco workers. Their strike was settled with wage increases. Public services were being maintained under the watchful eyes of detachments of soldiers and sailors. More than half of the stores in Athens opened for regular business.

NINE MORE GET JAIL TERMS AS TIPSY DRIVERS

Girl Posts $10,000 Bond Pending Trial.

Nine motorists were sentenced to the Bridewell in Municipal Judge Gibson E. Gorman's Safety court yesterday, when they admitted they had been drinking or the arresting officers testified they had detected the odor of liquor on them. The sentences ranged from 5 to 30 days.

Judge Gorman also ordered Miss Eileen Kirschner, 18 years old, to post bonds of $10,000 on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. Miss Kirschner, who lives at 2839 North Damen avenue, admitted that her car struck and critically injured Philip Glueck, 10 years old, 1923 Barry avenue, at Barry and Sarak avenues on Tuesday. She asked for a jury trial and her case was set for June 22. She was held in the county jail for a short time until her bond was approved and she was released.

Claims She Stopped Car.

Out of the courtroom she declared the boy ran into the side of her car and that she stopped immediately. The sight of blood made her ill, she said, and she asked some other people to take him to a hospital.

She then reëntered her car, she said, and because of her illness, drove into a side street. Later she went to the John B. Murphy hospital where the boy had been taken and when she returned to her home found that the police had been there looking for her. "I went to the station myself," she concluded.

One of the defendants given a ten day sentence by Judge Gorman was Edward Warner, 2354 West 70th street, who was arrested at 63d street and Blackstone avenue after Sergt. Patrick Birmingham of the accident prevention detail noticed his erratic driving.

"He was so drunk that he could not walk or talk," Birmingham testified.

Taking Medicine, His Plea.

Warner pleaded that he had been taking medicine for sinus trouble which smelled like whisky.

To a plea of Warner's wife to "consider her," after he had pronounced sentence, Judge Gorman replied, "I am considering you and every one else. You yourself might be the next victim of a drunken driver."

Charles Gilette, 24 years old, 744 North Lavergne avenue, a painter, was also given a 10 day sentence when police testified that on May 3 his car collided with another in front of 4301 North Narragansett avenue. No one was injured.

Thomas Bourne, 50 years old, 526 West 104th street, a carpenter, was sentenced to 10 days on evidence he was intoxicated on May 4 when his car struck another at 103d and Halsted streets. Anthony Widro, 24 years old, 2746 Maypole avenue, was sentenced to 30 days for failing to stop after his car had struck another at Madison street and Sacramento boulevard on May 12.

Hotel Operator Sentenced.

Henry Heide, 47 years old, operator of an apartment hotel at 4940 Blackstone avenue, was charged with driving through several stop lights on Ashland avenue on April 11 and with disregarding a police siren until forced to stop. He told Judge Gorman the disappearance of his wife had given him such "misery" that he did not realize what he was doing. Police testified he was so intoxicated they had to lift him from his car. He was sentenced to 10 days.

Madison Pillow, 31 years old, colored, was sentenced to 30 days when police testified his car had rammed into several machines at Jackson and Michigan boulevards on April 23. John F. Watkins, 33 years old, 224 South Oakley boulevard, received 5 days for reckless driving. Police said he had been drinking.

Anthony Philbin, 33 years old, 7221 South Peoria street, was sentenced to 5 days for weaving his car in the vicinity of 55th and Halsted streets.

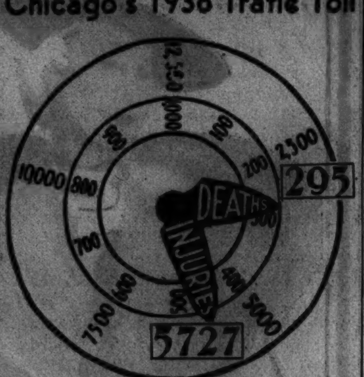
Admits Drinking; Sentenced.

Ralph W. Smith, 29 years old, was sentenced to 10 days. He admitted he had been drinking at a party on April 19 and that his car crashed into two parked machines at Central avenue and Addison street.

John Mallek, 20 years old, 1215 North Hoyne avenue, who has a police record, was held to the grand jury on a manslaughter charge yesterday by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Louis Folwarski, 50 years old, 876 North Paulina street. Folwarski was killed at Paulina street and Augusta boulevard on May 5 by a car driven by Mallek. In 1933 Mallek served a Bridewell term on a charge of malicious mischief growing out of an alleged burglary. Walter Rams, 20 years old, 2742 Hudson avenue, one of Mallek's four companions when Folwarski was killed, was put on a year's probation on the malicious mischief charge.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

AUTO ON TRACKS STRUCK BY TRAIN; DRIVER MAY DIE

Anthony Janis, 21 years old, was injured, probably fatally, yesterday when his automobile was struck by a Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee electric train at 16th street near Jackson avenue in North Chicago. The impact hurled the car against a telephone pole. Janis lives at 16th street and Dugdale road, west of North Chicago. He was taken to the St. Therese hospital, Waukegan.

Fred Booker, 43 years old, 535 West Division street, colored, died yesterday in the county hospital of injuries incurred May 9 when he was struck by a hit and run motorist near 922 Sedgwick street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 368 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. In the same period 295 were killed and 5,727 injured in Chicago.

3 ROBBERS FLEE AFTER GUN FIGHT WITH POLICEMEN

Policemen Harry Larson and Chris Haasis of the Albany Park station exchanged shots with three robbers, who attempted to hold up a gasoline filling station at 3405 Addison street early yesterday. The policemen had been assigned to watch the station, which has been robbed six times in the last year, and were seated in their squad car when the robbers drove up. The robbers saw the policemen and opened fire, fleeing on foot into the alley. The policemen returned the fire, but the three men escaped. Their automobile had been stolen Tuesday night from Edward Stevenson, 44 Pine avenue.

Motorcyclist Wins $15,000 Award for Trafic Injuries

Damages of $15,000 for injuries incurred in a trafic accident were awarded to Fred Haselhorst, 26 years old, 396 West avenue, Elmhurst, yesterday by a jury before Judge William J. Wimbiscus of Spring Valley, sitting in the Circuit court here. The verdict was against John A. Vilkisius, 3512 South Union avenue, an insurance salesman, whose automobile struck a motorcycle ridden by Haselhorst on Aug. 5, 1933.

U. S. 'SECRETARY OF SAFETY' URGED TO CUT AUTO TOLL

Red Cross Hears Pleas for National Drive.

BY KAY HALL.

A national mobilization against the everyday trafic toll was demanded by speakers before the American Red Cross convention at the Stevens hotel yesterday. The convention, which is attended by 2,000 delegates, will close with a luncheon today.

Dr. Louis I. Dublin, third vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, recommended that a cabinet officer be given supervision of a nationwide safety organization in which state and city officials and accident prevention agencies would work together to reduce automobile fatalities.

"We must change our national attitude toward the sanctity of human life and supplant our carelessness, recklessness, and unnecessary haste with a sane attitude," Dr. Dublin said. "The man who jeopardizes the lives of others must be classed in the popular mind with the thief and the murderer."

Cites Cleveland Results.

All speakers emphasized that safety campaigns have produced effective results. Cleveland school children last year had an automobile fatality rate 50 per cent less than nine years before, although adult fatalities increased 25 per cent, reported Judge Lee E. Skeel of Cleveland, who ascribed the decrease to accident prevention work in the schools.

Recalling the time when high stepping horses were "the terror of Michigan avenue," Dr. William R. Cubbins of the American College of Surgeons committee on fractures asserted the accident toll would be greater than it is if citizens had not developed greater agility since those days. "Our agility has steadily increased to the point where it is no longer possible for a person to be injured by a horse and buggy," he said.

The Red Cross accident prevention drive in farms and homes was lauded by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, who said that agriculture led all other occupations in the number of fatal accidents in 1934.

Tells of Farm Dangers.

"The average city man, reading in his paper that the American Red Cross has undertaken a campaign to reduce farm accidents, probably would say facetiously that the organization must be hard put for programs and projects," O'Neal said. "Many city people still think of farming as a rather primitive occupation with very little attendant danger of accidents. But it occupies the front row in the theater of life and death."

REPORT OVER 200 HITLER GUARDS SEIZED FOR PLOT

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, May 14.—[Thursday.]—The Daily Herald states today that more than 200 members of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's personal bodyguard—the Schutzstoffel men—have been arrested during the last few weeks on suspicion of plotting against Hitler and the Nazi state. The suspects, the Herald says, have been placed in a concentration camp specially established outside Berlin and are still being questioned.

"There are bitter feelings between Dr. Wilhelm Goering and Rudolf Himmler, commander in chief of the Schutzstoffel, and Minister Goering seized on the unrest in the Schutzstoffel as an opportunity to revenge himself on his one time rival," the paper states. "Himmler, although officially in charge of the investigation, is himself shadowed night and day by Goering's agents."

Act in Controversy Over Politics.

peace with the bar association. Judge McGoorty suggested that, instead of withdrawing from the association, the judges select an outstanding lawyer and send him before the board of managers to ask it to suspend its inquiry. This suggestion was quickly rejected and the Hall resolution was adopted.

The letter in which Judges Fisher, Kelly, Nelson, and Denis Sullivan announced that they would not attend the bar association hearing dwelt on the theme of intimidation.

"Without discussing the propriety or impropriety of a judge's participating in political action," it said, "the far more serious public question raised by your letter [the bar association's letter summoning the four judges] is the monstrous proposition that a group of lawyers, who happen for the moment to be the board of managers of a bar association, may usurp the right to dictate to, control or discipline any judge before whom these lawyers are in almost daily attendance as the paid representatives of litigants seeking justice.

Charge Attempt to Intimidate.

"The peremptory command to answer and appear for trial, contained in your letter, is a threat to every judge—not even veiled by common courtesy. It is a direct attempt to intimidate the judges of this county."

Informed of the mass withdrawal of the judges from the bar association, President Lautmann would not comment except to say that the association had regarded the entire matter as confidential. "It was the judges who talked," he said. He added that the board of managers of the association will meet today.

Illinois Autos Set New Mark in 1st 4 Months

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—(AP)—An all-time record for the registration of passenger autos in the first four months of the year was set in 1936, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced that 1,242,643 passenger cars were registered, comparing with 1,159,581 for the same period last year.

U. OF C. ORIENTAL INSTITUTE WILL GET $3,354,722

An appropriation of $3,354,722.46 in behalf of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, from the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Education board, was announced yesterday by Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university.

The institute was founded in 1919 by the late Professor James H. Breasted with the aid of Rockefeller funds. It became the first laboratory ever established for the study of the rise of civilization. Its activities have included a series of coördinated field expeditions in the near east, as well as research projects carried on at its headquarters on the university campus.

The appropriation includes $1,354,722.46 of an unexpended balance of a grant made in 1928 to finance expeditions. The remainder represents a new gift which may be used as the university determines. Dr. John A. Wilson was appointed acting director of the institute following the death of Prof. Breasted.

JAILED ON GIRL'S CHARGE.

Judge George B. Weiss of the Municipal court yesterday sentenced Sidney Hillier, 30 years old, of 1512 North La Salle street, to 30 days in the Bridewell for contributing to the delinquency of a 17 year old girl.

REQUIRED TESTS OF AUTO SAFETY TO BEGIN JULY 1

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that the city had made an agreement with the Chicago park district under which the parks on July 1 will begin the operation of 18 testing stations to make the semi-annual safety tests of Chicago cars required by the ordinance passed on Oct. 30. The law becomes effective on July 1.

When Ald. John A. Massen [48th] introduced the testing ordinance it was planned to apply to the Works Progress administration for $400,000 necessary to erect the stations and operate them for one year. After that the operating costs would come from the motor vehicle license tax.

The project was tentatively approved by the WPA, but, according to Mayor Kelly, the city was unable to furnish its share of the funds for equipment, and further procedure was halted. Under the agreement with the park district, the mayor said, the equipment will be provided and the district will obtain WPA labor to operate it, with the city supplying supervising forces.

The inspection will be made without cost to the car owners.

PEACOCK JURORS HEAR CONFESSION AND RECK DENIAL

State Reads Killers' Own Story; Rests Case.

Emil Reck, 19 years old, one of two youths on trial for the murder of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, testified in his own defense yesterday in the Criminal court of Judge Joseph Burke and denied any part in the slaying. He reiterated his charges that he was beaten by police and forced to sign a confession.

The youthful robber was called to the stand after the state rested its case against him and his co-defendant, Michael Livingston, 17 years old, and after the confessions of the two describing the brutal slaying of the physician were read to the jurors.

Fight on Confession Futile.

It was during the early stages of the trial last week that Reck and Livingston first repudiated their confessions and made charges of police brutality. Their testimony was given, with the jury excluded from the courtroom, as their attorneys sought to prevent the confessions being introduced as evidence.

After five days of argument outside the presence of the jury, during which the charges were denied by police, Judge Burke ruled on Tuesday that the confessions had been given voluntarily and were admissible as evidence.

Reck and Livingston were two of four robbers who confessed slaying Dr. Peacock in a holdup. Their companions, Durland Nash and Robert Goethe, both 19 years old, have pleaded guilty and are serving sentences of 199 years in the penitentiary.

Gang's Death Trap Told.

Yesterday the jurors listened attentively as Assistant State's Attorney John Boyle read the confessions signed by all four. The statements told how the gang lured Dr. Peacock from his home on a fake telephone call to attend a sick child [he was a specialist in children's diseases], then shot and killed him when he resisted their holdup.

The confessions identified Goethe as the one who fired the fatal shot; Nash as the "lookout"; Reck as the vicious bludgeoner, and Livingston as the driver of their automobile. The statement told how Dr. Peacock was summoned to 6438 North Whipple street by the fake phone call and how he resisted the attempt of the four to rob him.

Reck, it was stated, struck the dying specialist on the head with a heavy stick after he was shot, to make sure he was dead, and Reck then searched the doctor's clothing, taking $20 which the four later divided. After the confessions had been read the state then announced it had completed its case.

Dr. Hoffman Called by Defense.

As their first witness the defense called Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, director of the county behavior clinic. He testified he had examined Reck and found him of dull intelligence but not feeble minded. Reck then took the stand in his own defense.

For a second time he testified the police had mistreated him, both with fists and with blackjacks, and how he had been hanged from a door by his wrists. Hazy at times, he evaded questions from his attorneys with a frequent "I don't remember."

He was still on the stand when court was adjourned until today. It was indicated the case would go to the jury by the end of the week.

U. S. BUILDS A ROBOT TO MAKE SPEECH ON MEN AND MACHINES

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—The labor department has ordered a seven foot mechanical man to make a four minute speech on men and machines.

Thought up by Miss M. A. Klein, in charge of the department's exhibits, the cog toed mechanical man is nearing completion in a Pittsburgh factory, where more than 500 gadgets have been put in his insides.

His ghost writer, Verne A. Zimmer, division of labor standards, is going to Pittsburgh Friday to hear him speak his piece before being shipped to the Texas centennial as part of the department's exhibit.

The robot's eyes light up as he starts to speak. His lips move. He points out the advantages and disadvantages of machines in industry in so far as the effect on labor is concerned.

Seeks Divorce from PWA Foreman; Cruel, She Says

Filomena D'Amico, 3016 Lexington street, filed a suit for divorce in the Circuit court yesterday against her husband, Giuseppe, a Public Works administration foreman earning $175 a month, on grounds of cruelty. The bill charged that D'Amico took $4,000 from their joint savings account and Mrs. D'Amico asks an injunction to restrain him from disposing of the money. The D'Amicos were married in Campobasso, Italy, in 1905, and separated a week ago.

EX-CROWN PRINCE IN BAD WITH NAZIS FOR WIRE TO DUCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 13. — Both former Kaiser Wilhelm II. and former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm are in disgrace as far as the Nazi press is concerned. The former crown prince incurred displeasure for his telegram to Premier Mussolini congratulating him on Italian success in Ethiopia.

Schwarz Korps, organ of the Schutz Staffel, Hitler's bodyguard, blamed Friedrich Wilhelm for tactlessness and suggested Mussolini can scarcely be pleased by the former crown prince's reference to the "general surprise" caused by the Italian victory.

The same paper poured vials of its wrath on the former kaiser for thanking a German refugee, Fritz Mueller, for sending him a book on his birthday. Mueller's book contained an attack on the Nazi régime.

THEATER MAN'S SLAYER GUILTY; GETS THE CHAIR

Jury Convicts Chrisoulos on First Ballot.

Death in the electric chair was decreed by a jury last night for Peter Chrisoulos, 39 years old, a machinist, for the murder of Irving Fehlberg, assistant manager of the Mid-West theater, at 3538 Archer avenue.

The pudgy defendant sat stolidly in his chair as he heard the verdict in the Criminal court of Judge E. I. Frankhauser. The jury, which deliberated two hours and forty-five minutes, found Chrisoulos guilty on the first ballot, but did not agree on his punishment immediately.

Seized for Annoying Child.

Fehlberg was shot to death in the office of the theater on last March 14. Chrisoulos had been taken to the office for questioning, accused of annoying a girl patron, Shirley Tupper, 12 years old, 3476 Archer avenue. The girl testified against him at the trial.

In his defense Chrisoulos said that he was beaten and mistreated in the theater office until he became dizzy and fired his revolver accidentally. He fled after the shooting, and was arrested twelve hours later when he returned to his rooming house at 3633 South Hamilton avenue.

"A Murderous Moron."

Assistant State's Attorney Morris G. Meyers called the defendant "a murderous moron" in his closing argument, and asked for the death penalty. "Why, the defendant would laugh at you," he told the jurors, "if you sent him to the penitentiary."

Attorney William D. Belroy, representing Chrisoulos, betrayed more signs of emotion than his client when the verdict was read. His motion for a new trial was set for hearing on May 20.

Mrs. Lillian Fehlberg, the widow of the slain man, sat in the courtroom, dressed in black, throughout the trial. After the verdict she said: "He got just what was coming to him."

Chrisoulos has been a resident of the United States for twenty years, but has never become a citizen.

Fined $200 for Annoying Girl in South Side Movie

Charles Goodwin, 48 years old, 814 East 63d street, charged with disorderly conduct for allegedly annoying a girl in a south side theater Sunday, was fined $200 by Judge N. J. Bonelli in the Stockyards court yesterday and was ordered to work out the fine in the Bridewell.

1 SLAIN, 10 SHOT WHEN 24 ESCAPE PRISON; 6 CAUGHT

Two Guards Kidnaped as Hostages.

McAlester, Okla., May 13. — (AP) — Striking with sudden savagery, two dozen dangerous convicts broke out of the state penitentiary today, killed a prison foreman they used to shield their flight, kidnaped two guards and wounded another while ten of their bloody band were being shot down by officers.

Six of the escaping convicts were recaptured unhurt.

The body of C. D. Powell, prison brickyard foreman, was dumped from a speeding motor car as it raced toward downtown McAlester, about a mile from the prison. Officers believed at least five convicts and two guards, held as hostages, were in the car.

One convict escaped in a prison ice truck. Posse men were uncertain whether the other two fugitives were fleeing with the leaders in the commandeered automobile.

Convicts Armed with Knives.

The convicts, armed with knives, seized Powell and Guard Tuck Cope as they lined up for noon roll call. Using the officers as shields, the prisoners forced guards at the prison gate and on the walls to surrender their weapons.

Snatching up the guns the leaders of the break opened fire, wounded Guard Bob Gossett four times and fled in his automobile, taking Powell and two other guards, Cope and Victor Conn with them.

Conn's absence was not discovered until hours after the break.

The leaders of the outbreak were the ones who got away. When the guns of nearby penitentiary guards finally got into action ten convicts, racing on foot toward the escaping vanguard, were mowed down.

Six Captured Unhurt.

The half-dozen convicts recaptured unhurt were picked up as they attempted to commandeer an automobile on a highway near the prison.

Warden Roy Kenny said the motor car fugitives had been seen racing toward Scipio, northwest of here. He sent 30 heavily armed guards in pursuit.

Gov. E. W. Marland said "all available forces" would be put in the man hunt. Col. Charles Daley, state crime bureau chief, sent nine operatives here from Oklahoma City as soon as word of the break got out.

Ray Terrill, one-time associate of the Kimes brothers, train and bank robbers who terrorized the southwest several years ago, was among the wounded convicts. He was not seriously hurt.

Three of the hunted fugitives were Claude Beavers and Bill Anderson, each serving 25 years for armed robbery, and Archie Herring, serving ten years for conjoint robbery.

CO-DICTATOR OF AUSTRIA OUSTED AFTER SCANDAL

Starhemberg Out; More Power to Schuschnigg.

VIENNA, May 14.—[Thursday.]—(AP)—Prince Ernst Rudiger Von Starhemberg, vice chancellor of Austria, was dropped today from the cabinet while the powers of his previous codictator, Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, were increased. Schuschnigg became minister of defense and also assumed control of foreign affairs.

Schuschnigg tendered the cabinet's resignation to President Miklas, who asked the chancellor to form a new ministry. Eduard Baar-Baarenfels was named to replace Starhemberg as vice chancellor.

Differences of Opinion.

An official statement said:

"Prince Von Starhemberg is retired from the government because of differences of opinion with Chancellor Schuschnigg. The administration assumed the task of concentrating all the fatherland sources of power. This concentration demands complete unification of political leadership and clarification of relations of the fatherland front with state leadership.

"On these grounds Chancellor Schuschnigg took over the leadership of the fatherland front [Austria's combined private armies]."

Follows Insurance Scandal.

Popular resentment following the collapse of the Phoenix Insurance company out of which, it was said in some quarters, Starhemberg's Heimwehr got 40,000,000 Austrian schillings [about $7,500,000], was believed to have contributed to the cabinet dissension.

It is also known that anti-Starhemberg government leaders were furious over the prince's recent dispatch of a telegram to Premier Mussolini in which he lauded Fascism and assailed democracy.

"Realizing that we are closely tied to Fascist Italy, and in heartfelt delight at your excellency's and Fascist Italy's glorious victory," the prince wired, "I congratulate you from my whole heart on the great triumph of Italian Fascist arms over barbarism and over democratic dishonesty and hypocrisy, both in my own name and in that of all those who are fighting for the triumph of Fascism in Austria. Long live the determined leadership of victorious Fascist Italy."

Starhemberg and Schuschnigg have disagreed on Austria's direction at various times. Recently the prince refused to carry out the government's plan for dissolution of his private army, the Heimwehr, along with other such organizations.

BORAH CHARGES OHIO OPPONENTS WITH TRICKERY

Asserts Anti-Lynch Law Issue Was False.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] today accused Republican organization leaders of manipulating the votes of colored citizens against him in the Ohio primary yesterday with promises of passing the federal anti-lynching legislation he opposes as unconstitutional.

"Hypocritical and intellectually dishonest" the senator called the Republican leaders who deplore the assaults on the constitution by the New Deal and then, for vote catching purposes, espouse the anti-lynching bill, which is no less unconstitutional than the NRA and the AAA, and for the same reasons given by the Supreme court.

If the federal government may not invade state jurisdiction to regulate business and agriculture, as the Supreme court declared, it may not intervene in a state's administration of the criminal law, the senator contends.

Made Primary Issue.

The anti-lynching bill figured importantly in the Ohio primary in which Senator Borah, as a candidate for the Republican nomination for President, was defeated by Robert A. Taft, son of the late President and Chief Justice William Howard Taft, who was put up as a "favorite son" candidate by the Republican organization.

Senator Borah's candidates for delegates at large were decisively defeated by the organization slate and only five of the Borah candidates for district delegates were elected. Ohio will have 52 delegates in the national convention.

There are 150,000 colored voters in Ohio. They were mobilized against Borah as a consequence of his refusal some months ago to indorse the anti-lynching bill, despite the pressure exerted upon him by colored organizations. Borah challenged Taft, Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, and Frank Knox of Illinois, his rivals for the nomination, to state whether they indorse the anti-lynching bill. None of them replied.

Points to Constitution.

When asked for comment on his defeat in Ohio Senator Borah said:

"As to the general result I have no comment nor complaint.

"But there is one thing which I think is worthy of public attention. The Republican party will go into the campaign laying great stress upon constitutional integrity and the preservation of state rights.

"The men who are in control of the party, and who will likely be in control of the convention, will write its platform and name its candidate, have already demonstrated that they care nothing about constitutional integrity or the preservation of state rights, that their talk on this subjec is hypocritical and intellectually dishonest.

"In New York, in Illinois, and in Ohio, for the purpose of securing the votes of the colored people, they have advocated a measure which strikes at the very heart of state sovereignty and, if adopted, would utterly destroy the fundamental principle of our dual sovereignty of government. They have been willing to do so for the sake of a few votes.

Charges Deception.

"The constitution and the rights of the states would not be any safer in their hands than in the hands of those who openly advocate a change in our form of government. They have gone to the colored people and given them to understand that the Republican party will pass the so-called anti-lynching bill. And they have either been guilty of a willful betrayal of one of the most fundamental principles of our system of government or they have been guilty of the deliberate deception of the colored voter.

"Doubtless the platform at the Cleveland convention will have much in it about the preservation of the constitution and the rights of the states. There will be much said about the great debt of gratitude the people of this country owe to the Supreme court for its decisions in the NRA and the AAA cases, and protecting the integrity of the states. And yet the so-called anti-lynching bill is in contravention to every principle announced in these decisions.

"And the pathetic ineptitude of their contention is illustrated by the fact that the last battalion of the colored voters are on their way into the Democratic party. They know these men who rare talking to them about anti-lynching measures have never raised their hands or voices to help the colored man in any respect whatever except for purely corrupt election purposes."

'MUTILATION' OF G. O. P. DATA IN MAILS CHARGED

Fletcher Asks Farley to Take Action.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee today charged that Republican campaign matter had been "mutilated" while in the mails in an open letter to Postmaster General Farley. Farley was asked to give the necessary orders to end such practices.

In his letter Fletcher said he was certain that the mass of the classified civil service personnel of the postal service is both honest and efficient, adding that it would be regrettable "if, under the present administration, this spendid service should be prostituted for political purposes."

Cites Black Committee.

"If letters transmitted through the mails are to be seized or scrutinized as telegrams were by the Black committee," Fletcher continued, "the American people may well believe that censorship and interference with individual liberties and public service on a national scale for political purposes is much nearer than we have realized."

The letter complained specifically against tampering with a Republican publication entitled Uncensored, which was mailed to Miss Lida Frost of Lebanon, O., about April 1.

Farley to Investigate.

"Miss Frost informs us that when the envelope was received by her the copy of Uncensored had been censored," Fletcher wrote. "A page had been mutilated. The matter deleted consisted of copies of two letters from the Democratic committee of Indiana county, Pennsylvania, to emergency relief workers in that county demanding contributions to a Democratic political fund on penalty of not receiving additional relief work."

Postmaster General Farley is en route to Washington from Devils Lake, N. D., where he spoke yesterday. At his office it was reported Farley, when notified of the charge, had termed it "asinine" in stating that on his return to Washington he would investigate the complaint.

ALICE R. LONGWORTH WILL BE DELEGATE AT HER 11TH CONVENTION

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of the famous "T. R.," who has witnessed 10 national conventions as an onlooker, soon will be seeing her 11th in an active capacity.

Through the Ohio primaries she won a seat as a delegate on the ticket of Robert Taft, son of her father's one time political enemy. In so doing she ran against the ticket of her old friend, William E. Borah.

PROVES HE OWNS CAR; LEFT MINUS PROOF AND CAR

John Line, 30 years old, 4056 Dickens avenue, stopped his automobile suddenly at a trafic light at Sacramento and Chicago avenues last night. Another car smashed into the rear of his. Line agreed to pay for the slight damage and the second driver demanded that Line produce proof of ownership, so they drove over to Line's home. When Line brought out his certificate of title the stranger snatched the paper, jumped into Line's car and sped away. Two women companions of the stranger followed in the other car.

WITHDRAWS LAST $5; DIES.

George Dayton, about 65 years old, address unknown, collapsed at Wells and Randolph streets last night and died while being taken by Central police to the Henrotin hospital. In his pocket was a bankbook showing he had withdrawn the last $5 of his account Tuesday.

TAFT VIEWS HIS OHIO VICTORY AS NEW DEAL BLOW

Wins 47 Delegates to 5 for Senator Borah.

Columbus, O., May 13.—[Special.]—With 47 of Ohio's 52 Republican national convention delegates pledged to him for president, as a result of yesterday's primary results, Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, the state's "favorite son," declared today the victory showed that the voters of his party are uncompromisingly opposed to the New Deal.

The remaining five Republican delegates will go to the convention supporting Senator William E. Borah of Idaho whose backers were swamped by the regular party organization.

Forces of Taft, son of the late President and Chief Justice Taft, had piled up a huge majority on the basis of almost complete returns.

Interprets Voters' Stand.

"The overwhelming victory," Taft said, "showed that the Republican voters of Ohio are in favor of choosing a candidate and writing a platform uncompromisingly opposed to President Roosevelt and the New Deal."

John S. Knight, Akron publisher and one of Borah's chief backers in Ohio, said the "result was not unexpected. Senator Borah made a gallant fight but the odds were too great. Organization and money go a long way and the 'favorite son' slate had both."

Breckinridge Swamped.

President Roosevelt overwhelmed the anti-New Deal Democrat, Col. Henry Breckinridge of New York, for the third time in a Democratic preferential race. Roosevelt was given 419,622, compared to 27,137 for Breckinridge on returns from 7,258 of the state's 8,579 precincts.

Gov. Martin L. Davey won the Democratic nomination to his present position by a lead of nearly two to one over Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland.

Landon Delegates Lead.

Charleston, W. Va., May 13.—[Special.]—Returns from yesterday's statewide primary tonight showed that 13 delegates favoring Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for President were leading in contests for seats at the Republican national convention, although Senator William E. Borah of Idaho received the popular majority. Landon was not a candidate in the primary.

Major highlights were the apparent victories of Frank Nesbitt and Judge Lewis H. Miller for the Republican senatorial and gubernatorial nominations, respectively, after both had trailed in early tabulations.

The principal state Democratic races appeared to be settled in favor of Senator M. M. Neely, for his present post, and Attorney General Homer A. Holt for governor. Neely held an increasing lead over Ralph M. Hiner.

The count for President Roosevelt in 1,300 precincts was 160,345 votes. All Democratic candidates for the sixteen delegate seats were pledged to him.

KNOX LIKENS ANTICS OF REP. ZIONCHECK TO NEW DEAL ACTS

Seattle, Wash., May 13.—(AP)—Frank Knox, Republican presidential candidate, told Representative Zioncheck's home-town folks tonight the congressman's "gyrations have been not more fantastic than those of Hopkins and Tugwell and other leading lights of the New Deal hierarchy."

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Republican rally the Chicago publisher said:

"I believe one of the outstanding contributions made to the 'brain trust' in Washington is your own Representative Zioncheck."

Knox said Zionchecks' "summary dismissal from his intimate relationships with Jim Farley and the White House" would not be "any different than the flight of any ordinary citizen from an earthquake, a tornado, or any other such inconvenient manifestation of nature, whether human or otherwise.

"I hope you all noted the fact that simultaneously with the arrival of Representative Zioncheck with his bridge in Porto Rico, there came from the White House press conference an intimation from President Roosevelt that he was in favor of the immediate independence of Porto Rico.

"I have no doubt you share that view if Mr. Zioncheck will make it his permanent abode."

ASSERT AL SMITH HAS NOT DECIDED WHEN TO "WALK"

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Alfred E. Smith has not yet decided whether he will "take his walk" before, during, or after the Philadelphia Democratic convention, it was stated today in informed quarters, in response to reports that the former governor had already decided not to attend the convention. He is an elected delegate.

Friends of Mr. Smith admitted it was likely that he would not attend, but said the decision probably will not be made until just before the delegates convene, on June 23.

It was said that Mr. Smith will go if he decides that he will have an opportunity there to express his views. At the present time that looks to be doubtful, and should the situation remain, up to convention time, as it is now, Mr. Smith and his brown derby will be among the missing.

No statement was forthcoming today from Mr. Smith's offices in the Empire State building. He was at home, in bed, as he has been for several weeks, suffering from arthritis.

ZIONCHECK FEARS FOR LIFE; FLIES FROM PORTO RICO

Rock Throwing Patriots Fray His Nerves.

SAN JUAN, P. R., May 13.—(AP)—The brief honeymoon stay of Representative Marion Zioncheck on this island, marred by an automobile accident, a threatened duel and a patriotic demonstration, ended late today when he and his bride left in a marine plane for St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Employés at the hotel where Zioncheck stayed said he kept the guests awake most of last night by tossing coconuts into a garden where late dancers and diners were gathered.

Wires President.

Before the congressman boarded the plane he sent a message to President Roosevelt in Washington. Zioncheck is reported to have advised the President that if he were given marine protection he would "clean up the Porto Rican situation" in seven days. He received this reply from Presidential Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre:

"Impossible even to consider your request. Gov. [Blanton] Winship at San Juan is the sole and competent authority to carry out this government's policy in Porto Rico."

Later the White House conversed with Gov. Winship by radio telephone, Secretary McIntyre speaking from the United States end.

"The United States either ought to get in or get out of here," Zioncheck said as he was boarding the plane. "Children seven and eight years old are running through the streets yelling 'Viva republica' and 'down with the United States.'"

Zioncheck's nerves were frayed by rock-throwing young patriots who brought about the mobilization of the National Guard.

Earlier the department of education closed all public and private schools after a night and day of lively student strikes in the cause of insular freedom from American sovereignty.

Zioncheck Dodges Rocks.

Zioncheck looked upon the youthful demonstrators, dodged their rocks, and liked them not. Fearing he would be singled out for attack as a congressman, he made frantic demands for naval and marine protection. A marine detachment visited Zioncheck's hotel, "checked and double-checked Zioncheck," but refused to maintain a guard outside his door.

"Nerts," the noncommissioned officer in charge commented.

Nevertheless, the congressman appeared in person later in the day at the Naval Radio station and urged that a plane be provided to take him either to the Virgin Islands or elsewhere.

DEMOCRATS HERE WAR ON VOTE LAW LIMITED TO CITY

Demand Registration Bill Cover Entire State.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Notice was served on Gov. Horner yesterday by the Cook county Democratic central committee that if he calls a special session of the legislature and asks it to pass a permanent registration bill except on a statewide basis the Chicago Democratic members will fight it as they have done for three years.

Action of the committee was unanimous on a viva voce vote. No negative votes were heard, although the two members of the committee who openly supported Horner in the primary last month, Martin J. O'Brien and James M. Whalen, were present.

Discussion Kept a Secret.

The meeting was an executive session in the Roosevelt room at the Hotel Morrison and details of the discussion were not made public. But it was reported that there was no argument against the resolution and that there were several committeemen who bitterly attacked the proposal to aim the "honest elections" bill at Cook county alone.

Since the committee action further established the hostility in the local organization against Gov. Horner, the wording of the resolution was considered of interest.

"The Democratic county central committee," says the resolution, "pledges support and approval of any registration or election law which will tend to safeguard the integrity of the ballot in every respect, but this committee disapproves legislation which would tend to make Chicago appear as a violator and the only violator of the election laws of this state.

State-Wide Bill Is Asked.

"It is the sense of this meeting to recommend to the governor of the state and the state legislature that a bill be drawn making permanent registration uniform through the entire state.

"The anti-Roosevelt press, the leaders and principal agitators for permanent registration, are requested to help in the enactment of uniform permanent registration laws in this state."

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney announced yesterday that leaders of prominent civic organizations have accepted invitations to attend his "town meeting" on election frauds at his office at 10 a. m. today. The prosecutor said evidence of vote frauds in the recent primaries will be discussed and that he expects soon to develop evidence for grand jury action.

Passage of a permanent registration law for Cook county also will be discussed, Courtney announced.

GETS SIX MONTHS FOR ELOPEMENT WITH CHILD, 14

Richard Carter, 23 years old, 731 Barry avenue, who was arrested in Des Moines, Ia., last week while eloping to California with Hazel Florence Page, 14, of the same address, was sentenced to six months in the Bridewell by Judge Leon Edelman in the Domestic Relations court yesterday. Carter, a married man, was charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency.

Mrs. Martha Page, mother of the girl, asked that Carter be sentenced to a year. However, his wife, Victoria Carter, a dancer, pleaded that her husband be freed.

Carter told Judge Edelman that originally he planned to go to California, divorce his wife, and marry the Page girl, but had since changed his mind and wanted to return to Mrs. Carter.

Follows $10,000 Balm Suit with Divorce Action

Mrs. Nara M. Krogman, 65 years old, 8816 South Union avenue, filed a divorce suit in Circuit court yesterday against her husband, John, 67 years old, a steel company laborer. The bill relates that the Krogmans were married in 1902 and that he deserted her on Feb. 28, 1934. Last year Mrs. Krogman brought a $10,000 alienation suit against Mrs. Mary E. Hill, 9250 Parnell avenue, a widow, charging her with the theft of Krogman's affections. The jury disagreed, and the second trial is to start in the Circuit court Monday.

Evanstonians Battle New Deal

Movement Spreads

Interest continued to mount yesterday in the campaign of a nonpartisan group of north Evanston business men to enlist all of the 6,000 votes in the suburb's Sixth ward against the New Deal in the election next November. Herbert S. Simpson, chairman of the group, said inquiries indicated that its plan may be adopted not only in other Evanston wards, but also in Chicago and other nearby cities and towns. The plan is to canvass every voter in the ward, reminding each one that Evanston's share of the cost of New Deal schemes will be about $20,000,000, and urging that the New Deal be defeated in the interest of economy for future taxpayers.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT IN FREAK STORM ACCIDENT

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—A series of brief thunderstorms brought death and damage this afternoon in the metropolitan area. One man was killed and another injured when the boat from which they were fishing was struck by lightning.

The injured man told the police that the last he remembered was approaching within three feet of the shore when there was a sudden clap of thunder. The next thing he knew, he said, was that he was sitting on the bank with his companion's body beside him.

In Somerville, N. J., George Creely, middle aged utility worker, stood on the lip of a 60 foot tank filled with 110,000 gallons of gasoline and beat out blue flame spurting from a six-foot crack where another bolt had hit.

His heroism, witnessed by trembling townsfolk and the whole volunteer fire fighting force of the town, was credited with saving a large part of Somerville from destruction.

Newsboy Beaten, Robbed of Pennies; He May Die

Denver, Colo., May 13.—(AP)—A 13 year old newsboy was wounded possibly fatally today by two men who robbed him of a few pennies at his downtown corner stand. The boy, Michael Quintano, was found semiconscious from brain concussion.

WIVES SUE TWO BROTHERS; THEY HIT US! IS CHARGE

Two brothers were sued for divorce in the Superior court yesterday on grounds of cruelty. In each case the wife seeks custody of her small son and asks permission to resume her maiden name.

Both bills were filed by the law firm of Donohue, Murphy & Motto. One, in behalf of Mrs. June Johnson Gimino, 21 years old, 4937 Chicago avenue, charges that her husband, Ralph, a bookkeeper, struck her twice. In the other Mrs. Margaret Hudon Gimino, 20 years old, 4856 Chicago avenue, alleges that her husband, Charles, a loop bondhouse employé, struck her twice in the last two months.

TELLS DEAL WITH BRITISH MINISTER FOR STORY OF LIFE

$100,000 Fee Promised J. H. Thomas.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 13.—J. H. Thomas, British secretary of state for the colonies and a British trades union leader, accepted an offer of $100,000 for his autobiography on condition that his friend of 20 years, Albert Bates, an advertising agency founder, secure for him a house on which Mrs. Thomas was "very keen," it was disclosed today before a king's bench tribunal.

Bates carried out the house deal for $75,500, which was to be taken as part of the fee for the biography. Thomas is to testify tomorrow.

The tribunal is making a judicial inquiry into the "budget leak" through which many persons believed to have had advance information that there were to be increases of the tea and income taxes, placed with Lloyd's underwriters some $500,000 of insurance against increases prior to the announcement of the budget April 21.

Tells of Golf Match.

The cabinet heard the budget proposals on April 9. Bates played golf with Thomas and his son Leslie, a stockbroker, Easter week [April 12], then had Leslie sell for him $125,000 of gilt edge stocks and buy $20,000 insurance against an income tax increase.

Questioned about his association with the colonial secretary, Bates described the golfing party and a lunch at Brighton.

"On any of these occasions or at any other time," asked Counsel Walter Monckton, "did he disclose to you anything about the contents of the budget?"

"Certainly not," Bates retorted.

No Other Business Deal.

Bates asserted Thomas had no interest in any businesses he had built up and the only business transaction between them was in connection with the autobiography.

Monckton read a letter dated in November, 1935, from Bates to Thomas. It began: "My dear Jim," and offered $100,000 for the "exclusive rights of your life."

Bates specified the work must be completed within six months of Thomas' retirement from politics, adding:

"In the event of the profits exceeding $125,000 you and your wife are to have half of all sums produced by the book in excess of such figures."

Thomas' reply, commencing "My dear Alf," accepted the offer, provided Bates secured the house.

Questioned by Sir Samuel Lowry Porter, king's bench justice and head of the tribunal, Bates said he had bought the house without any security, and has not yet received an instalment of the book.

Bates said he was not acquainted with any other member of the cabinet or member of the civil service.

ORDER ROUNDUP OF MORONS IN Y. W. C. A. MURDER

With the failure of all clews to the murder of Mrs. Lillian D. Guild, 59 year old gift shop manager, police yesterday pinned their hopes for solving the crime on an order to question every moron taken into custody. Lieut. Otto Erlanson, head of the homicide squad, said he is satisfied that the slayer was a sex maniac.

Nicholaus Franzen, 49 years old, handyman, employed at the Y. W. C. A. hotel, 830 South Wabash avenue, where Mrs. Guild was found murdered Saturday, was taken to the County Psychopathic hospital yesterday for observation and treatment. Lie detector tests failed to connect him with the crime. Police also questioned Sylvester Cikoski, night clerk at the hotel, without result.

HOPKINS URGES PREVAILING PAY ON RELIEF JOBS

Change in Front Made by New Dealer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—After fighting 70 days last year to defeat the prevailing wage for relief workers, the Roosevelt administration, through WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, today sought to convince a senate appropriations subcommittee that relief workers should be paid the prevailing wage. Hopkins attributed his change of front to "experience."

The long heralded senate "fight" on relief did not materialize in the subcommittee when the 2 billion 364 million dollar second deficiency bill was taken up today, but the members agreed to hear Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, who would like to get another appropriation for his public works program, but has been ignored in the bill as passed by the house. The entire relief appropriation of 1 billion 425 million goes to Hopkins for his boondoggling program.

Hope to Add Billion.

Efforts will be made on the senate floor to add 700 million dollars to the bill for Ickes PWA and 350 million for Prof. Tugwell's resettlement administration. Also there will be a fight on the floor, led by Senator Arthur H. Vanderberg [Rep., Mich.], to allocate relief funds to states, on the basis of population and need, and take the administration out of politics.

Prof. Tugwell, also, was left out in the cold in the relief bill, and this antagonized five radical senators—Schwellenbach and Bone of Washington, Wheeler of Montana, Nye of North Dakota, and Black of Alabama—who went before the subcommittee with demands that something be done for "resettlement." Members of the subcommittee said that more than 1 billion dollars of last year's 5 billion dollar appropriation is still on hand and President Roosevelt can give any amount of this to Tugwell if he pleases.

Tugwell Makes Report.

Tugwell, in response to a senate resolution introduced by Senator W. Warren Barbour [Rep., N. J.] made a report on the activities of his resettlement organization today, showing that it has 15,804 employés on the administration pay roll and has been allotted $275,549,944 to spend. Of this amount, the report stated, $98,347,005 has been spent and a total of $173,091,823 obligated, leaving $102,458,112 unincumbered.

Up to April 15, according to the report, the resettlement administration had taken options on 9,670,000 acres of land, of which options on 8,469,000 acres, costing $36,344,000, had become legal commitments. As of May 1, the report said, 59,521 persons, including 3,581 on the CCC pay roll, were employed in connection with the land acquisition program.

Want 20 Million Acres.

The report stated that a recent survey indicated that "the purchase of approximately 24,000,000 acres of land would be needed to block in and round out" the existing projects and to establish a minimum number of new projects.

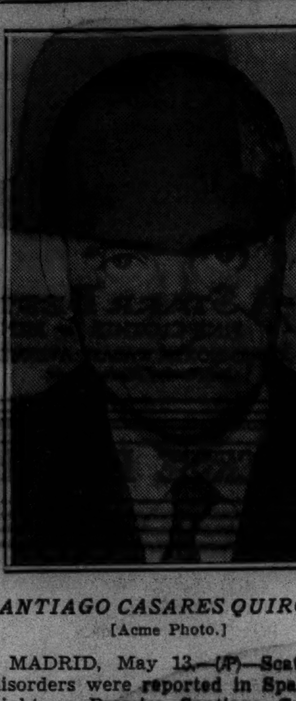
Of 33 subsistence homestead projects, according to the report, construction has been completed on 18, is in progress on 11 and final plans have been drafted for 4.

The report lists four suburban housing projects, financed from a $31,000,000 allocation for this purpose. They are in Berwyn, Md., Bound Brook, N. J., Milwaukee, and Cincinnati.

On rural rehabilitation, the report says the RA has cared for more than 800,000 families. For its rehabilitation advances to individual "clients," the administration will expend 106 million dollars through June 30.

There were more than 71,000 workers employed on projects financed by the organization during April, the report states, adding that the peak is expected to be reached during the summer with 100,000 workers.

Spain's Premier



SANTIAGO CASARES QUIROGA.
[Acme Photo.]

MADRID, May 13.—(AP)—Scattered disorders were reported in Spain tonight as Premier Santiago Casares Quiroga's new cabinet held its first session. The cabinet agreed to summon the cortes [parliamentary] into session May 19 when the ministerial program for fulfillment of the Popular Front pledges is to be presented.

One man was killed in the most serious incident at Vigo. A carpenter refused to join a strike and took refuge in a house. His fellow workers surrounded the place and in the subsequent confusion one passerby was fatally wounded. In the eastern province of Teruel farm workers began a general strike after their demands for higher pay were refused. Civil guards ejected peasants from estates in the vicinity of Hijar. The governor of Valencia province received reports of the burning of 12 churches and religious buildings during anti-clerical disturbances yesterday. Five large cafes were closed in Madrid when their owners refused to dismiss Fascist employés.

FLORIDA CANAL AND QUODDY GET BACK TO LIFE

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—The Florida ship canal and the Passamaquoddy [Maine] tidal power projects, both officially dead since congress refused the appropriations for their continuation, were resurrected suddenly today at the behest of President Roosevelt.

After a White House conference yesterday Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, ruler of the senate Democratic machine, introduced a resolution authorizing the President to appoint engineering boards of review for the two projects, both begun by the President's fiat.

The boards would present their findings by June 20, and, if favorable, the President would have authorization to set aside 10 million dollars for the canal and 9 millions for Passamaquoddy out of available relief money.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], who took the leading part in killing the appropriations for the two projects, said the administration's surprise move recalled the three-shell game.

"It remains to be seen," he said, "whether congress is more gullible than it was a month or two ago."

No Spying, 'Blacklisting,' His Ultimatum.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Works Progress Administrator Harry Hopkins today issued an order to state WPA directors instructing them not to employ armed guards, not to spy on workers and not to blacklist workers who organize.

The order was issued following a conference with Victor F. Ridder, New York City WPA administrator, who employed a detachment of guards to protect his office against anti-WPA demonstrations.

Hopkins said his order was issued "in the interest of good labor relations in the 4 billion dollar program."

Text of Hopkins Order.

The order read:

"Maintenance of order is the function of local and state governments, and if protection is necessary in connection with WPA activities it should be secured from the regular police force of the locality. WPA funds shall not be used for the employment of armed guards.

"Where investigations are required, such matters will be handled by the division of investigation of the Federal Works Progress administration. This investigation service will not be used to spy upon workers nor concern itself with legitimate organizational activities of WPA workers.

No Local Investigations.

"No investigation will be made nor investigators employed directly by state or district offices of the Works Progress administration.

"The use of the 'blacklist' or any other list that may serve to discriminous against individual workers or groups is prohibited. The administration will not permit any discriminary practices that may operate to work hardship on unemployed persons because of their beliefs, organizational activities or affiliations."

Hopkins denied reports, current in several states, that the PWA funds are virtually exhausted. He said there are sufficient funds on hand to carry out all approved projects through June 30, the end of the present fiscal year.

France Refuses Nazi Bid to Extradite Socialist

PARIS, May 13.—(AP)—A French court today refused the German government's request for the extradition of Max Brauer, former Socialist mayor of Altona, Germany, who has been living in France since the Nazis assumed power. The request for extradition was based on charges of corruption in office filed against Brauer in Germany. The court decided Brauer was being sought "merely for political reasons."

WAYS TO FIGHT DELINQUENCY IN CHILDREN TOLD

Education of Parents Among Proposals.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rockford, Ill., May 13.—[Special.]—Parental education in mental hygiene, establishment of organized leisure time activities and remolding of general elementary and high school curricula are the chief weapons with which society can combat juvenile delinquency and its logical fulfilment, major crime.

Such were the conclusions of speakers here today at the closing sessions of the fifth annual conference for the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

"From mental hygiene we learn to think in terms of what children need and what adults need," explained Mrs. Ruth O. McCarn of Chicago, educational director of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene.

Opportunities Lacking.

"There are large numbers of people in our present population who do not have now and did not have the opportunities of growing up under conditions that satisfied even a few of the primary needs for affection, flexible guidance and the approval of loving parents."

Development of leisure time activities is in itself no sure cure for child delinquency, said Roy Sorenson, assistant general secretary for the National Y. M. C. A. council.

"All we can say is that we do know of cases where it helped," he asserted. "We do hope and believe that such activities do aid in bringing about a proper adjustment for underprivileged children."

Dr. S. A. Hamrin, principal of the University High school, Normal, Ill., advocated the same type of physical, psychological and psychiatric examinations given youths and young women sent to reform schools or detention homes for all school children.

He also advocated the "shattering of traditional concepts about the school curriculum." Schools must deal with individuals as such rather than with children in the mass, he declared, if delinquency is to be reduced.

L. C. Schilder, chief of the identification division of the United States department of justice in Washington, told how machinery had been set up for the apprehension of criminals by his bureau to cope with the scientific progress made by criminals.

Fay Haigh Seeks Freedom from Secretary She Wed

Mrs. Fay B. Edsall Haigh, 58 years old, 727 North East avenue, Oak Park, a writer, sued in the Superior court yesterday to annul her marriage in Miami, Fla., last Feb. 7 to her former secretary, Frederick F. Haigh, 28 years old. She charges that their marriage by the county clerk in Miami was illegal because there were no witnesses. Haigh was divorced from Elsie Ripple Haigh last Jan. 29. The second Mrs. Haigh is the widow of Edwin E. Edsall, who died in 1934.

ZEPPELIN LANDS IN GERMANY; TRIP TAKES 48 HOURS

Rides In on Good Winds, Fair Weather.

Everywhere over Ireland and England the airship, which was a mass of light, drew crowds to the doors. The airship flew thirty miles north of London, instead of passing over the British capital, to avoid the possibility of any political complications.

Capt. Ernest Lehmann said: "Had we asked permission to fly over London some one in authority might have objected, so we took the simpler road of merely asking permission to cross over the Pembroke to Harwich line."

"It took us forty hours," he said, "to fly from Central park, New York, to South Bishop, England, a distance of 3,000 miles, which is comparable to steamers sailing from Ambrose lightship to Bishop's Rock [off Ireland]."

Leaving England, the Hindenburg passed the Scilly Islands and the estuary of the Scheldt, then turned inland over Netherlands territory. The craft sailed over the border of Holland and Germany and passed Cologne, going down the Rhine to Frankfort.

Change of Feeling.

Nazis waiting here to welcome the Hindenburg had undergone a notable change of feeling since the ship departed and since they heard of the warm reception that was extended personally to Dr. Eckener in the United States.

When Dr. Eckener, president of the Zeppelin company and usually commander of the ships he flies on, was reluctant to fly the ship for Nazi propaganda activities, he was given an official "silent" punishment. Later Air Minister Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering ordered, "Dr. Eckener's name may be mentioned in news stories, but it should never be played up."

Silver Cup to Eckener.

Dr. Eckener was assigned a passenger cabin on the initial round trip to the United States, with Capt. Lehmann commanding the ship. However, when Americans showered their attentions on Eckener and left Lehmann in the background, the Nazi propaganda entourage on ship and at home took note.

District Nazi leaders will present him a silver cup. Some Nazis were becoming frankly critical of the shabby treatment of the venerable engineer and pilot and found grounds for hope that he will be reinstated in good graces and will command the next trip to North America.

PRIEST ON ZEPPELIN PLANS TRIP TO FAR NORTH POSTS IN JULY

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—The Rev. Paul Schulte, Roman Catholic priest who made the westbound trip on the Zeppelin Hindenburg and celebrated mass in her lounge during the flight, is arranging a trip by airplane in July to Hudson bay, Chesterfield inlet, and the Mackenzie river in the interest of the M. I. V. A., of which he was the founder.

This society supplies modern means of transportation to missionaries in the far corners of the world. The initials stand for a Latin title meaning "Missionary Vehicular association." It now has 60,000 members in Germany.

The M. I. V. A. now has supplied 140 planes, motor boats, and automobiles to out of the way places, Father Schulte said today.

John D. Jr. Gives Luncheon; Formally Accepts Award

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller Jr. gave a private luncheon today for the directors of the Hundred Years association, at which the association's annual award was formally presented to him. The award was made in recognition of Mr. Rockefeller's gift to the city of Fort Tryon park and the Cloisters, museum of medieval art.

CHICAGO FACES RELIEF DEFICIT OF 2½ MILLIONS

Monthly Gap Between Cash and Needs Shown.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Cook county's relief bill is about $3,285,000 a month and the 30 cent relief tax on general property will bring only $678,471 a month, according to a tabulation completed yesterday of tax resources and relief needs of Chicago and the 30 townships of the county.

A bill which has just become a law without Gov. Horner's signature turns the administration of relief over to Chicago and the townships with the requirement that they levy a 30 cent tax on each $100 of assessed valuation in order to qualify for a distributive share of the state's $2,000,000 sales tax revenue allotted to relief.

Huge Monthly Deficit Seen.

Should Cook county receive as much as 60 per cent of this $2,000,000 it is shown that the relief deficit in the county would be $1,407,000 monthly.

The tabulation yesterday showed a wide variation in the relief conditions in the townships under this new relief setup. In some townships where the relief burden is small and the amount of taxable property relatively large, the new local tax will carry the load alone. Under the state law no sales tax funds will be given in such cases. In other townships the reverse holds true, and the maximum relief tax on property can produce only a small fraction of the amount needed.

Chicago needs $3,068,802 for its monthly relief, but the 30 cent tax would be only $560,306 a month. This means a monthly deficit of $2,508,496 —or more than the sales tax revenue available for the entire state.

Wide Discrepancy Shown.

In Bloom township relief needs are $33,428 a month, while the 30 cent tax would bring in only $3,886. Bremen township requirements are $13,351 a month, while the revenue for an entire year from the new tax would be only $13,658.

On the other hand, more fortunate townships could cover their relief needs with only part of the 30 cent tax. For example, such a levy would produce $2,398 a month in River Forest township, where the monthly relief bill is $616. Riverside could raise $1,684 a month, against needs of only $540. Rich township has tax resources that would bring in $850 a month, but its needs are $800.

Other Townships' Needs.

The list of the other country townships, with their monthly relief needs and estimated monthly tax receipts under the 30 cent levy are shown as follows:

Township—	Relief needs.	Tax receipts.
Barrington	$ 784	$ 700
Berwyn	6,415	5,379
Calumet	5,392	13,442
Cicero	18,435	9,614
Elk Grove	84	652
Evanston	30,290	12,676
Hanover	784	577
Lemont	3,994	564
Leyden	9,072	3,795
Lyons	11,306	5,623
Maine	4,452	4,915
New Trier	2,852	12,327
Niles	2,324	4,600
Northfield	1,428	1,548
Norwood Park	2,712	2,983
Oak Park	3,241	10,587
Orland	661	367
Palatine	2,044	1,010
Palos	814	555
Proviso	17,768	9,923
Schaumburg	84	274
Stickney	2,482	3,750
Thornton	29,318	7,638
Wheeling	2,520	1,375
Worth	8,776	3,409

Aside from the inadequacy of the combined property tax and one-third of the 3 cent sales tax—which is all that goes for relief—is the problem of getting receipts from the new tax before next year. The sale of tax anticipation warrants will bring in an average of not more than 50 per cent of the levy, according to Douglas Sutherland, executive secretary of the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency.

Fear Cost and Interest.

Also, the cost of issuing warants and paying interest on them would probably consume a substantial part of the coming relief levy, officials complain.

These problems, and that of administering relief in Cook county through 31 separate agencies after July 1 will be discussed today at a meeting of township supervisors with the joint committee appointed by Mayor Kelly and Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board. The meeting will be held in the county board rooms.

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission will meet today to allocate $2,500,000 to its county units for the latter half of May. The money is part of the $4,500,000 appropriation put through the legislature Monday night to supplement sales tax receipts during this month and June.

Marries Secretary

Chicago friends of Laurence R. Wilder, Washington engineer and shipbuilder, who formerly lived here, learned yesterday of his marriage in Washington Monday to Miss Julia Kitchen, his former secretary. Mr. Wilder is a son of the late John E. Wilder, wealthy Chicago tanner. He was married in 1911 to Agnes Patten, daughter of the late James A. Patten, Evanston millionaire. They were divorced in 1923. His new bride is the daughter of John Frederick Kitchen of Erie, Pa.

Mr. Wilder and Miss Kitchen were married in the New York avenue Presbyterian church in Washington by the Rev. Albert Evans.

THRILL SLAYER SENTENCED TO DIE IN ENGLAND

LONDON, May 13.—(AP)—Frederick H. Field, deserter from the British army, was convicted today of killing a 48 year old woman "just because I wanted to murder some one" and sentenced to death.

Field denied a detailed confession of his guilt, but showed no emotion when he heard the sentence.

Police said Field confessed to slaying Beatrice V. Sutton after he was arrested for desertion and questioned about checks missing from Hendon air field. Officials introduced a statement which, they said, was made by Field, which said, "I had never seen the woman before in my life. I just murdered her because I wanted to murder some one."

Japan Bars U.S.Magazine; Called Mikado 'Man-God'

New York, May 13.—(AP)—The American Mercury Magazine said tonight the imperial Japanese government had informed it the March issue of the publication was barred from circulation in Japan by government order. Mercury editors said the issue contained an article entitled "The Man-God of Japan," referring to the emperor.

EXTRA SESSION MAY DEAL WITH CHICAGO TAXES

Advance Adjudication of Levies Proposed.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—[Special.] —Gov. Horner indicated today that he is favorably disposed toward including in the call for a fourth special session of the Illinois general assembly the Chicago proposal for court adjudication of tax levies before they are extended and the bills sent out to property owners.

The fourth special session is being called principally to adopt permanent election registration bills. A number of other subjects are under discussion for inclusion, including the tax proposal which has been urged by John O. Rees, director of the Chicago committee on public expenditures; Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, and others.

May Broaden Program.

"I am inclined to place the Chicago tax plan in the call," said the governor, "but I have not decided finally yet. Other governmental units have advanced ideas on taxation that they want in the call, and I may make the call sufficiently broad and general in scope on this subject to permit consideration of all the suggested tax measures."

Advocates of the plan to have the courts pass on the legality of tax levies before extension say that it would prove of benefit to small property owners. Under the present system many home owners, they say, pay taxes illegally levied, while only those who can afford to attack the levies in court escape payment.

May Convene Tuesday.

The governor said the call would be issued in time to convene the legislature into the fourth special session next Tuesday. Reports were that the convening hour will be fixed at 8:05 p. m. Tuesday, both senate and house having adjourned the current second special session until 8 p. m. that night. The first and third special sessions have completed their business and have been adjourned sine die.

In a brief session today the house advanced to third reading—the passage stage—a number of bills amending existing old age assistance and dependent children and blind pension laws to conform with requirements of the federal social security board so as to get federal money for these pensions. They are scheduled to be called for passage next Tuesday night.

STATE REPORTS MACHINE TRADE LABOR SHORTAGE

The Illinois state employment service is finding shortages in a number of occupations, it was announced yesterday by Philip Flum, manager of the industrial division office at 231 West Monroe street. Positions are now open for qualified automobile body and fender repair men, automobile mechanics, gray iron floor and bench molders, furniture upholsterers, power machine operators, and welders, he said.

"In addition, we have what might be called chronic shortages as to good machinists and tool and die makers," Mr. Flum said.

The service office is also looking for experienced hand ironers for laundry jobs, and the commercial office needs experienced graphotype operators and time study men.

DENIES CHICAGO LAGS IN SUPPORT OF ITS HOSPITALS

Loomis Raps Figures on Public Aid.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Frank D. Loomis, executive secretary of the Community fund, denied yesterday that Chicago lags behind New York and Cleveland in tax support and community fund aid to voluntary or endowed hospitals. He referred to published comparisons of hospital income in Chicago and in other cities and said the financial situation of the Chicago hospitals does not arise from tax or charity income, but from management.

The figures Loomis criticized were compiled by Perry Addleman, executive director of the Chicago Hospital council. They indicated that the income of Chicago's voluntary or endowed hospitals from tax and community fund sources last year was only 19 cents for each Chicago resident. Contrasted with this figure, Addleman's findings indicated that voluntary hospitals in New York received 98 cents per capita while similar hospitals in Cleveland got $1.18 per capita.

Claims More Is Contributed.

"The statements for Chicago are grossly incorrect," Loomis declared. He offered figures to show that private charity and public funds for all hospitals here amount to at least 50 cents per capita instead of 19 cents.

"In addition," Loomis said, "maintenance of the Cook County hospital and the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium alone cost the people of Chicago about $5,000,000, which would add $1.60 to the per capita cost in maintaining charitable hospital service." In other words, he said, there is a combined total of $2.10 per capita.

"The problem of the hospitals is not a problem of free service nor of charitable funds, public or private. It is a problem of business management."

No Defense Needed, Reply.

"Presidents and superintendents of Chicago hospitals do not need defense of their management," said Addleman in his reply to Loomis. "The figures showing the voluntary hospitals in Cleveland and New York receive much greater support than in Chicago will bear careful scrutiny.

"Our statements have never been concerned with governmental hospitals, such as the Cook county institution, or their support by the public. But the situation with regard to governmental general hospitals in Chicago, New York and Cleveland may also be brought to public attention. Cleveland with a population of 918,400 has 1,710 beds in governmental hospitals, or 1.86 beds for each thousand population, and New York has 1.44 beds for each thousand.

"Chicago with a population of 3,490,700 has 3,837 beds in governmental general hospitals, or less than 1.10 beds for each thousand."

INDIANS DANCE WAY IN CONGRESS TO MAKE PROTEST

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—Bedecked in jewels and feathered finery, southwestern Indian leaders danced and chanted their way into the halls of congress today and gained a senate hearing to record complaints against what they said was maltreatment of their people.

Tribal chieftains from nearly a score of Indian communities throughout the Pueblo, Hopi, and Navajo lands of New Mexico and Arizona were promised by Senator Thomas [Dem., Okla.], the senate Indian affairs committee would hear their complaints tomorrow.

Led by Pablo Abeita, aged secretary of the New Mexico All-Pueblos council, the delegation told Thomas, Indian Commissioner John Collier, and Chairman Rogers [Dem., Okla.] of the house Indian affairs committee that encroachments by non-Indian stockmen were devastating their lands.

SOCIAL AID BILL AGAIN BEATEN IN N. Y. ASSEMBLY

Albany, N. Y., May 13.—(AP)—After fiery debate, the Republican dominated assembly rejected for a third time today Gov. Lehman's proposal to align New York state with the federal social security act.

The action came on the third motion of Democratic Minority Leader Irwin Steingut to discharge the eight point bill from rules committee and bring it onto the floor.

The vote was 68 noes as against 73 ayes, three ballots short of the 76 necessary to bring the measure from committee.

Previously, the program received senate approval.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 13.—(AP)—Premier Julius Goemboes will be forced to quit politics for some time, political friends said today, to undergo an operation for relief from a kidney and gall bladder ailment. The premier, one of the most powerful political figures in central Europe, is expected to go to a sanitarium in the near future.

WIFE DIVORCES YOUNG M'ADOO, SON OF SENATOR

Riverside, Cal., May 13.—[Special.] —With Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, his stepmother, aiding his wife, William Gibbs McAdoo Jr. was divorced here today by Mrs. Molly Thackaberry McAdoo in an uncontested proceeding.

The daughter of the former President who herself was divorced from U. S. Senator McAdoo a year ago, testified in support of Mrs. McAdoo Jr.'s assertion that young McAdoo failed to provide for her and their two children. An out of court property settlement was arranged.

The junior McAdoos were married in 1922.

Badoglio Acts to Crush All Banditry.

ADDIS ABABA, May 13.—[By Military Plane to Asmara.]—(AP)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio, viceroy of Ethiopia, tonight ordered columns of Italian soldiers to penetrate every section of Ethiopia next week to put down the last signs of opposition and banditry.

His instructions followed a huge military review yesterday in the capital attended by ministers and stafs of the French and German legations.

The ministers of the United States, Great Britain, Belgium, and Japan did not witness the review. Former ministers of Emperor Haile Selassie and many of the negus' high officials gave the Fascist salute, apparently eager to stand well with the victorious Black Shirts.

Honor 170 College Black Shirts.

In a place of honor at the review were 170 Black Shirt college men brought here by railroad from Diredawa to represent the southern Italian forces.

They were chosen by lot but when they lined up for the review there were 171, to the astonishment of all but one soldier in the back rank.

He acknowledged he had not been chosen in the draw but "Just thought I would come along anyway."

Ethiopian Government Located.

KHARTOUM, May 13.—[Havas.]—Loyal followers of Emperor Haile Selassie have established an Ethiopian government in the Gore region near the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan frontier, British authorities were informed here tonight.

Gore is about 250 miles southwest of Addis Ababa and 50 miles east of Gambela, Ethiopian market and trading center now under the jurisdiction of Sudan authorities by virtue of a lease arranged in the tri-power treaty of 1906.

Capt. E. N. Erskine, British consul in the Gore region, said large numbers of Ethiopian troops and Galla warriors returning from the war zones are streaming into the Gore region. No indication was given as to whether the government had been set up in the town of Gore or in the mountainous district outside the city.

Dispatches from the Ethiopian capital said an Italian motorized column had left there yesterday for Gore to bring that region under Italian control.

Italians See European Split.

ROME, May 13.—(AP)—Italy's quarrel with the league of nations, well informed Fascists predicted tonight, may become a fundamental dispute involving all of Europe.

The thought in high Italian circles was put into words by Virginio Gayda, the authoritative writer, in this fashion:

"A quarrel created between fiction and reality; between Geneva and the solid, active entity of Italy, can become a fundamental, open quarrel in the midst of Europe. Italy will not have provoked it. It will not be Italy who will feel the possible consequences."

Mum on Quitting League.

Neither diplomatic sources nor government officials would answer the question whether Italy would definitly quit the league at its June session. However, an informed commentator gave this interpretation of yesterday's departure of the Italian delegation from Geneva:

"Every deduction today on our eventual action is premature. I do not know what the government's decision will be. At any rate, the attitude at Geneva at present requires us to interrupt our collaboration with the league. The situation is one of suspended collaboration."

The ministry of colonies announced it was ready to receive plans for the development of commerce and research in the vanquished land. Fascism's confederation of agricultural workers instituted a special office to study the Ethiopian farm possibilities.

White bearded Gen. Emilio de Bono, who started the African military conquest, was named chairman of a commission to study a reorganization of colonial troops.

League Council Adjourns.

GENEVA, May 13.—(AP)—The league of nations council, which yesterday postponed its deliberations on the Italian conquest of Ethiopia after the Fascist delegation withdrew from the sessions, adjourned today after two meetings—one private and one public.

At the former, the members decided to hold its special session on the Italo-Ethiopian dispute June 16 instead of a day earlier as previously announced.

Two communications were received before the league's administrative group concluded its sessions. Ethiopia sent a letter from the president of the Egyptian Red Cross which characterized as "wretches" certain Egyptians who made, "purely for gain," accusations of Ethiopian atrocities.

Italy told the league Lieut. Armand Frere, a Belgian, had signed an affidavit describing sadistic orgies he said he witnessed while with Ethiopian troops.

He is also vice president of the Community council and director of several civic organizations.

Add Fighting Planes to Battle Cruiser.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 13.—The admiralty plans to increase vastly the air power of the British navy, it was disclosed today in the reconditioning of the battle cruiser Repulse, which will now be sent to the Mediterranean as another enigma for Premier Mussolini.

The Repulse was completely refitted at Portsmouth at a cost of $7,000,000 and will go south June 8. Its sister ship, the Renown, will come home to undergo a similar overhauling which will include a new set of machinery and boilers.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin meantime revealed in the house of commons that Britain is negotiating with Japan and the United States, other signatories of the 1930 London naval treaty, for largely increased destroyer tonnage.

Anti-Aircraft Defense Aided.

The Repulse, with the Hood and Renown, constitutes one of Britain's most powerful floating fortresses, and with its new equipment is expected to prove an even more formidable fighting unit. In addition to more air offensive power it also now has greater anti-aircraft defense.

The Repulse carries four fighting seaplanes. A huge aircraft catapult has been erected abaft the second funnel, the superstructure having been cut away to make way for it. Two lofty hangars and electric cranes also have been built on each side of the deck.

Hitherto no British warship has carried more than two planes, but due to Italy's challenge to naval power with her air arm, requirements have changed.

The new anti-aircraft batteries of various calibers will enable the ship to put up an effective barrage against air attack, experts said.

Seek to Keep Ahead of Italy.

The British plan to increase the destroyer force over the London treaty regulations was brought out in answer to questions in the commons by Winston Churchill, Conservative leader. The increase is said to be in response to the augmented destroyer and light cruiser building by France and Italy.

Concern over the shinkage of the British merchant fleet was expressed by Commodore Stockwell at the annual meeting of the Navy league which urged the government to augment this arm of empire safety. Stockwell, speaking on behalf of the merchant marine, said that since 1930 British shipping had been reduced by more than 3,000,000 tons gross, or roughly 15 per cent of the quantity existing in that year.

"It may truly be said," Stockwell remarked, "that the prosperity of the merchant navy is essential to the British empire's security."

Urges Bigger Jap Navy.

TOKIO, May 13.—(AP)—Japan's naval secretary, Admiral Osami Nagano, told parliamentarians today that Nippon must build more ships soon or be outdistanced by America.

Japan now has a naval strength 80 per cent that of the United States, the admiral told a budget sub-committee of the lower house of parliament.

But, he added, unless a new construction program soon is undertaken, the Japanese ratio will fall to 58 per cent of American strength by 1941.

[A $529,000,000 appropriation bill for naval maintenance on new ship construction is pending in the United States congress. It would provide for the construction of two new capital ships, within the limitations of expiring treaties. Japan walked out of the recent London naval conference rather than agree to maintenance of the 5-5-3 ratio between Great Britain, the United States, and Japan.]

SCHOOL DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Sisseton, S. D., May 13.—(AP)—Fire which apparently burned unnoticed for an hour destroyed the Sisseton Grade and High school today. School board members placed the loss at $150,000.

FRENCH BATTLE RED SCHEME TO SET UP SOVIETS

Socialists Urged to Hold Allies in Check.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 13.—The communist proposal for the establishment throughout the country of Popular Front committees which would be simply Red soviets was denounced today by the conservative newspaper Le Temps as a grave peril to the nation.

Not only is it a peril to the nation as a whole, Le Temps said, but it is particularly a peril to the future government "which Blum [Leon Blum, Socialist party leader] has asserted he intends to conduct legally."

It can be seen from this how the French business world, which Le Temps represents, is preparing to submit meekly to the Socialist yoke and is even coming to look upon Blum as a bulwark against bolshevism.

Raise Din for Reds.

From a legal Socialist government the French conservatives do not anticipate anything very radical. They do not approve of the kind of new deal Blum seems to have in mind because they think it will boost taxes, but they do not see anything revolutionary in it, so they can accept it philosophically.

What does worry them—and apparently with good reason—is the communist proposal for the creation of district soviets. The communist organ Humanite has been harping on this day after day and no doubt heavy pressure will be brought on the Socialists and Radical Socialists, who with the communists make up the Popular Front, to accept them.

The Reds justify these disguised soviets by saying they are necessary to look after the application of the Popular Front program.

The Socialists, since they will have control of all legal forces in the nation—the army and police—do not feel the need of any extra legal Popular Front organizations to superintend the application of the Socialist program, hence they are cool to the idea.

"Everything is happening," said Le Temps, "as if the communists wished to substitute for the normal control of parliament the control of committees and clubs. Everything is happening as if the communists wished to profit by the generosity, tolerance and perhaps the weakness of their allies in the government to prepare for a revolutionary seizure of power."

At the moment the question of whether the Popular Front will accept the communist committee proposal looks like the most important long term issue in the country, overshadowing anything else the new government may do or fail to do.

Parties Make Cabinet Deal.

PARIS, May 13.—(AP)—Undivided power virtually was assured tonight to the Popular Front government which will take office after the chamber of deputies meets June 1.

The Radical Socialist party, which has the second largest representation in the chamber, accepted the invitation of the dominant Socialist party to participate in the government. The communist party gave notice of its complete support of the government, although stating it would not join in the Popular Front cabinet. The communists are anxious to maintain their political independence.

The General Confederation of Labor also has been invited to join in the government.

300,000 TROOPS IN RHINELAND NOW, FRANCE REPORTS

PARIS, May 13.—(AP)—France has informed Great Britain and Belgium officially, authoritative sources said today, that Germany has fortifications and 300,000 "more or less armed men" in the formerly-demilitarized Rhineland zone.

A French army general staf report said there are 56,000 regular troops and 250,000 members of other military groups in the region remilitarized March 7 after Germany denounced the Locarno pact, and that fortifications already have been erected.

UPRIGHT WALK OF MAN BLAMED FOR MANY OF HIS ILLS

Sinus Home of Epidemics, Doctors Are Told.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., May 13.—[Special.]—When the human race began to walk upright instead of on all fours, its disease troubles began, Dr. M. M. Cullom of Nashville, Tenn., told the laryngology section of the American Medical association at the session here today. Dr. Cullom takes the scientific, evolutionary view of humanity, which is anathema to most of the religious groups of his state, and at the same time finds that God is good to about 50 per cent of the race.

After stating that sinus infections offer the greatest field of study in the realm of medicine, and pleading for preventive work and greater cleanliness, particularly among food handlers, he said:

"We are still operating on sinuses infected in 1918 and an untold number are carrying infection in their sinuses which had their origin in that epidemic, making them carriers and a menace to family and community.

Blamed on Mobilizations.

"The epidemic of 1918 was the result of bringing together millions of men from all parts of the earth, each nationality with its portion of infected sinuses to which a certain immunity had been established. With all these types brought together, with virgin soil in which to grow, a strain of frightful virulence developed which spread through the world like wildfire. In the United States alone there were 750,000 reported deaths.

"The human animal is the victim of a special group of diseases from which other animals are spared. A rational explanation has its basis in the biological fact that during a long period of his evolution man was a four footed animal. [Let him try to walk that way at Dayton, Tenn.] When he walked on all fours with his head hanging down, the drainage of his sinuses was direct, dependent and by gravity.

"When he assumed upright position the drainage system was radically changed. Drainage became indirect and uphill. Then his troubles began."

Explains Infection Theory.

After explaining his theory of the spread of infection and its relation to other diseases, such as causes of scarlet fever and influenza, he continued:

"Perhaps you would say, if infection is so widespread, why does not every one become infected? God is good and has so ordered that about 50 per cent of the population is immune. That is about the proportion that held throughout the epidemic of 1918 and I think it is about the proportion of immunity in other eruptive diseases except measles, mumps, and whooping cough.

"Personal cleanliness in the shape of soap and water, towels and handkerchiefs are the chief enemies of infection. The time will come when cooks and food handlers will be taught the principles of asepsis, how to be surgically clean, to wear masks and gloves, how to sterilize dishes and dishcloths. How many lives would have been saved if such a régime had been in force in the Chicago hotel that sent so many of its patrons home to die after eating infected food?

Offer Wide Study Field.

"In my opinion the paranasal sinuses offer the greatest field for study in the realm of medicine. How fortunate for us that that is so. Suppose there were no more questions to be settled. What a drab life would confront us. No more thrills in running down scientific truths. It would be something like the theological conception of the creation of man. A perfect man turned out by the hand of God, just as Minerva sprang full armed from the head of Jove. Such a conception leaves me cold.

"What does thrill me is the idea of a cell of protoplasm starting, perhaps a million years ago, on its long arduous journey, moving slowly, painfully, falling down, but always getting up, never conquered until it climbs to the perfect flower in the brain of Edison. What was God's greatest gift to that cell of protoplasm? It was its potential ability to solve its problems. Its greatest blessing was problems to be solved. Let me wish you Godspeed today upon a quest more romantic and more thrilling than that of Sir Galahad in search of the Holy Grail."

Colds Laid to Sinuses.

Common colds come from chronic infection of the sinuses, in the opinion of Dr. Edward C. Sewall of San Francisco. Repeated colds gradually cause the membranes to become thickened. If this thickened membrane becomes diseased, the infection tends to become chronic. Persons with this type of disease often have "false colds," Dr. Sewall said. They are acute flareups of the sinus condition. These attacks are in proportion to the inclemency of climatic conditions. This kind of attack usually clears up quickly, in contrast with the true cold.

Dr. Sewall cited the example of Eskimos who never had colds until they were visited by ships from the temperate zone. Dr. Sewall concluded that whatever the infectious agent is that causes the common cold they arise in association with the activity of the streptococcus in acute flareups of chronic sinus disease.

Describes German System.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the association journal, in a noonday lecture on medicine in a changing world took occasion to describe the state system in Germany and to contrast it with the American system.

"When the modern German gets his pay envelope," he said, "he finds that the government has deducted from his salary a sum for veterans, for people on relief, for sickness, unemployment insurance, burial, and, in the case of a married man, for maternity ward.

"For every doctor employed by the German government two laymen are employed in administrative red tape. The saddest thing about the German system, which has become in a way a system of state medicine, is that it gives a view of what politicians can do to the medical profession, and to care of the sick when politicians really go to work on it.

All Nazi Enemies Fired.

"When Hitler came into power every Jewish physician and every Catholic physician and every doctor whose politics differed from those of the Nazi party was promptly fired from the government sickness insurance system. People used to be permitted to go to their own doctors for illness treatment, but today they are not allowed to do so.

"The great head of the German sickness insurance system has suddenly taken an immense interest, not in scientific medicine, but what we call the 'naturo-pathic' system of practice, whose adherents believe that the real way for the human being is to get away from all this scientific medicine.

"Quite recently they have promulgated an order in Germany that all of the great universities which used to give the highest type of medical training in the world must put naturopaths on their staf to teach nature's way of healing diseases.

"This is what is happening to a medical system owned and controled by the state and taken over by politicians. Knowing what our Democratic government is, any of you can imagine the time when a President may some day be elected who will figure that chiropractic is the only real system."

SIX CHICAGOANS WIN MEDALS FOR MEDICAL STUDY AT CONVENTION

Kansas City, Mo., May 13.—[Special.]—The committee on awards of the American Medical association today gave two gold medals to six Chicagoans.

The first was for exhibits of individual investigation, which are judged on the basis of originality and excellence of presentation. This went to Charles B. Huggins, W. J. Noonan, and B. H. Blocksom, department of surgery, University of Chicago, for a discovery that only the bones kept at body temperature contain blood-cell producing marrow.

The second gold medal in the class for exhibits which do not exemplify purely experimental studies and which are judged on the basis of excellence of presentation went to Rudolf Schindler, Maris Ortmeyer, and John F. Renshaw, University of Chicago, for an exhibit on chronic, gastritis as studied by gastroscopy.

Certificates of merit, class 1, were awarded to Arthur F. Abt, Chester J. Farmer, and Elizabeth Smith, Northwestern university medical school, for a physiological chemistry exhibit important to infants and children.

SEIZE PROWLERS IN EVANSTON.

Kenneth Altenberg, 13 years old, 614 Davis street, Evanston, and Alvin Perry, 10 years old, colored, 327 Dempster street, Evanston, were arrested early yesterday as they attempted to break into a café in the suburb at 523 Dempster street.

QUADS BELLOW; NOISE IS MUSIC TO NURSES' EARS

Passaic, N. J., May 13.—[Special.]—The Kasper quadruplets were bellowing at St. Mary's hospital today and the screams were as music to their nurses' ears.

Dr. Frank Jani, who is basking bashfully under the title of the "Passaic Dr. Dafoe," explained that one way to gauge the strength of the babies was to listen to the depth of their cries. At the beginning, he said, the cries were weak and thin. Today, however, the babies were crying lustily and everybody was very happy.

It appeared today that the Kasper quads were in as healthy a state financially as they were physically. Their father, Emil, was content to go along on $20 a week as a machinist's helper, but the four children—four days after their birth—have doubled that income.

Mayor Benjamin F. Turner of Passaic, the former motorman, who has been so active in the management of the quads that even Mr. Kasper is becoming a little confused, signed the four babies to a newspaper contract yesterday. They get a down payment of $750 and then $40 a week for the first year and a $10 raise on their first birthday.

Helena Has Two More Quakes, but No Damages

Helena, Mont., May 13.—(AP)—An earthquake, which the weather bureau rated as "strong" was felt in Helena for about five seconds today, but no damage was reported. It was followed by a "weak" shock. The two brought the total since last October's major disturbances to 1,905.

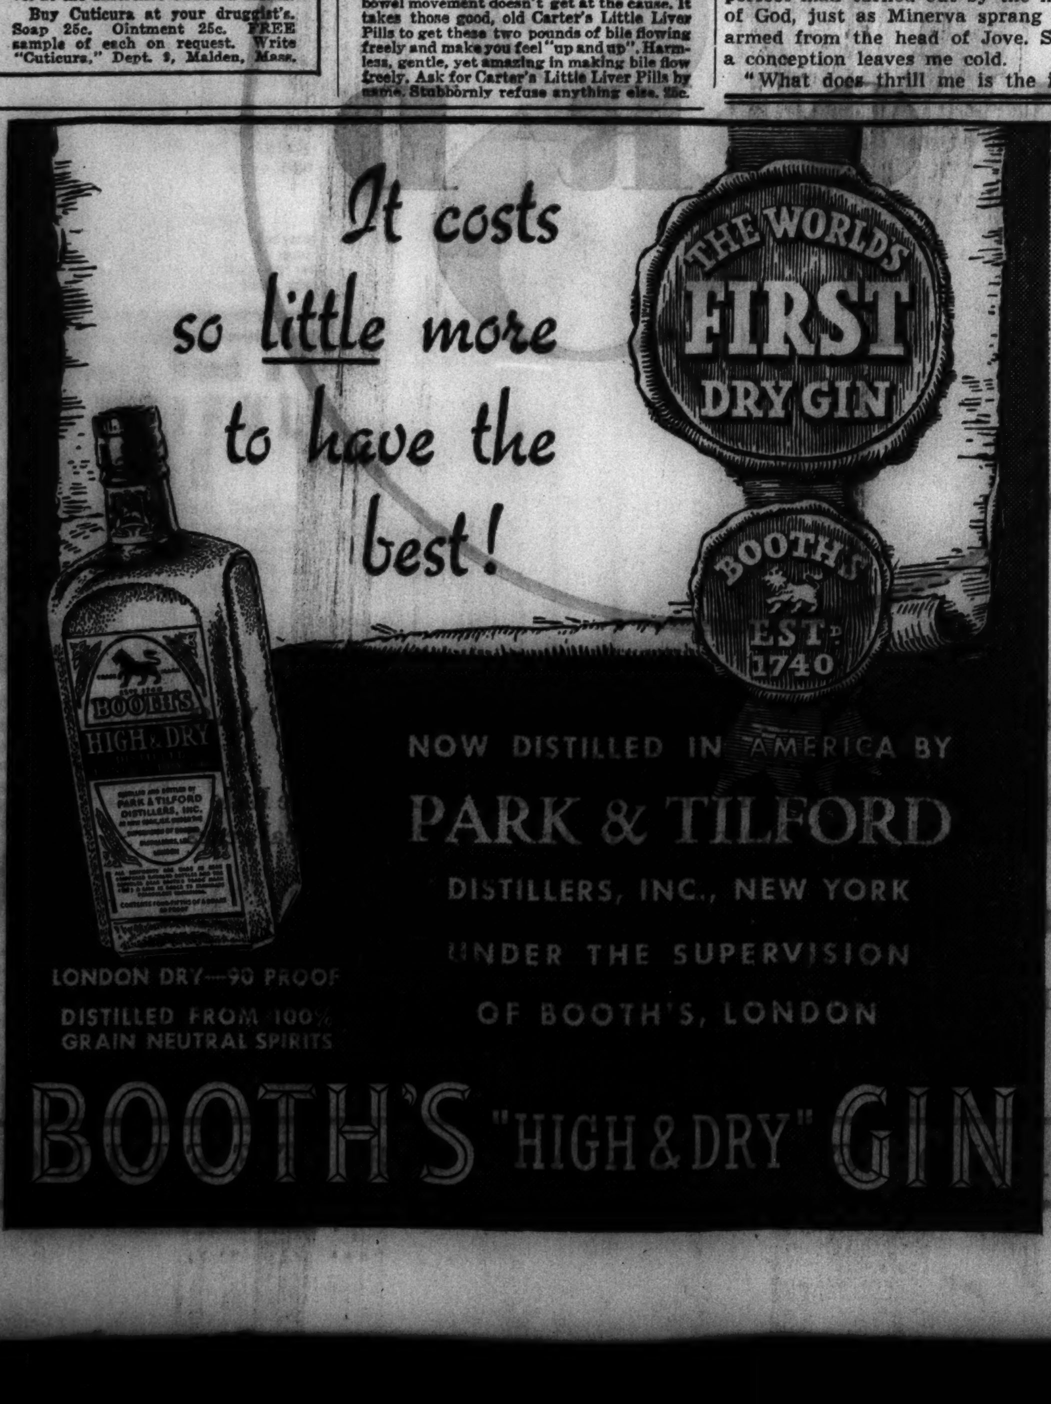
WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.



It costs so little more to have the best!

CONVICT THREE OF ST. CHARLES BANK ROBBERY

All Face 97 Year Terms in Federal Prison.

After deliberating four hours a jury in Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan's court returned a verdict of guilty yesterday against three of the eight men indicted for the $16,000 robbery of the St. Charles National bank last Jan. 31.

Each of the three faces a possible maximum penalty of 97 years in prison on the five counts of the indictment. A motion for a new trial, made by Defense Attorney Benedict Short, will be heard tomorrow.

The convicted men are Frederick T. Hansen, 32 years old, an ex-convict, alleged leader of the robbery gang; Sam Bongiorno, 39 years old, and Philip Dimenza, 32 years old.

One Robber Still Sought.

Leo Friedman, one of the robbers, has pleaded guilty and will be sentenced later. John Sullivan, another of the bandits, is a fugitive.

Three associates of the robbers, who conspired with them to arrange the holdup, testified for the government. They will be tried later.

These three are Percy Rehm, 41 years old, St. Charles florist, former chief of a Kane county vigilante group; John E. Gordon, 42 years old, former St. Charles special policeman; and James Kobart, 47 years old, former Will county deputy sherif, on whose farm at Romeoville, north of Joliet, the gang cached its arsenal of nine guns and met after the robbery to divide the loot.

Judge's Instructions to Jury.

When Judge Sullivan gave the case to the jury at 1 p. m. yesterday he instructed the jurors to "use common sense," in reaching a verdict.

Attorney Short contended that Hansen, and to a lesser extent his fellow robbers, were "victims of unscrupulous officials who instigated the robbery for the purpose of reward and personal agrandizement." Hansen and Bongiorno testified to this in their defense.

"This plea is the most absurd cock and bull story ever brought into a courtroom," declared Assistant District Attorney Thomas B. Hart in his closing argument. "It is a desperate defense by desperate men."

Gordon, the former special policeman, testified for the government during the trial that he gave Hansen his key to the bank and two nights before the robbery allowed Hansen and Dimenza to enter the bank for reconnaisance.

Mr. Hart and First Assistant District Attorney Warren Canaday conducted the prosecution.

SOCIAL DISEASE WANING, LEAGUE LEADER REPORTS

An optimistic discussion of the so-called social diseases in which he said they were on the wane in Chicago was given last night by Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, president of the Illinois Social Hygiene league. He addressed the annual meeting of the league in the Chicago Woman's club.

Dr. Schmidt was recently reëlected president of the league, now in its 21st year. Other officers elected then and announced last night are Wilfred S. Reynolds, first vice president, and Dr. Irving S. Cutter, Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, and Judge Perry Persons, Waukegan, vice presidents. Dr. Rachel Yarros was reëlected executive secretary and Alfred W. Stern, treasurer.

The league, through its clinic at 9 East Huron street, gave 76,505 treatments last year to nearly 4,000 individuals, of which 2,070 were new cases, according to the report. The pre-marital clinic instructed 245 patients, Dr. Yarros said.

Paul Whiteman Sells His Denver Realty Holdings

New York, May 13.—(AP)—Paul Whiteman, Denver born orchestra leader, announced today he had liquidated all his real estate holdings in Denver and soon he and his father would know no other home than New York. He had just received word, he said, that his birthplace on Marion street, Denver, his 2,000 acre ranch, and his 160 acre farm near there had been sold.

HELD IN BABY'S DEATH.

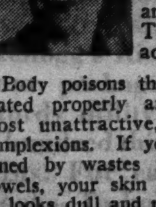
You Don't Need a BEAUTIFUL FACE



Beautiful features are not necessary. Real beauty comes from the inside, a healthy body, a lovely complexion and lots of pep. That is what men admire.

Body poisons that are not eliminated properly are the cause of most unattractive, sallow, pimply complexions. If your blood is poisoned by wastes from constipated bowels, your skin often breaks out or looks dull and muddy.

Adlerika quickly and pleasantly removes these wastes from both bowels. Adlerika brings out foul matter that may have poisoned you for months, ruining your complexion and upsetting you system.

Miss B. S., Converse, Tex., says: "I have used Adlerika for just two weeks and I am amazed at how it has cleared up my complexion."

Mrs. W. T. M., Louisville, Ky., "My eyes were dull and my complexion poor. After trying Adlerika almost every one commented on my complexion. It has lost its sallowness and my eyes have a new sparkle."

Let Adlerika help you to clear up your complexion and make it smooth, clear and admirably lovely. Try Adlerika for just one week and see what an amazing difference it makes in how you look and feel. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

COURSE OF N. Y. VICE IS TOLD IN TRIAL OF 'LUCKY' LUCIANO

New York, May 12.—[Special.]—The progress of prostitution in New York City from an "individual matter" to the status of a million dollar a month racket, was traced today by Special Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey in his opening statement to the jury trying Charles Luciano, alleged overlord of the ring and nine of his underlings.

"Until a few years ago," Dewey said, "prostitution had not become an organized racket. It was an individual matter. The girls kept the money they earned and were not blackjacked into giving it to others."

Finally, said Mr. Dewey, a group evolved the thought that it would be profitable to "give protection to each girl" and to exact tribute for so doing.

Dewey sketched the machinery of "the business."

The average inmate earns $300 a week, of which half goes to "the madam," Dewey said. Ten per cent of the remainder goes to the booker and $25 to $30 goes for "bond and board," leaving the girl with about $100 a week.

W. H. Lemmel Is Elected to Head Quincy Schools

Quincy, Ill., May 13.—[Special.]—W. H. Lemmel of Flat River, Mo., was chosen superintendent of the Quincy public schools today by unanimous vote of the school board. The salary is $4,000 a year. Lemmel succeeds Dr. W. E. Nelson.

N. U. INSTRUCTOR DENIES RADICAL REMARKS; SORRY

Russell Dick, 37 years old, instructor of French at Northwestern university, denied yesterday he had criticized the American government and institutions in his classes, as his students had charged.

However, Mr. Dick issued a statement regretting "indiscreet utterances that may have been misinterpreted by the students," and added that he was "particularly sorry for this undesirable publicity to the university."

Officials of the university did not indicate whether or not they were satisfied with Mr. Dick's apology. Walter Dill Scott, president, could not be reached, and Dean Addison Hibbard of the college of liberal arts refused to comment.

ACQUIT LAWYER SUED FOR $10,000 AS A SLANDERER

A jury in the Circuit court of Judge Daniel P. Trude yesterday brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant in the $10,000 slander suit brought by Robert H. Foley, 29 years old, a cab driver, of 4436 Clifton avenue, against Attorney William T. Pridmore. Foley accused Pridmore of causing him to lose the friendship of Kuma Ohi, 1214 East 73d street, by telling of his affairs with other women. Miss Ohi, a 25 year old Japanese-American girl, who then was Pridmore's secretary, now is a student in the John Marshall Law school. Her American born mother, Mrs. Kate Ohi, testified for Attorney Pridmore.

DETROIT BANKERS SEEK ABROGATION OF JURY'S VERDICT

Three Pin Hope on Judge After Conviction.

Detroit, Mich., May 13.—[Special.]—Three former Detroit bankers, convicted of false entries and conspiracy in a $145,000 transaction two years before the bank holiday, clung to hope today that Judge Patrick T. Stone of Wausau, Wis., may set the jury's surprise verdict aside.

In denying record motions for a directed acquittal Monday, after brief argument, Judge Stone said he would hear arguments in detail later if the verdict made it necessary.

Briefs to Be Filed.

Briefs will be filed immediately and set for argument Friday. Bonds of $2,500 each were continued and sentences, which may reach a maximum of five years and $5,000, were deferred.

Those convicted are John R. Bodde, former president; Donald N. Sweeny, and Edwin J. Eckert, former vice presidents of the Old Peoples Wayne County bank, a $400,000,000 institution.

The charges are largely technical. Although Special Prosecutor Guy K. Bard told the jury the false entries were made to deceive and defraud, he brought no allegation that the accused were "dipping into the assets" or seeking personal profits, he said.

Pin Hope on Remark.

The defense hope of judicial easement is based largely on a remark of Judge Stone, in a colloquy with Bard, that he "doubted" whether Sweeny had been tied into the charges. He expressed the thought that Sweeny's connection was largely "secretarial."

The jury of eleven women and one man deliberated seven hours over its finding returned shortly before noon.

CHARGE MISSING BOND SALESMAN IS $41,000 SHORT

Elmo A. Brown, 52 years old, 1210 North Parkside avenue, salesman for the Central Republic company, an investment concern, who has been missing from his home since May 4, is short at least $41,000 in his accounts, Assistant State's Attorney Ben Nelson was told yesterday by Louis Schroeder, vice president of the investment firm.

Schroeder appeared yesterday at the state's attorney's office with Sidney K. Schiff, attorney for the firm. Schroeder told the prosecutor the shortage represented customers' securities allegedly held by Brown. Auditors have been employed to go over Brown's accounts and letters have been sent to his customers requesting information of their dealings with the salesman, Schroeder said.

Brown, who has been employed by the company for fifteen years, is alleged to have cashed a $3,161 check from his broker on the day he disappeared, after leaving a note to his wife, Elizabeth, that he was in ill health. The Browns have six children.

Wife Joins W. C. T. U.; He Takes Earnestly to Drink

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—His wife became active in the Women's Christian Temperance union, so he settled down to steady drinking. Thus was explained today in federal court the downfall of Alfred Schofield, 43, for 13 years a letter carrier who was accused of stealing one containing $3. The judge let him off with a month.

Only 174 days remain in which to save your country.
What are you doing to save it?

THE WIND AND THE WHIRLWIND.

The Frazier-Lemke greenback bill has been defeated, but the fact that it was even submitted to a vote provides evidence of the degradation of the house of representatives. There is not one respectable intellect in the country, capable of thinking clearly on economic questions, which approved that bill, yet it was brought out of committee in response to a petition signed by more than 200 members. The bill was crackpot legislation, simon-pure. It lacked even plausibility. If enacted it must have injured the very farmers whom it was supposed to benefit and it would have injured every one else as well.

There are stupid and vicious men in the house, no doubt, but by and large the members are not fools or knaves. Why, then, did they force the bill out of committee? There are a number of answers. One is that an election lies ahead and they were paralyzed by fear of an organized minority. Another is that the house has been driven to approve so much foolish legislation that the members forgot that they once were capable of independent thought and action. To pass its bills the New Deal has all but forbidden intelligent debate. Members have been beaten over the head so often that they are punch drunk.

The President and his brain trust opposed the Lemke bill, but it is none the less their baby. An administration which has given encouragement to any number of long haired visionaries is responsible if such men come to be treated with respect. An administration which has signed any number of testimonials to quackery must expect quackery to gain in popularity.

The immediate menace has been averted, but unless there is a clean sweep in November it is as certain as anything political can be that this bill and others like it will reappear session after session and as time goes on their chances of enactment will improve.

The purpose of the Frazier-Lemke bill, stated in its simplest form, was to transfer a large share of farmers' debts to the taxpayers. The end was to be achieved by having the government print 3 billion dollars of greenbacks with which the farmers' mortgages were to be paid off. The government was then to take the farmers' notes and these were to be paid off over half a century at 1½ per cent interest, a rate lower than the government can borrow money over such a period.

The scheme is unjust on its face because it forces one man to pay another's debt, but that is not its only fault or its principal fault. Its first result would have been to stimulate such a speculation in farm lands as even this country has never seen, with consequences which by this time should be familiar enough. But even worse consequences would lie ahead. The bill was frankly inflationary. It was intended to increase the nation's stock of paper money by about 50 per cent.

The greenback fallacy has a long and dishonorable history in this country, and, indeed, the world over. We had our continental scrip and colonial scrip, the French had their mandats and assignats, the Germans had to take a bushel of marks to the baker to buy a loaf of bread. At one time they thought they had the mark stabilized at 3 trillion to the dollar, but in the end it took 11 trillion marks to buy a dollar. The mark before the war was worth 25 cents in our money. In the end the paper on which a billion marks was printed was worth more as waste than the bill would buy.

The Frazier-Lemke scheme itself would not bring about a comparable inflation instantly, but the tendency would have been established if the bill had been enacted. The increase in the quantity of money would have been promptly followed by an increase in bank reserves, with a resultant stimulation to speculation difficult to curb. As soon as the shot in the arm began to wear off new demands by other economic classes to be relieved of their debts by means of the printing press would have been heard. If the farmers got theirs, why not spread the same benefits to home owners, railroads, factory owners, automobile owners, and all others who have mortgaged their property? There is no end to the process short of national bankruptcy.

Mr. Lemke in the course of the so-called debate said with complete candor that if the city representatives would support his measure he would support a similar bill to free urban home owners of debt. That is a foretaste of what must happen if the Lemke bill is ever enacted. Here is all the evidence that any prudent mind need have to see how dangerous the measure is.

If Mr. Roosevelt had not previously encouraged Mr. Lemke by signing his unconstitutional mortgage moratorium law Mr. Lemke would not have been able to threaten the nation with a disastrous inflation. Mr. Roosevelt gave Mr. Lemke his start. He cannot avoid responsibility for the consequences.

HUMAN NEEDS IN DEMOCRATIC POLITICS.

Senator Vandenberg, speaking on the second deficiency bill when it came up in the senate, proposed a complete revision of the relief program and discussed the inequalities, extravagances and inequities of the Roosevelt method. The deficiency bill of 2 billion 364 million will provide 1 billion 425 million for Harry Hopkins and the WPA.

Senator Vandenberg proposed that each state set up a bipartisan board of trustees to be responsible for the federal relief grants, and that each state contribute at least as much as 25 per cent of the sum granted by Washington. As custodian of the relief money the board of trustees would make all decisions as to methods of distribution and would be held liable to criminal prosecution for any discrimination or any political use of the funds.

Senator Vandenberg said his plan would reduce costs, prevent waste and eliminate the abuses which have been widespread under present methods. His criticism of the New Deal manipulation of the public money was dispassionate, but more telling because of that.

The senator pointed out that the federal dictation to the states had been degenerating and weakening to the traditional responsibility of the various members of the Union. A wasteful duplication of efforts and costs was involved, and the expenses of burocracy were eating the bread which belonged to the citizens in need of relief. Great sums had been wasted upon experiments which were no part of the immediate problem. Inequalities and inequities were set up between states, and the relief of human needs was constantly exposed to political exploitation. In the ramifications of such schemes it would be impossible, even if it were desired at Washington headquarters, to keep the spoils politician out.

An inexcusable feature of Roosevelt relief in its present stage, as Senator Vandenberg pointed out, is that it intentionally creates distinctions among the hungry and establishes favored classes. Not only are the people of one section granted more than the people of another and consequently fare better and suffer less, but certain persons in a community get attention and others equally in need do not. An employable person who is put on the Hopkins pay roll gets relief. An employable person who is not on the pay roll does not, and the destitute persons not rated as employable have been cast off as outside the consideration of the federal government.

Every informed person knows that the Roosevelt program of relief has degenerated into a pernicious and inhumane system of experiment and exploitation. Radicals have dipped into the relief funds to try out hobbies. Destitution has been made a clinic for quackery. Spoils politicians have used the relief funds to carry their districts and defeat their competitors.

Congress continues to vote billions for a national emergency. The distributors of this money continue to prolong the period of need in order to experiment with the needy for one set of purposes and exploit them politically for another.

CATTLE AND HOGS.

The live stock markets these days present a striking answer to the Wallace program. Mr. Wallace calls his scheme a planned economy. Others have called it a planned scarcity. That comes closer but does not tell the whole story. It is, above all, a planned disturbance of the markets.

As a consequence of the Wallace restriction of corn and hog production, the farmers sold about 5 million fewer hogs in the first four months of this year than they did in 1933 or 1934. There was no restriction on the production of cattle. Southern farmers who were forced to reduce their cotton acreage planted corn instead and have fed it to cattle which are now moving to market. The importation of foreign cattle has been encouraged partly by temporarily high prices and partly by the new trade agreement with Canada. The planned economy has thus resulted in an abnormally small production of hogs and an abnormally large production of cattle. The slaughter of cattle this April was the heaviest in any year since 1918, when the war demand was at its peak. Therefore, the country's stock of meat in storage is abnormally large, with the result that the prices of all live stock, hogs as well as cattle, have been falling.

The markets have been dislocated and corn belt farmers are the principal sufferers. They have fewer hogs to sell and the price of hogs is dropping. Consumers are getting out of the habit of buying pork. The government has created new competition for cattle feeders in the corn belt by encouraging foreign and southern farmers to go into the business. There is too little pork and too much beef in the markets, with resultant confusion and uncertainty.

This is the New Deal's contribution to agricultural recovery and stability.

A MERE INCIDENT.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

The Virginia-Massachusetts feud has broken out again. Former Gov. John Gardner Pollard cites grants and royal charters to prove that Plymouth Rock was included within the unsurveyed boundaries of Virginia when the Pilgrims landed there. Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts springs to arms and tongue in defense of his native state.

What a subject to quarrel over when Jamestown and Plymouth both were just way stations on the road to the empire that lay beyond the Appalachians. The first comers had to land somewhere. Had they possessed aircraft to scout the beautiful Ohio valley they doubtless would have avoided the barren rock and miasmic tidewater river bottom. As it was, French and Spanish imaginations thrilled to the spectacle of the vast plain. The government of England encouraged settlement of the Atlantic seaboard; king's edict couldn't keep the sons of colonists from clambering through Cumberland Gap to reach Kentucky.

The whole business was typical of Anglo-Saxon "muddling" to ultimate success, anyway. The Dutch took the New York harbor, French and Spanish snapped up the Mississippi and St. Lawrence gateways to the interior. Had not Champlain affronted the Iroquois beyond forgiving by taking sides with the Hurons against them, the French might have been entrenched in New York and central Pennsylvania, as they were as far east as Pittsburgh when war started. New England colonists, had they sensed the situation, could have passed through the friendly Iroquois country and entered the promised land down the Mohawk valley.

What difference in whose state they landed, since their descendants got here?

THINGS that give me the jitters: Boys and girls on bicycles racing ahead of my car and taunting me with cries of "Why don't you get a horse?" . . . A man coming to the house boasting and bragging about the new cocktail he has invented that is the most delicious thing in the world and using up all the best cordials, gins, and vermouths on the place, and then saying the cocktail he had concocted wasn't up to his usual standard because I had only domestic gin. . . . A fat woman dressed for a hike in the country with lumberman's checked shirt, rough canvas jacket, Scotch plaid pants, woolen stockings, and high heeled, cut-out sandals. . . . An expert amateur photographer looking over the pictures I've taken and dismally croaking at each one, "My Gawd, why all this foreground?" . . . Answering the kitchen door when the cook takes Thursday afternoon off and having a ferret faced man with a desperate look say: "I got your name on my list. I'm the bug exterminator." . . . Having a great big police dog about the size of a Texas steer and without a leash on come bounding at me from across the street and after I've climbed the nearest fence to hear the woman who is escorting the dog around call out cheerily: "Don't be afraid; he just wants to play with you. He's as harmless as a kitten."

VALEDICTORY.

Adventure waits amazingly
For youth to rise like dawn
Full of furies, fraught with storms,
Straining to be gone.

What lands will wake upon your sight!
What worlds will throng your thought!
What hawkers challenge you to buy
Things never to be bought!

Exotic taste of boundlessness,
This being young and free—
Like slim ships lifting anchors up
And challenging the sea!

Our youth rides back across the years
To see you setting forth.
Proud mettle that was ours before
Renews its ancient worth.

We know the storms, we taste the wind,
We see the mountains lift
With eyes that vision past the plains
Where we set our dreams adrift.

And secrets still uncaught.
Go quarry out the granite heart
With drills of sinewed thought.

Go plunder worlds we blundered on,
Go past the marks we left.
Heaven honors aptitude
In such a splendid theft!

NO CURRENCY EXPANSION for awhile, then. That's good. When the currency is expanded you have, for instance, two dollars where you had only one before. Great, says you. But the two dollars wouldn't buy as much as the one dollar buys now. And that's a horse of an entirely different color.

THE MAIN TROUBLE with inflation is that there's no end of it—there are so many darned printing presses. And the doggoned things run all night as well as all day, and on Sundays, too.

JUDGING FROM THE PRIMARIES, the Republican candidates are going into the Cleveland convention with an even break. Which looks as though the convention was going to be a very fine battle, with the hair flying and fierce whoops of anger. But the Democratic convention—I'm trading my ticket to the Democratic convention for a ticket to the raffle for a comb-back chair at the annual meeting of the Descendants of the Dames of the American Revolution.

MAY is a lovely month and May showers bring Spring flowers and all that sort of thing, but nevertheless I'll be tickled pink when May's over; I'm that tired of looking at newspaper pictures of May queens. TO R. H. L.

Let others sing of heroes bold,
Of poets and of sages;
Of saints and sinners, new and old,
Adown the blooming ages;
Let others still chant those who toil
To make the Line Book's pages:
I hymn the lad who takes the spoil,
And runs the Line—for wages.
I do not covet fame, heigh-ho!
The sweetmeat reputation
Is starveling fare; I crave to know
A more substantial ration.
Could I, as you, but draw the kale—
Scarce known to bards and sages—
And run the Line—for wages!

WHAT ARE FISTULAE?

THERE are a number of pipes or ducts in the body that are provided for special purposes. One of these tubes [the trachea] leads downward from the throat, connects with the bronchi, and carries air to and from the lungs. Another [the esophagus or gullet] —approximately nine inches in length—dispatches food and fluids into the stomach. Shorter ducts pass saliva from the glands into the mouth. Two very important tubes are the ureters, along which urine travels to the bladder.

All in all, there are scores of ducts and tubes—a veritable system of plumbing via which the house [the body] is supplied with needed fluids [secretions], or enabled to rid itself of waste products.

Sometimes, because of disease, canals will be created that are not a part of nature's design, just as a stream at flood tide may plow a new channel. Each is called a fistula, from a Latin word meaning "a pipe," and there are many places in which these connections can be produced. Occasionally a passageway will develop between the stomach and the colon as the result of an ulcer or an injury. Now and then a gallstone will perforate through the gall bladder and bring about an opening to the outside of the body or join the gall bladder with the stomach. Not infrequently a fistula will arise from an abscess in the lung, ulcerating through to the chest wall.

One of the most common and stubborn of all these artificial canals is known as a rectal fistula. This starts somewhere in the lower portion of the bowel and appears on the skin of the buttocks as a raised, firm swelling that is painful and inflamed. The condition may first be mistaken for a boil. Sooner or later the abscess will open and drain. The beginning of the affair lies back in the rectum, where infection finds lodgment, inflammation is set up, and the pus there formed starts burrowing, seeking an outlet. The contents of the abscess are prevented from emptying into the rectum itself because inflammation has closed the initial site of the infection. From the puncture in the skin the sinus, on careful investigation, will be found to course upward to a point close to or into the rectum. After discharging for a time the external wound usually heals, only to break out again in the same or an adjacent area. The remedy lies in surgical removal of the entire tract up to the point of origin.

Fistulæ frequently develop from tuberculous foci in the bone. Pus from the spine, the hip joint, the shoulder joint, and many other locations will burrow along lines of least resistance. Sometimes it is difficult to trace the source of a pus discharging sinus, and a few years ago the injection of bismuth paste was advocated. An X-ray film was then made and the extent and the tortuous nature of these drainage canals were thus disclosed.

A distressing type of fistula is that which occurs as a result of childbirth, in which pressure causes a loss of tissue between the bladder and the birth canal. This situation has been recognized for centuries, but there appeared to be no remedy, even in surgery, until the ingenuity of J. Marion Sims, then of Montgomery, Ala., devised the silver wire suture which insured healing. It was Sims' success with this operation and his removal to New York City that inspired the founding of the Woman's hospital.

Modern surgery, however, has pointed the way to the conquest of most of these abnormal channels. In other words, good engineering on the part of surgeons has located the sources of infection and the best plan for obliteration of the ducts. In the region of the rectum, particularly, all of the infected tissue forming the walls of the fistula should not only be carefully removed but the inflammation of the lower bowel be properly attended to. If this is not done the symptoms will recur and new abscesses and canals will be formed until the patient becomes a chronic fistula victim. No value is attached to fitting the external portion of one of these "pipes" with antiseptics. As long as the infection remains the condition will continue to cause disability.

BOWLEGS.

M. A. C. writes: Is there any possible correction for bowlegs? I am 16 and very sensitive about this deformity.

REPLY.

In young children bowlegs may be corrected by manipulation and massage. However, when the disease has reached the stage of bony deformity, surgical treatment is necessary. In the hands of a good orthopedic surgeon an operation can be performed with beneficial results.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY QUENTIN POPE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand.—A blueprint for the new millennium which the Labor government here has promised to the people of New Zealand has been given by Prime Minister M. J. Savage.

"The government has before it the task of economic transformation of the country and I am sure that before the end of the year we will leave an indelible impression on the minds of the people," the prime minister said. "Since assuming office we have devoted our attention to unemployment and to the reorganizing of the financial system of the country to bring it into line with our policy of public control of credit. Our whole program depends on the success of our efforts to mold the financial system.

"Our first act will be to amend the reserve bank act, turning that institution into one owned and controled by the state. Originally the Labor party opposed the provisions in the charter of the bank allowing private capital to be invested in it. It is now our intention to buy out private shareholders at a reasonable figure."

The radical government has already ended the nonpolitical board which was set up to control railroads several years ago, transferring the control back to the minister of railways. Following this has been the re-creation of the arbitration court, or industrial commission. The court will make "awards" governing industrial conditions, hours, and wage rates, and is vested with powers equal to those of parliament.

The government also decided to take control of the giant Mortgage corporation which was ingeniously designed last year to coördinate the activities of all state lending departments and to assume control of a field which included about 75 per cent of the mortgage lending of the country.

The whole field of industry is covered by other sheaves of government bills which await introduction. Wage rates, hours of labor [including the much publicized 40 hour week], conditions of employment, training of apprentices, the lowering of the high exchange rate with which the previous government tided over its financial troubles of three years ago, new trade pacts, altered taxation, fresh employment schemes for the army of jobless, marine laws, a new plan of defense, health insurance, radio, land settlement, all these things simmer in the ministerial brain and all are due to emerge in the next few weeks.

It begins to look as if the labor leaders, covetous of the title of a radical nation, are determined to show that whatever may have occurred in other British empire countries where the Socialists have come into power, in New Zealand there is going to be a real effort to legislate the land into "socialism in our time."

PURSE SNATCHED.

Chicago, May 11.—Last Wednesday night my mother and I boarded a Jackson park express train at Randolph and Wells streets at 11:08 o'clock. It being a very warm evening, we got seats near an open window, my mother sitting on the inside. As the train started to leave 55th street a man thrust his hands through the open window and snatched her purse before she realized what was happening. He was so quick in doing so that he got away before the train was stopped and I was able to get to the platform. The elevated guard told me there have been several such purse snatchings of late, yet we were in no way notified to be careful.

I believe that there should be either a screen or grate on the windows, the same as on the street cars, not only as a protection against purse snatching but also to prevent children from leaning out of open windows.

PROPHECY.

Villa Park, Ill., May 10.—Britain's day is ending. The sun that never sets on her dominions is going down. The power that shall soon dominate the Mediterranean and Red seas is Rome, and Britain, having lost her control of those seas, will lose her domination of the oceans as a sequence. In that event Britain could not for long hold her dominions which front on the Atlantic and Pacific.

Rome will rapidly expand its borders and become an empire. Rome shall enter Palestine. Egypt shall not escape. Rome "shall have power over the treasures of gold and silver and the precious things of Egypt, and the Libyans and Ethiopians shall be at his steps"—in subjection. Libya was taken in 1911, Ethiopia in 1936. Egypt will be next to fall. Yes, Rome will make a fast rise to power, but will be smashed to smithereens. The first fall of Rome will only be an incident in comparison with its second fall. Rome's career as a nation will end forever.

LITTERED PARKS.

Chicago, May 10.—Yesterday being like summer, I looked out on the park in front of our apartment and saw, to my disappointment, papers flying around everywhere and the entire place looked so badly kept. Why do we in this country never feel it is necessary for us to try to keep our cities clean? I approve of the bathers, but no one knows the unsightliness of the park Monday morning; it is filled with hundreds of papers, paper bags and all sorts of refuse.

Isn't there something you can do about it?

MAY L. VALENTINE.

THE MASSACRE.

Chicago, May 10.—One cannot help but wonder how long we as drivers, taxpayers, fathers and mothers, and citizens are going to continue to watch the hands on the massacre chart point to a larger number of deaths and injuries each day without doing something about it.

I believe it is the duty of lawmakers of the state of Illinois to get a drivers' license law on our books that will become effective this next year. I believe that it should be patterned after the one that Indiana has, which is: That before one can purchase his plates he must have filled out and sworn to the statements contained which state that he or she is a capable person to drive an automobile. The charge is 50 cents, a small amount to pay when one considers the benefits to be gained. On the application for driver's license there should be, in addition, information pertaining to the condition of the important parts of the car, namely: Brakes, lights, steering gear and windows and windshield. There should be located in the several parts of the city stations operated by the state, in such a way that politics could not enter into the arrangements, or by certified private operators for the purpose of testing these various parts and before license plates could be purchased every car should be made to conform to the specifications considered safe for these parts and under no consideration should the owners be permitted to drive unless these conditions were met.

The police department should then be made to arrest every person driving a car after Jan. 15 without a license, and that person kept from driving until he had complied with the law. It is my opinion that if these conditions were enacted into a law we would see safer automobiles, and the lives of our children and all others would be in less danger.

REPLY TO ERIN.

Chicago, May 9.—The person who signed himself as "Erin" in the letter printed yesterday is taking a lot for granted. He intimated that the United States during the world war sold merchandise to the allies at five times its value. So what? That isn't the fault of our government. Besides I doubt the assertion. He also inferred that our country waited until the end of the war and then sided with the winners. When America entered the war, Germany was licking all Europe. England sent notes to Washington such as, "For God's sake, send help." Maybe Erin doesn't remember that one. It was the United States that enabled the allies to win, although the hypocrites take the credit.

ENFORCED RETIREMENT.

Chicago, May 10.—I think that the men of the Chicago police and fire departments should accept the enforced pension without complaint. It is very doubtful if there are very many of the retired men who could now pass the rigid examination, medically and physically, that the new applicants are required to pass. They seem to think it is very unfair that they should be compelled to accept the pension because of their age. They do not stop to consider that a good many men much younger and in better health are prohibited from taking the examinations, now in progress, because they were a few days past 28 years old on the 16th day of March, 1936. If the age limit can be set as to eligibility for the new applicant, then I would like to know one good reason why it should not be set for retirement—and enforced. Furthermore, any man who has worked until he is 65 years old at the salary the police and firemen have received should be able to retire on his pension and live without want if not in luxury. Just one more thing: will some one explain why the retirement law does not include the police of the Chicago park district and if so why is the law not enforced there?

LIABILITY FOR DEBT.

Chicago, May 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I owe a doctor $175. It was around $350, but I paid him until I got it down to that amount. The doctor involved is in the east and never said anything to me about it, so have never paid any more on the bill. 1. This was three years ago. Last year some collection agent tried to collect for this and as I am not making much and am married with three children to support, I agreed to pay him around $1 a week. He was not satisfied, and now he has turned it over to a lawyer who writes and tells me he is going to garnishee my pay if I do not make a settlement at once. 2. I have been told that a doctor cannot collect and want to know if this is true. 3. Also, if wages are garnisheed, how much can they collect from my wages?

R. W. K.

1. The Illinois limitation period on oral agreements is five years.

2. There seem to be a number of persons who hold this mistaken idea, but it has absolutely no foundation.

3. Your garnishment exemption is $20 per week.

J. T. B.

1. If the contract is in writing, ten years, and if not in writing, five years.

2. If you made payments the statute would have to run from the last such payment.

3. They can bring suit against you and the result will depend on which testimony is believed in court.

DR. WILSON QUITS CHURCH'S BOARD OF TEMPERANCE

Methodist Crusader Ends 26 Years as Secretary.

Columbus, O., May 13.—(AP)—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, founder and for 26 years crusading secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals, asked the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today to accept his retirement. The conference accepted and made him secretary emeritus.

His plea followed adoption of a change in the board's constitution by which the conference, instead of the board, will elect its executive secretary. Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, who spoke before the conference gave Dr. Wilson a noisy ovation, said Dr. Wilson himself had written parts of the change in the constitution.

Three Expected to Join Race.

Observers saw resulting from Wilson's withdrawal a three-cornered race for the position of executive secretary, with Dr. Deets Pickett of Washington, for more than 20 years a secretary of the board; Dr. Ernest Cherrington of Columbus, an executive of the Anti-Saloon league, and Dr. Edmund Kulp of St. Louis competing.

Three new bishops had been named and seated with the board of bishops as the conference ended its morning session, but the delegates failed to choose the fourth bishop on the sixth ballot, and voting continued.

Missionary Bishop Edwin F. Lee of Manila, far down in the list when balloting started, was within 20 votes of election when the seventh ballot was read, having 358 votes with 378 required for election. Dr. Harry W. McPherson of Bloomington, Ill., was second with 173 votes.

Colored Bishop Chosen.

Alexander P. Shaw, colored, of New Orleans, editor of the Southwestern Christian Advocate, was elected as the colored member of the board of bishops on the fifth ballot as a compromise candidate after the leading candidates, W. A. C. Hughes of Philadelphia and Willis J. King of Atlanta, Ga., both withdrew.

Two white bishops were elected yesterday on the fourth ballot. They were Dr. Wilbur E. Hammaker, veteran Youngstown, O., minister, and Dr. Charles W. Flint, chancellor of Syracuse, N. Y., university.

PROPOSE LAW GIVING MAYOR'S CENSORSHIP POWERS TO CITIZENS

A legislative act to revoke the theater censorship powers of Mayor Kelly and place them in the hands of a citizens' committee was proposed yesterday by the Chicago Council on Freedom from Censorship at a meeting at the Chicago Bar association.

It was decided to circulate petitions urging legislators to vote for a law that would end what sponsors of the proposed measure regard as arbitrary and political censorship of the theater.

"We want the censorship to be given to a joint committee of citizens representing the city, the theater, churches, civic clubs, and, in general, a cross section of the show-going public," said Attorney Philip R. Davis, counsel for the organization.

Members of the council said they expected to enlist support in the suburbs and throughout Chicagoland.

Three High School Bands Off for National Contest

The 270 members of three Chicago high school bands, and more than 100 parents and friends of the players, entrained at the La Salle street station yesterday for Cleveland, where the national high school band contest will open today. The bands are those of the Harrison Technical school, directed by John Earadash, which has held or shared the championship for the last four years; the Farragut school, directed by Joseph J. Grill, and the Austin school, of which Albert Gish is director.

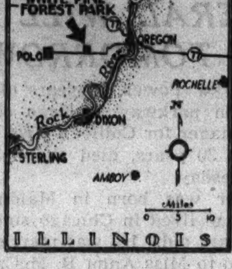
TOWERING PINES IMPRESS PARK BEAUTY CARAVAN

Tourists Also Visit Old Lincoln Homestead.

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

White Pine Forest State Park, Ill., May 13.—[Special.]—Here, in a setting of virgin pine, the caravan which is touring the parks of Illinois paused tonight, impressed by the forest's natural splendor. The pines, some of them 80 feet high, grow densely, and their interlocking branches permit little sunshine to filter through to the needle covered ground.



"Time to Be Looking Up."

When the state bought this land in 1927 it was spider webbed with roads. These immediately were obliterated and the natural plantings replaced. The residents of the countryside were indignant. They said their forest was being "ruined." How were they to drive through it?

"It's time the people got off the seat of their pants, out of the car onto the soles of their shoes and looked up," Robert Kingery, state director of public works, declared.

And the people are getting "off the seat of their pants" and are looking up. They have forgotten their earlier protests.

Illinois has only 10,000 acres of parks, but each of these preserves some natural aspect of Illinois. They include plains, rolling prairies, and canyons. All that is needed now is a representative piece of the dune country and the marshes. The latter already is being acquired in 3,200 acres alongside Grass lake in the Fox valley, where some of the marshy bogs will be reclaimed by channels, while others, famous for lotus buds, will be retained as marsh.

See Hearth of Lincoln Cabin.

The "beauty caravan," which is making this trip in observance of the first state conservation week, started out from Springfield early this morning on the third lap of its "figure 8" tour of the state, rolling north through the fertile Illinois valley to this quiet forest of pine.

Before sweeping north, however, a pause was made in Coles county, where on a low knoll, near a magnificent old lilac bush, is the hearth of the little old log cabin to which the Lincolns and their son, Abe, an awkward youth of 17, came from Indiana.

This is Lincoln Log Cabin state park, an 86 acre tract, on which the state and federal governments are cooperating to reconstruct the Lincoln homestead. Already a mile and half of old rail fence gathered up from all corners of the state is encircling part of the area. Soon, possibly by late June, the Lincoln log cabin will stand there again with its lilac in the dooryard and black locusts on all sides.

Corn again will sway in the bottom land to the rear of the house, down by the sparkling creek, while a market garden, crudely set out, will flourish in the dooryard.

"There will be a barn, too," Kingery said, "with an old farm wagon, a yoke and barrels standing around and perhaps, if we are lucky, we can keep an old hound dog around."

TRIES TO END LIFE.

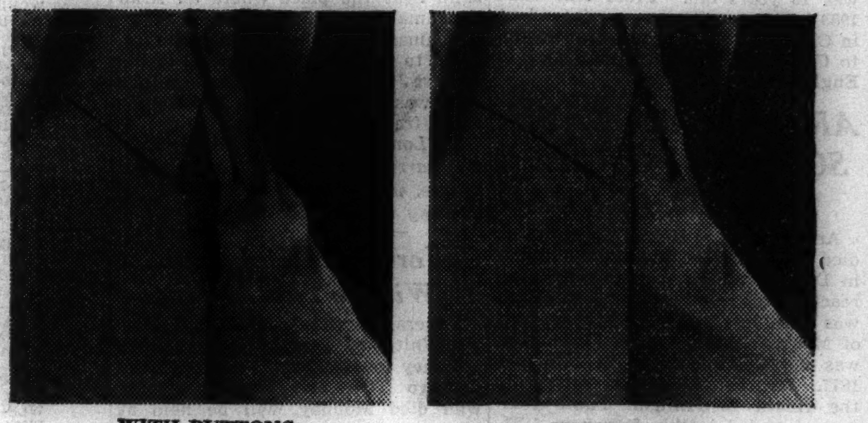
MAKE SURE THE TROUSERS ARE TAILORED WITH TALON



WITH BUTTONS
Here's how trousers look with the button closing. Presentable, perhaps, the hour they're new and freshly pressed—then gaps... wrinkles... creases... signs of shabbiness... growing steadily worse. Others see it... even though you're unconscious of it.

WITH TALON
What a difference Talon makes—thin, smooth, continuous—like a seam. Trim in any position. No wonder the foremost custom tailors sponsor it... the greatest manufacturers of men's clothing have used it in increasing quantities for over three years.

Today there is a new specification—even though a detail—that's highly essential to the complete satisfaction you are entitled to, in all clothes you buy. That specification is trousers tailored with Talon.

Already millions of men have adopted this modern improvement. These men know by experience the trimness and finish this Talon closing gives—they know the extra satisfaction derived from its convenience and security. And they are making trousers tailored with Talon a standard requirement of every suit they buy!

So rapidly is this preference growing that steps are being taken throughout the vast clothing industry to make trousers tailored with Talon available to all men. Already 474 manufacturers are licensed to use Talon... and thousands of Talon trouser fasteners are being made each day to supply the demand.

In this city, clothiers are now offering an increasing variety of suits with this modern closure. Be sure, when you buy your next suit, to ask for trousers tailored with Talon.

TALON
FASTENER INVISIBLE

The Talon trouser fastener is made especially for trousers. The slider locks so that it cannot slip down. Talon is precision-made... always dependable... always works easily. Can't catch in underclothing because of protective underflap. Makes disarray impossible... refines drape and finish. Rustless... unharmed by dry cleaning and pressing. Gives perfect service far beyond the life of a suit.

Today WELL-TAILORED TROUSERS are closed with the TALON SLIDE FASTENER

CASSELL ELECTED ASSISTANT HEAD OF CITY SCHOOLS

Raised to Former Post of Supt. Johnson.

George F. Cassell, a district superintendent of schools, was elected assistant superintendent of the Chicago public school system, in charge of high schools, by unanimous vote of the board of education yesterday. He succeeds Dr. William H. Johnson, who was elected superintendent recently.

As district superintendent Cassell served as liaison officer between the high schools and the assistant superintendent in charge of high schools. His promotion will increase his salary from $6,000 to $10,000.

University of Chicago Graduate.

Mr. Cassell is 53 years old. He was born in Chicago. He was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1908, taught at the Lewis institute, and then entered the public school system in 1912, serving as principal of several elementary and high schools.

The school board also appointed Albert Fink as special attorney to defend school tax objection suits.

Englewood Principal to Retire.

The resignation of Willis Tower, principal of Englewood High school, a teacher in the public schools since 1897, was accepted by the board, effective June 5. Mr. Tower will be 65 years old on that date and his retirement is compulsory under the age limit law.

He began teaching in country schools in northern Illinois when he was 16 years old. From 1925 until 1933 he was a district superintendent in Chicago. Then he was transferred to Calumet High school and later to Englewood.

ARTHUR M. HEATH, SON OF FORMER MAYOR, IS DEAD

Arthur Monroe Heath, 73 years old, died yesterday at his orange ranch in De Land, Fla., according to word reaching his relatives here. Mr. Heath was born in Chicago, a younger son of Monroe Heath, a Republican, who was mayor of Chicago in 1876 and 1877. Mr. Heath was secretary of the Heath & Milligan Paint company founded by his father in 1851. Six years ago Mr. Heath retired from business and moved to Florida. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jessica Jackman Heath; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Warton, and two sons, Monroe and John J.

J. J. Grace, Former Police Bertillon Expert, Dies

John J. Grace, 63 years old, 9638 Winston avenue, who retired last June after twenty-five years' service as a city policeman, died in his home yesterday. Grace was assigned to the bureau of identification and was one of the few remaining policemen who was familiar with the old Bertillon system of identification, supplanted by the finger print method. Surviving are his widow, Catherine, and six children.

Mrs. Mollie Brennan, Wife of Police Sergeant, Dies

Mrs. Mollie McIntyre Brennan, 60 years old, wife of Sergt. William Brennan of the Sheffield avenue police station, died yesterday in St. Joseph's hospital after a two day illness. Mrs. Brennan resided at 1033 Lawrence avenue. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Thomas of Canterbury church, with burial in All Saints' cemetery.

Battle Creek, Mich., May 13.—[Special.]—Lee P. Parish, 74, retired hardware dealer, died today. He was in business here for 45 years, retiring 10 years ago.

DECREE CURFEW IN JERUSALEM AS 2 MORE JEWS FALL

JERUSALEM, May 13.—(AP)—The government proclaimed a curfew for the old city of Jerusalem tonight after two more Jews were killed in clashes with Arabs. The curfew prohibits all street movements between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m.

As a result of the killings today, which raised the Jewish death toll to 22 since April 19, armed squads of police began patroling the entire area of the Jewish quarter in the old city. Nearly 700 Arab families moved from their homes near the Jewish settlement of Mishmar Haemek to avoid payment of collective fines imposed on Arabs for setting fires to Jewish crops. Only three families remain in the entire village.

A bomb was exploded in Hebron street here and the burning of crops and property were reported in various parts of the country. Police dispersed two Arab demonstrations at Jaffa near the place where an Arab watchman was killed last night. The watchman was shot because he refused to join the Arab general strike against Jewish immigration. Another Arab was stabbed after he had bought shoes from a Jewish shop.

[In London the Laborite Daily Herald carried a report that foreign agents, principally Italians, were fomenting the Palestine disorders.]

Clifford N. White Funeral Will Be This Afternoon

Funeral services for Clifford Norris White, 64 years old, examining attorney for the last 39 years for the Chicago Title and Trust company, who died Monday, will be held at 3 p. m. today from the chapel at 316 West 63d street. Burial will be in Mount Greenwood cemetery. Mr. White resided at 7148 Parnell avenue. He was a Knight Templar and past master of Normal Park lodge, No. 797, A. F. & A. M. His widow, Edna, and two sons, Harold and Kenneth, survive.

H. C. Truesdall, Toledo Trust Co. Official, Dies

Toledo, O., May 13. — [Special.] — Henry C. Truesdall, 65, vice president of the Toledo Trust company, died in his home here last night. He dropped his law practice in 1913 to become vice president of the Northern National bank and president of the Union Savings bank. When the two banks were merged with the Toledo Trust company Mr. Truesdall became first vice president.

J. H. Thurlow, Battle Creek Investment Broker, Is Dead

Battle Creek, Mich., May 13.—[Special.]—John Hale Thurlow, 55, investment broker, died today. Starting as an office boy at 16 with the old national bank, he became commercial teller before leaving in 1917 to become state bank examiner. In 1920 he established his own investment business.

JOHN A. POWER FUNERAL WILL BE TOMORROW

John Andrew Power, 74 years old, 411 Fullerton parkway, Chicago circulation manager for Collier's Weekly for the last 30 years, died suddenly at home Tuesday.

Mr. Power was born in Malone, N. Y., and had lived in Chicago since he was 6 years old. He was married 48 years ago to Miss Anna B. McCaffrey, lifelong resident of Chicago, who, with four sons and three daughters, survive him.

The daughters are Mrs. John Hogan, wife of a vice president of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company; Mrs. LeRoy F. Lang of La Grange, and Mrs. George M. Schutter of Great Neck, N. Y. The sons are John A. Jr., Raymond I., Walter, and Harry, all of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow in the Holy Name cathedral. Burial will be in All Saints' cemetery.

MOTHER DAZED WHEN TOLD OF HER TRIPLETS

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. Hugh Dolan, 35, of Long Island City, was dazed today by the realization that she had given birth to triplets last night at St. John's hospital.

"I can't understand it," she said. "Nothing like this ever happened in my family before.

"There never has been even twins in my family. The poor always have children, I guess. What I'm worrying about is how we're going to feed them."

The father is an elevator operator in the Chanin building. He makes $20 a week, and there were three children before last night's births.

Frederick Post Funeral Rites Will Be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Frederick Post, 73 years old, 5627 North Newcastle avenue, drawing material merchant who died suddenly at home Monday, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the People's church. Mr. Post was born in Hamburg, Germany, and came to Chicago as a young man. In 1886 Mr. Post was married in Holstein, Germany, to Miss Anna Bruning, who survives him. They would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on May 27. Four daughters and a son also survive.

Nelson Layman of Duquoin Dies; Ex-State's Attorney

Duquoin, Ill., May 13.—[Special.]—Former State's Attorney Nelson B. Layman, 56, of Duquoin, died today. He was widely known in the legal profession in Illinois. He attended several national Republican conventions as a delegate from the 25th congressional district and was a political associate of former Senator Charles S. Deneen. He launched a campaign for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor in the recent primary, but withdrew because of ill health.

Mrs. Godfrey Tearle, 26, Ex-Actress, Dies in England

LONDON, May 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Godfrey Tearle, 26, former actress and wife of the noted American-born actor, died from pneumonia today at her home, Busker's End, Tring, Herts. Mrs. Tearle, the former Stella Freeman, went to South Africa with her husband's company in 1932, playing in "Cynara," "Michael and Mary," and other plays. Her husband, a native of New York, was first president of the British Actors' Equity association in 1932.

Col. Cabot Ward, Former Porto Rico Official, Dies

PARIS, May 13.—(AP)—Col. Cabot Ward, 60, acting governor of Porto Rico in 1909, prominent lawyer and clubman, died today of pneumonia at his villa in Cannes. Col. Ward was one of the most prominent members of the American colony in France, where he had lived since the world war. His war services brought him many decorations.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Three leading Republicans will be on the air tonight. Herbert Hoover and Senator Borah will speak at the same hour on competing networks. From Philadelphia Mr. Hoover will discuss "A Republican Program" at 7:30 over WBBM-CBS. Senator Borah, speaking over NBC from Newark on "International Peace Plans," will have no local outlet. He may be heard over WJZ [760 k.] and possibly WLW [700 k.].

Senator Lester J. Dickinson of Iowa, speaking from W-G-N's new studios over MBS at 9:30 p. m., has for his subject "Economic Trends Under the Present Administration." He will discuss these trends from agricultural, spending, and burocratic angles.

News notes: Lynn Allen, the alert California drug clerk credited with giving authorities information that led to the capture of Kidnaper Robinson, flew to New York yesterday and last night was to tell his story on the CBS Gang Busters' program. It was through an earlier broadcast of this show on the Stoll case that Allen got the leading clews that enabled him to spot Robinson. . . . Jack Spencer, who used to play in W-G-N and NBC dramatic sketches, is back from Hollywood, where he has been impersonating crows and ostriches in Walt Disney Silly Symphonies. . . . Norm Ruvell writes from New York that Paul Whiteman has renamed him Dick Ruvell for broadcasting purposes.

Kate Smith will join the Hollywood bound caravan this summer. Plans to make a picture with Shirley Temple. . . . Ben Bernie and Fred Waring are to make appearances at the San Diego fair. . . . David Sarnoff, chairman of the board for NBC and president of RCA, is here for the RCA international convention opening at the Edgewater Beach hotel today. . . . The Keys quadruplets will be on the air at 4:30 over WMAQ today. . . . The Memorial day race at Indianapolis is to be aired over NBC with Eddie Rickenbacker and Graham McNamee at the microphones.

Starting Sunday [and for six months to come] NBC will be celebrating its tenth anniversary, which actually falls on next Nov. 15. Some 200 special programs, contests and infinite variations in ballyhoo are in store for listeners. . . . Lon Warneke and Charley Root of the Cubs never miss a Saturday evening broadcast of the WLS Barn Dance when they are in town. They started the practice last fall when they had their famed winning streak—and now, they say, they're afraid to quit going.

Xavier Cugat switches his Stevens hotel pickups from CBS to NBC beginning tonight. Eddy Duchin and Jimmy Grier will salute him at 11:30 p. m. on WMAQ. . . . Under the sponsorship of the Chicago Rhythm club, Duke Ellington is to present several jaz concerts a week from the Urban room of the Congress hotel. First one at 11 o'clock tonight will be broadcast over WENR.

Bob Hawk, who conducts "Red Hot and Low Down" on WAAF, is to direct a new type of vox pop show over W-G-N at 6:30 Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning next week. Hawk will interview people from the lobby of the Morrison hotel. . . . Another new program with a news slant is "Headlines," aired over WBBM at 2 p. m. Sundays. It's a sort of "March of Time" except that persons who make the news, instead of actors, are used. Bob Kaufman rounds up the notables and John Harrington fires the questions. . . . Enric Madriguera's orchestra has been off the air because of illness of the leader. Expected back on May 21 from New York. . . . NBC will do the Epsom Derby from England on Wednesday, May 27.

'DEVELOP MINDS,' BISHOP STEWART TELLS N. U. ALUMNI

The Rt. Rev. George Craig Stewart, Episcopal bishop of Chicago, last night called upon American universities to place less stress upon "mere knowledge" and more upon character development. He spoke before 1,000 alumni of Northwestern university at the annual candle lighting ceremony in Thorne hall on the McKinlock campus.

"Culture cannot be bought by the bucket," Bishop Stewart said. "True learning isn't measured by degrees. Scholarship is not guaranteed by years of puttering about in laboratories.

"Education is bigger than mere knowledge. It is the process whereby a human being develops his capacity for self-control and for control of his environments. It must be read in terms of character, sensibility, intellectual vigor, and the larger loyalties of men to one another and of all to goodness, and truth, and beauty."

N. J. Westerhold, Insurance Company Founder, Dies

Norman J. Westerhold, 60 years old, 1004 Sheridan road, Evanston, well known insurance man, died in the Evanston hospital yesterday after an illness of several months. LILAC BLOSSOMS WILL BRIGHTEN CITY TOMORROW

Trains, Trucks, Plane to Bring In Flowers.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Officials of Chicago's annual "share your lilacs" campaign announced last night that carefully coördinated plans are complete for the swift transportation by train, plane, truck, and automobile of lilac blossoms from suburban bushes to the bedsides of more than 15,000 hospital patients and other shut-ins in the city, beginning tomorrow morning.

Friday of this week and Tuesday of next week have been selected as lilac days by the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild, which is sponsoring the campaign jointly with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for the eighth consecutive year. Hundreds of helpers will be at their posts early tomorrow morning, gathering, receiving, and distributing lilacs to more than 100 hospitals, social settlements, and other institutions in Chicago.

Guild Committees Active.

Tomorrow lilacs will be gathered from home gardens, country clubs, estates, and parks in the suburban areas south and west of the city. Most of the blossoms will be cut this afternoon and stored in cool places for early morning delivery to steam and electric suburban railway stations. Guild committees, representing various suburban garden clubs, will be on duty at the stations to receive the blossoms and load them on the trains.

The guild officials announced that blossoms will be brought in free of charge by the railroads. Lilac growers may deliver their blossoms for shipment on any suburban train of the Illinois Central, the Aurora and Elgin, or the Galena division of the Chicago and North Western railroad, providing the blossoms reach the Chicago terminal stations not later than 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Other Lilac Trains Available.

The Rock Island road's only lilac train leaves Blue Island at 9:02 o'clock tomorrow morning. The only train carrying lilacs on the Burlington is No. 24, leaving Downers Grove at 8:12 a. m. tomorrow.

On Tuesday of next week, the second lilac day, flower growers in the suburbs north of the city are asked to deliver their blossoms early. They may load them on any North Western train on the Wisconsin and Milwaukee divisions, but the blossoms must reach the Chicago terminal not later than 10 a. m. Tuesday.

A North Shore line lilac train will leave Libertyville on the Skokie route at 8:18 a. m. and Briergate at 8:37 a. m. Tuesday. Train No. 614 of the North Shore line should be used by lilac donors near the lake. It leaves Lake Bluff at 8:26 a. m. and Lake Forest at 8:29 a. m. Tuesday.

Plane to Bring Lilacs.

Today lilacs are being gathered from back yards in Kansas City to be transported to Chicago in a plane of the Transcontinental Western Air Lines. The lilacs will be put on the plane tomorrow morning in time to arrive here before noon.

Special truckloads of lilac blossoms will be sent in tomorrow from the Tribune Experimental farms near Wheaton and Yorkville. Another load of lilacs will come in next Tuesday from the Lombard Lilac league cooperating with the Lombard Garden club.

In gathering lilacs the guild advises growers to follow these instructions: 1. Cut the blossoms on the afternoon before they are to be shipped and keep them in water overnight. 2. Leave four sets of eyes on branches of last year's growth to avoid injuring the bushes. 3. Pack the lilacs in pasteboard boxes which may be obtained at grocery stores and do not cover boxes or allow branches to extend over the edges of the boxes.

Hospitals Await Blossoms.

Officials of institutions which will receive the lilacs told yesterday of the joy the blossoms will bring to city shut-ins. Statements from some of them follow:

Miss Edna H. Nelson, Women's and Children's hospital: "The lilacs certainly will be acceptable. Many patients have no other flowers and are immensely cheered up by this annual gift."

Miss Minnie Howe, Children's Memorial hospital: "We are looking forward to lilac days as usual this year. The flowers will bring the first real touch of spring to many of our children who have spent months in hospital beds."

E. C. H. Pearson, St. Luke's hospital: "Flowers are always welcome to our ward patients. They are looking forward to lilac days."

Miss P. H. Braithwaite, Chicago Lying-In hospital: "Not only the patients but nurses and doctors enjoy this glimpse of spring in the first lilacs."

Sister Salesia, St. Anne's hospital: "We are hoping that once more all our ward patients will have lilacs."

Col. Hugh Scott, Hines Memorial hospital: "I don't know any flowers prettier than lilacs. Our veterans out here like a whiff of spring as well as anybody."

H. W. Seekman, Michael Reese hospital: "We are always happy to receive the contributions of lilac days. We know that these flowers help the patients in the wards to recover, as any stimulus on the happier side of life does."

Miss Ida Benson, Chicago Fresh Air hospital: "The lilacs were so lovely last year that they visibly brightened every patient in the hospital."

Father Vincent, Alexian Brothers hospital: "In other years we not only have placed bunches of lilacs, sent by these unknown friends who grow them, in our wards, but we have decorated our chapel with them."

Police Given Annual Inspection of Summer Uniforms

More Today

Despite the chilly weather, 450 Chicago policemen appeared in Grant park at the foot of Monroe street yesterday, clad in their summer uniforms. The men had no choice, however, for it was the annual summer inspection of their warm weather attire. Capt. John Prendergast, head of the uniformed police, and Capt. David Flynn, head of the trafic division, reviewed the men. The reviewing will continue today and tomorrow until all policemen have been inspected.

FREIGHT SHIP SHEADLE RUNS ON ISLAND ROCKS

Green Bay, Wis., May 13.—[Special.]—The freighter J. H. Sheadle, bound for Green Bay, was aground today on the rocks off Poverty Island, Lake Michigan. The ship ran aground last night during a heavy fog. Vessel and crew were said to be in no immediate danger. The Sheadle carried a deck load of 120 automobiles for Green Bay and a cargo of coal for Milwaukee. A coast guard vessel was standing by.

Revived by Firemen After Suicide Attempt

Frank Wallenberger, 27 years old, 503 Center street, was revived by firemen led by Capt. John Scanlon yesterday after he had attempted suicide in his home by inhaling gas. Wallenberger's father-in-law, Harold Mitchell, 1756 Mohawk street, found the young man unconscious and called the firemen. Wallenberger had been despondent over family troubles, Capt. Scanlon said.

VANDALS BREAK STATUES MADE BY G. G. BARNARD

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Six pieces of statuary just finished by George Grey Barnard were destroyed by vandals who broke into his powerhouse-studio, the sculptor revealed today. The ninety foot memorial, "The Rainbow Arch," product of fifteen years' work, was left untouched.

The damage was discovered by the 70 year old sculptor Saturday. Mr. Barnard, prostrated by grief, did not notify the police until today.

Until a few weeks ago the powerhouse had been open to the public. "The Rainbow Arch," started on Armistice day in 1918 and completed on Armistice day in 1933, was a new kind of war memorial which commemorated the dead but also cried for peace. It was placed on exhibition.

The studio then was closed to permit Mr. Barnard to work on new statuary. Several pieces were to become new base figures surrounding the arch.

Patrick Connaire, night watchman, discovered the rear door had been forced open. The statues had been hammered to pieces. Tar was poured over the remains.

PUSH NIGHT CLUB FIRE TRAP PROBE AFTER 4 PERISH

San Francisco, Cal., May 13.—[Special.]—Three investigations were being pressed tonight into a fire in a crowded little night club early today which started a stampede in which four persons died and twelve were injured.

Police, firemen and insurance men were searching out details of the roaring blaze that allegedly started when a night club patron tried to light a cigaret with a torch in the hands of a swaying dancer.

"This is criminal; there was no air in the place," said Police Capt. Charles Dullea, after an inspection of the low ceilinged Shamrock club at 560 Geary street in the hotel district of downtown San Francisco.

All Windows Boarded Up.

"There was only one exit and entrance at the foot of a steep stairway with an abrupt right angle turn. All the windows were boarded up.

"I am going through every night club in San Francisco and see if such conditions exist elsewhere."

A horror stricken crowd of 60 persons trampled Josephine Dickerson, 22, hat check girl, to death as it fought through smoke and flame to the one available exit.

The bodies of three other victims were found in the hall through which the crowd rushed from the second floor club to the street. They also had been trampled and their clothing was charred. They were Mrs. Elsie Marler, 32, Petaluma, Cal., whose husband had just sold his interest in the Club Shamrock; Robert Pattison, 31, Berkeley automobile salesman; and John R. Manson, 32, a University of California graduate.

Police were told by Henry Buckman, manager of the club, that the fire started when a patron reached for one of two blazing torches held in the hands of Betty Blossom, a dancer.

Flame Touches Draperies.

Buckman said the dancer accidentally touched the flames to the draperies when she suddenly lifted her arm as the patron made a motion to light his cigaret with one of the torches.

The whole flimsy interior of the place was aflame almost instantly. Sensing they were trapped in the small place, patrons and employés charged through the choking smoke for the door.

Miss Dickerson started toward the dressing room to lead out two trapped girl performers, Bartender Sydney High related. The hat check girl's body was found between her stand and the dressing room. Firemen rescued the performers, Jerry Hartley and Viola Lamonte.

Three members of the orchestra and the Chinese cook had crowded into the refrigerator. They were released from their voluntary prison by firemen.

Gordon's Gin

Famous for its LIQUEUR Quality★

Now only $1.45 IN ILLINOIS 4/5 QUART FORMERLY $1.75

For 167 years—Gordon's has been the base around which many of today's famous gin drinks have been created. The reason is—Gordon's has that important liqueur quality and a higher proof—94.4—which means greater strength, sustained flavor. That is why drinks never taste thin with Gordon's Gin. And that is why Gordon's Gin is the largest selling gin in the world.

WHY DRINKS NEVER TASTE THIN WITH GORDON'S GIN

100% NEUTRAL SPIRITS DISTILLED FROM GRAIN

LIQUEUR QUALITY★

Gordon's Gin is not, of course, a liqueur—it is not sweet—it is very dry. Gordon's attains liqueur quality through an exclusive formula—167 years old. Gordon's juniper berries are imported. Then aged over a period of years until ready to release their full, ripe, luscious flavor. Gordon's Gin is the heart of the distillate. It is crystal clear. Made with 100% grain neutral spirits. Its quality is tested every fifteen minutes. Thus with Gordon's Gin you get RICHER FLAVOR—VELVETY SMOOTHNESS—LIQUEUR QUALITY.

HIGHER PROOF—94.4

GREATER STRENGTH. Gordon's has found the higher proof, 94.4, to be the precise strength for perfect gin drinks. Gordon's pays a higher tax for this greater strength, but it means cocktails, rickeys, Tom Collins and other gin drinks that are always full-flavored! DRINKS NEVER TASTE THIN WITH GORDON'S GIN.

Good Morning!

One rainy afternoon, in the dusk of a movie theater—he kissed the wrong girl!

This kiss is the match that sets off a lively and variegated profusion of fireworks. . . .

HE? Philippe—an actor.

THE GIRL HE MEANT TO KISS: Yvonne, a married woman with whom he had been carrying on a flirtation.

THE GIRL HE DID KISS: Monique, daughter of a publisher.

Monique raises an uproar. The Purity league, a band of belligerent ladies in the theater, en masse, presumably for the purpose of getting the goods on the movie—dash into action. . . . Police, reporters, photographers tear in. . . . Rival publishers mischievously heckle Monique's papa with a world of publicity. . . . Philippe, dubbed now in the dailies as "The Monster," is fired from his theater—but hired back in a hurry when all the femmes in Paris storm the playhouse doors to secure a glimpse of the handsome kisser. . . .

And so it goes till the finale, which discovers Philippe and Monique—NO—I'm NOT agoin' to tell you!

This is the first film to be produced by the Pickford-Lasky combination—and it's a dandy! A regular champagne of a picture! Sparkling, exhilarating, provocative.

It has the sheen of perfect production and is graced by an all star cast.

Francis Lederer was the perfect choice for Philippe. There's always such a lilt to his playing! [As you know if you were fortunate enough to see him in "The Pursuit of Happiness" and "The Gay Deception."] Winning personality—and the whitest teeth you ever saw.

Ida Lupino plays Monique with charm and humor. Countess Liev De Maigret, who has a positively family resemblance to Marlene Dietrich, is "icily regular, splendidly null" as Yvonne, whose utter discretion makes her a highly unsatisfactory light o' love and is the reason why Philippe sits where he does that memorable rainy afternoon—and kisses whom he does.

Roland Young turns out a brilliant and amusing bit as a theater manager. Hugh Herbert as Philippe's friend and the stage prompter keeps you chuckling way down deep. Gosh, I love that man! He has so many funny noises and motions!

Erik Rhodes—he was the official correspondent in "The Gay Divorcee"—remember?—tickles your timbers as Monique's temperamental fiancé and—O, what's the use of going on and on—the whole caboodle's A-1, the berries, the cream in the coffee and the sugar on the cereal!

A most auspicious beginning, Miss Pickford et Mr. Lasky! If you keep on like this, you're apt to become our favorite producers!

See you soon.

Girls Dislike Boys Who Are Loud in Public

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Frequently it is hinted to girls that it might be well for them to listen in on boys' conversations when the fair sex is on the pan. We have reason to believe that it wouldn't be bad for the boys to put an ear to the keyhole and hear a few of the things that girls don't like about them.

For instance, we had this opportunity recently listening in with a feminine gossip group. One chap was getting it for his "obnoxious" [the word used] way of laughing continually. "I can't stand a chap who keeps up that perpetual laughing. He does it when one has not said anything funny. It becomes so embarrassing!"

"I can't stand X [let's call him]" said another girl. "Why DOES he become so boisterous? Give him one cocktail and he acts like an idiot. Talks loud, laughs loud, and is perfectly horrid."

However, when we see them later swinging around on the dance floor looking completely happy, we wonder if all that is said is as serious as it sounded at the time. But they do criticize, and that's the point we want to make to you young men. There are a few outstanding things they heartily dislike—boisterousness and other signs of lack of poise.

It's easy to understand. You'd hate to be embarrassed before your friends by a girl who was loud voiced and hysterical. You enjoy escorting a girl of whom you are proud. Well, girls have the same feeling about the chap with whom they are out. They want lookers-on to be fairly envious of the escort. It's a blow to their pride when the chap fails to register, which he does when he becomes boisterous and rowdy.

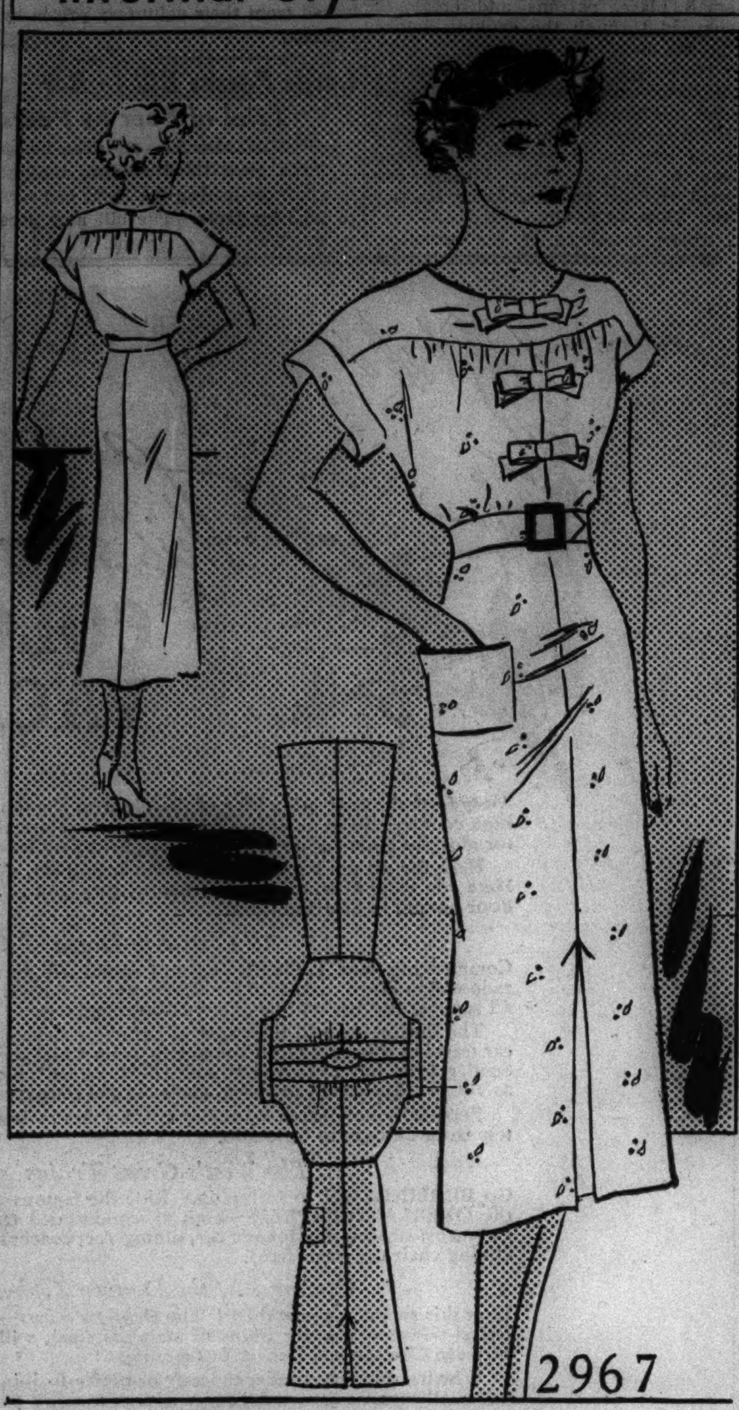
Informal Style for Summer



YOUTHFUL FROCK IN JUNIOR SIZES.

A simply cut warm weather frock with worlds of chic is illustrated today. It's ideal for both town and country. It suits innumerable occasions, because it is both well tailored and sufficiently feminine for teas, lawn parties, and matinées. It is designed throughout for cool comfort. The neckline is round, without the bulk of a collar. The yoke extends into the brief sleeves, allowing the bodice to be full. The waist is softly gathered into the yoke. Smart bows accent both yoke and bodice. The skirt has a center seam which develops into a "kick" plait built for outdoor sports. One exceedingly smart pocket adds dash to the skirt.

Cotton sheers are ideally cool and soft for this model. The tailored bows on the bodice afford excellent opportunity for color and fabric contrasts. The frock may be fashioned of sheer cotton print in delicate tones, and the bows may be of pique or grosgrain ribbon in one of the darker shades of the print or in white.

White tub silk, with the trimming in Kelly green, also would be summery, colorful, and youthful. Linens, challis prints, novelty pique, and cotton shantung weaves are other suggestions, should you decide to make this frock in a fabric other than sheers.

Style No. 2967 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 2⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with 1½ yards of 1½ inch ribbon for the bows.

Three Little Exhibits Win High Praise

Splendid Workmanship Is Found in All.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Three unusually interesting little exhibitions have opened. Erel Osborn is showing a group of recent paintings in the Allerton gallery; Gertrude Abercrombie has a fascinating exhibit in the Katharine Kuh gallery, Diana Court building, and Walker Everett is showing water colors of Chicago in the Marshall Field gallery.

Walker Everett is a young man and this is his first Chicago exhibit. He is a member of THE TRIBUNE staf, was born in Chicago, grew up in Michigan and has studied painting on both sides of the Atlantic. His work is original, fresh, clever, and solid. It is finished painting, purposeful and serious.

Such workmanship coming in a period too prone to rate negligence and nonchalance high is as though a light were lit in a dark hall—there is hope for American art today in such young hands as these.

Gertrude Abercrombie in the Kuh gallery does as much to keep the favorable beacon burning bright. She is showing a group of tiny and meticulous paintings, marvelously exact and detailed, that have all the flavor and charm of the miniature canvases of Hugo, the French modern exquisite, whose pictures are priced in three figures.

Gertrude Abercrombie has as delightful a trio of paintings as one could imagine. They are classic in their accuracy and simplicity. Another still life of hers, lent by Thornton Wilder to this show, repeats the proof of her ability. Quality, texture, craftsmanship, in this exhibit we may claim her a "find." Her larger paintings have never even suggested this genius of hers. The revelation of her power is the greatest and most delightful surprise an exhibition has given us in months.

Erel Osborn is noted for his sensitive and delicate color and his fine imagination. These are illustrated in the current Allerton show. A "Madonna and Babe" is lovely and the several flower studies are decorative and Frenchy. His heads and figure studies are varied in feeling; sometimes a Puckish humor possesses his brush and the result is amazingly novel. The battlefield scene, a modernist impression, was shown this spring in the Chicago Artists' exhibit at the Art institute.

No one should miss any of these three significant shows.

Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
A NEW KIND OF DRESSING CREATED BY KRAFT
KRAFT-PHENIX CHEESE CORP., GEN. OFFICES-CHICAGO
I THOUGHT YOU'D CHANGE YOUR MIND, JUST LIKE THE REST OF US. WE ALL LIKE MIRACLE WHIP BETTER THAN ANY DRESSING EVER MADE!
WELL OF ALL THINGS! FOR YEARS I WAS CONVINCED THAT ONLY HOMEMADE DRESSINGS DID FULL JUSTICE TO A SALAD.

Millions prefer this totally different salad dressing

Far more of the costly ingredients

The difference between fine and ordinary salad dressings is largely a difference in ingredients. In many dressings the costly ingredients are deliberately skimped. Some contain even less than the bare minimum standard that was approved by the government.

The special Miracle Whip recipe, on the other hand, calls for an abundance of these costly ingredients. Miracle Whip is a skillful cross between mayonnaise and old-fashioned boiled dressing—a wholly new type of salad dressing that millions prefer to any other kind.

Miracle Whip is very moderately priced. But it naturally costs a little more than the many so-called salad dressings made primarily to sell at a low price.

IN JUST a few short years, millions of women have had this same amazing experience. They had been convinced that nothing could approach the kind of dressing they were using. For them it had been "the one and only", whether it was homemade or some special brand they bought.

To these women Miracle Whip's marvelous flavor came as a complete surprise. They discovered that, beyond the shadow of a doubt, they liked Miracle Whip better than any other kind of dressing they had ever tasted!

When Kraft created Miracle Whip they created something totally new in salad dressings. A unique blend with a wonderfully delicious flavor. A dressing as different from ordinary commercial mixtures as night from day.

Miracle Whip contains more—far more—of the costly ingredients that make the difference between fine and ordinary salad dressings. These choice ingredients are mixed a special, more painstaking way . . . whipped to a creamy fluff in Kraft's exclusive beater. And, strictly speaking, Miracle Whip isn't a "salad dressing" at all—it's a skillful combination of old-fashioned boiled dressing and true mayonnaise!

This finer salad dressing is very reasonable in price. Yet millions of people like it better than any other dressing in the world. Taste it! You'll like it better too.

NOW you tune in at 9 P. M. to get the Kraft Music Hall! Bing Crosby, Bob Burns, Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra, and guest stars . . . every Thursday; 9 P.M.; WMAQ.

Stylish White Crepe Outfits Are Popular

BY RHEA SEEGER.

White silk crêpe ensembles are being unpacked daily, with surprises in practically every shipment. Dresses are mostly of the one-piece style with very short sleeves or a tiny shoulder cape effect. Skirts are pleated and the pleats stitched down to the kneeline. Color contrast is achieved with belts, pocket flaps, or trick lacings down the center of the chest.

The jackets are either hip length or swagger type, with fairly wide, loose sleeves and these use cuffs of contrasting color if they are of the white of the dress, or white cuffs if they are of printed crêpe.

Huge wild blazing checks in as many as four colors make some stunning jackets, slick ideas, for you can wear these bright short jacket combines over cotton or linen dresses as well as the white crêpe dress it is sold with. Solid bright colors in grass green, scarlet, old gold, and even violet contrast other dresses that use the same colors for three cornered neck scarfs, and bows or bands.

All white ensembles use chiffon ascots, scallops or pointed edgings of the white silk as trim. Some three piece white crêpe outfits feature printed silk blouse tops with short sleeves and use the printed silk for cuff facing and collar bands on the jacket. And the good old classic of white dotted dark silks is used again and again with the smartest of white suits, even to the gypsy band of dotted silk that trims the wide brimmed hat that usually completes such an outfit.

These newly arrived white suits are the kind that call for all the pastel tinted or bright colored patent lether summer sandals and sleek, smart handbags to match, the ideal cool early summer daytime ensemble for either town or country.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Edlyn Blettner, daughter of Mrs. Edward Frederick Blettner, to Henry Steele Bokhof, son of Mrs. Clayton H. Bokhof of Dixon, Ill., took place at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Mrs. Blettner's home in Kenmore avenue. The Rev. Dudley S. Stark of St. Chrysostom's church read the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few of the young couple's closest friends.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Edward Blettner, wore a classic gown of white satin and carried gardenias and lilies of the valley. A coronet of seed pearls held a tulle veil.

Mrs. John B. Mallers III. of Lake Forest, the bride's only attendant, wore turquoise organdy and carried sweetheart roses. James Hadley was best man.

After a wedding trip east, Mr. Bokhof and his bride will be at home in Cleveland, where Mr. Bokhof recently became engaged in business. His transfer out of Chicago caused the wedding to be held immediately, and without the series of pre-nutial parties that had been planned.

Arrange State Convention of Women Voters

Sessions Will Open Next Monday Noon.

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVEN before the Red Cross convention closes many of the women who have been attending it morning, noon and night since it opened on Monday are beginning to make plans for the annual convention of the Illinois League of Women Voters to be held at the Palmer house from next Monday noon to Wednesday afternoon.

With such issues as the minimum wage, unemployment insurance, reciprocal trade agreements and the coming presidential campaign slated for consideration, even the families of league members will have to take a back seat temporarily. Husbands, however, are being especially invited Tuesday evening to a dinner that is the traditional high spot of every convention.

An especially strenuous three days is in store for Mrs. Carroll H. Sudler, the convention chairman, and the corps of women who are assisting her with arrangements. Mrs. C. Frederick Childs is chairman of the committee which has planned the luncheons and dinners. Her sister, Miss Madeleine J. Newell, and Mrs. William Gold Hibbard also are on this committee.

Mrs. Charles W. Dempster heads the hospitality committee, on which Mrs. Silas H. Strawn and Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter also are serving, and Mrs. Arthur G. Bissell is chairman of the house committee, with Mrs. William B. Greenlee assisting her. Mrs. Jay F. Glidden is chairman of registrations, and Mrs. Donald Stone of information.

Mrs. Sudler has asked her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louis C. Sudler, to organize a corps of young women who will usher at the various sessions. Mrs. James W. Rogers, Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins, Mrs. J. Beach Clow, Mrs. Paget Cady, Mrs. John P. Wilson Jr., Mrs. Walter F. McLallen, Mrs. Frank Woods Jr., and Mrs. John L. Cochran are among those who will take turns as ushers.

Give Functions Today for Girl Scout Leaders.

Mrs. Clarence Day of Detroit is entertaining at luncheon today at the Homestead hotel in Evanston for the Great Lakes regional committee of the Girl Scouts, and national guests, who are gathering in Chicago for a two day conference to be held at the Palmer house tomorrow and Saturday. The Evanston Girl Scouts organization is hostess to the regional meeting.

This afternoon the Evanston organization headed by Mrs. William C. West, is giving a tea for the regional committee and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, national president of the Girl Scouts, and Mrs. Frederick Edey of the national board, who will be here for the meeting. The tea will be given in the home of Gen. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, and Mrs. Dawes will assist Mrs. West, Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Edey, and perhaps several others in receiving the guests. Several of Evanston's attractive young matrons will be pouring at the tea tables. Mrs. Hoover is to arrive this morning.

Among other out of town guests who will attend the tea this afternoon are Mrs. William M. Chester of Milwaukee, who is fourth national vice president of the Girl Scouts; Mrs. Walter Cavanaugh of Kenosha, a member of the national board, and Mrs. John G. Ralston of Dixon, Ill.

Mrs. Henry Faurot Lands Huge Tarpon.

Chicago anglers will be green with envy when they hear of the tarpon Mrs. Henry Faurot caught last Monday off the west coast of Florida, for it is the largest that has been caught in those waters for four years. It was 6 feet 4 inches long and weighed 145 pounds. News of Mrs. Faurot's luck and skill was sent to her son, Henry Faurot Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Faurot have had a house at Nokomis for several months and have spent much time fishing, for they hired a boat and a captain when they went south. They are returning to Riverside Saturday and will bring Mrs. Faurot's prize with them. It was mounted immediately and is on view at the Sarasota Chamber of Commerce now.

The tarpon season is at its best now and several Chicagoans are in the south or will be there soon to LEOPOLD STOKOWSKI once saw Reginald Gardiner do the orchestra conductor number in "Aat Home Abroad,' 'in which Gardiner, with a baton and a phonograph record, creates for the audience an entire symphony orchestra, with his beckons to imaginary brasses, his admonitions to the violins, his eyebrow control of the woodwinds.

"Mr. Gardiner,' 'the conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony said afterward, "what do you think about when you conduct Ponchielli's 'Dance of the Hours'?

"I don't think about anything," answered Gardiner promptly.

"Ah, then you are a true conductor," retored Stokowsky.

A ONE-TIME big shot who was in the $50,000 a year bracket is now working on one of the WPA projects. In better times he smoked an expensive brand of cigaret, wrapped with special paper, made for a west side tobacconist. The cigaret manufacturer, for old times sake, now gives him the special paper and he uses it to roll around his plebeian granulated.

AFTER Wallace Deuel, Chicago newspaper correspondent, home on vacation from his Berlin post, had lectured brilliantly on Germany at the council of foreign relations yesterday and competently answered a number of questions, some one inquired what was the understanding or relationship that exists between Hitler and Mussolini.

"That is a very difficult question," said Mr. Deuel. "Or rather a simple question, but difficult to answer." Our own frail thoughts wandered immediately to the little red headed nephew of a friend who was asked how he was getting along in school.

"O, it's easy. All you have to know is the answers," he replied.

THE bridge up stopped our progress north a few days ago, and we had time to observe that the man in the new streamlined automobile in the next line of cars was the Rt. Rev. APPLICANTS are being interviewed in "Strange' Interlude" style; that is, with the interviewer saying aloud his thoughts, as they reply to his questions, in a unique class at De Paul university, under the direction of Dorothy Dockstadter, director of the university placement bureau.

The first interviewer-speaker was the personnel director of an airline company. All members of the class had filled out airlines applications, and he interviewed individual students in the presence of the class, just as though interviewing them for actual positions available. His impressions of the applicant were described briefly at the close of the interview. Personnel superintendents of a bank, a mail order house, and an advertising agency also will interview the students. It is the theory of the new bureau that applicants who apply for jobs often are given excuses instead of the real reason why they were not employed, and it hopes to facilitate the success of future interviews.

Earhart Flight Round World Is Confirmed

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—[Special.]—With her newly designed "flying laboratory" rapidly nearing completion at the Union Air terminal here, Amelia Earhart, ace feminine pilot, today was planning a round the world flight under the auspices of Purdue university.

Reports that the pioneer woman pilot will attempt to fly solo around the world were confirmed at the hangars. First information came from the Lockheed aircraft factory in Burbank.

Utilizing a $50,000 Amelia Earhart fund, sponsored by the Purdue research foundation, Miss Earhart will make the trip in what is virtually an aerial testing cabinet.

A robot pilot will enable her to take many observations, and a radio range finder and two-way communication set will permit her to maintain constant contact with way ports. Other developments will be a fuel analyzer to conserve her gasoline supply, twin Pratt & Whitney Wasp motors generating 550 horse power each, and a sound proofed cockpit.

Shortly after July 1 Miss Earhart will take delivery of the plane, Lockheed officials said.

Woman Whose Hands Double in Movies Wins $375 for Bite

Hollywood, Cal., May 13.—[Special.]—Marion Martin, "hand double" for film actresses, today won a $375 judgment against Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Weeks Jr. on grounds their dog bit off the tip of an index finger during a fight with Miss Martin's dog last March.

The actress sued for $1,075, asserting she could no longer have her tapering fingers photographed in film closeups which purported to be the physical likeness of movie stars.

The Weeks' two children, 5 and 6 years of age, testified it was Miss Martin's own dog who bit her.

P.-T. A. to Form Ten Regional Groups for U. S.

Each District to Have a Vice President.

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—[Special.]—Democracy and its preservation, a topic of widespread concern these days, produced a brief but heated discussion on the floor of the fortieth convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers here, today.

The discussion revolved about the adoption of a new plan whereby the National Parent-Teachers' congress is to be divided into eight geographic regions representative of the various parts of the country and Hawaii. From each one of these regions a national vice president will be elected next spring. Including the two vice presidents who are designated as "aids to the president," will increase the number of "V. P. S." to ten.

Who shall determine the duties of these new vice presidents? Will it be the president of the national congress or the executive committee? This became the question for discussion as congress leaders took the floor to point out that the democracy of the organization would be endangered, that a dictatorship would be set up, if the national president were to determine the duties of the whole retinue of vice presidents.

"Such a plan menaces the democracy of this congress," declared Mrs. Frederick M. Hosmer of Auburn, N. Y. "If you want to elect vice presidents who are rubber stamps, all right, but if these new officers are elected, they should have a definite voice in the administration of the organization." Concurring in that opinion were Miss Charl Williams of Washington, D. C., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, also education chairman for the P.-T. A. congress, and Miss Marian Telford of New York City, chairman of safety education in the P.-T. A. organization. Mrs. C. M. Turner of Redondo Beach, Cal., president of the California Parent-Teacher association, spoke for the opposition. She advocated centralization of power in the president.

By a vote of 184 to 118, it was decided that the executive committee will determine the duties of the new vice presidents. The regional setup is expected to mark a signficant advance in the work of the parent-teacher congress. Both the rapid growth in membership, reaching a peak of 2,000,000, and the all inclusive home school program, have necessitated the regional plan, Mrs. Benjamin F. Langworthy of Winnetka, Ill., national president, pointed out today.

It is explained that plan will relieve the national president of considerable traveling, at the same time bringing the various regions into closer contact with the national organization through the new vice presidents. Mrs. Langworthy refuted fears that the congress might become a regional organization, saying "We are a united people, united we will stand."

Democracy as applied to social welfare and education was the theme of an address by Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, before the 1,400 convention delegates tonight.

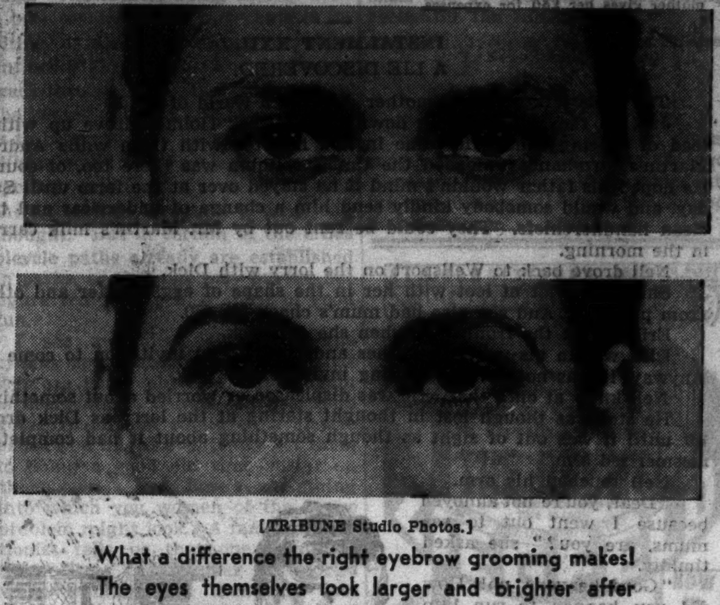
"What at the moment is the biggest contribution the schools can make to that enrichment and stabilization of life for the millions which is today the overshadowing problem of our generation?" Dr. Frank asked.

"The totalitarian state must use its schools to train 'yes men' who know how to take orders from headquarters. But in a democracy the business of the schools must be different. Democracy rests upon leadership and understanding.

"Therefore it must be the major business of the schools in a democracy to train the exceptional man for the responsibilities of leadership and to cultivate in the vast and seething majority a capacity for understanding the trends of the times and sensing the human meaning of the policies that leaders propose from time to time.

"Democracy falters only when leadership is laggard and popular understanding is darkened. I am not at all sure that the enrichment of popular understanding is even more important than the discipline of leadership."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS



[TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]

What a difference the right eyebrow grooming makes! The eyes themselves look larger and brighter after expert attention to the brow line, and the entire face assumes a vital, well groomed look. Above are some effective before and after pictures.

The more we study the fascinating business of improving faces the more we appreciate the possibilities of the eyes to make every face beautifully vital or mousily drab. The woman who doesn't study her eyes and do everything she can to make them more attractive is sound asleep at the beauty switch.

Of course health comes first. If you're below par the eyes will lack luster. But beyond that the external aids are many—and they're worth every bit of thought you can give to them.

Start with the brows. In mysterious fashion scraggly brows can make any face look dingy. We've seen it proved time and time again. We've sent many subjects for facial improvement to a woman here in town who knows how to make eyes beautiful—and we've always noticed that the difference skilful attention to the brows makes is simply tremendous. There is no hair-line plucking, you may be sure. We can't see that—and the expert shares our views.

The brows are deftly groomed instead, with the natural line improved where improvements are needed. We've known small eyes to appear much larger after this simple but expert attention with the tweezers. And the "lift" to the entire face is startling.

This same expert knows all the tricks of eye makeup, too—the kind of makeup that is a far cry from the theatrical but completely effective in its purpose to make eyes more beautiful. When brows are penciled it is not in the horizontal or arched line; rather, the pencil is applied in short strokes in an exact line with the growth of the hair. There isn't a trace of obviousness about it.

For special occasions, when you're putting on glamor with a vengeance, there are such extra trimmings as artificial lashes and trick shadows. But they're another story, and so are eyelash dyes.

The thought for the day is this: Try having your brows done by an expert if you've been wondering what's wrong with your face. You might just find that it makes all the difference.

Her Husband's Past

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Nell Martin elopes to London with Eric Cameron, an older divorced man, who had been visiting in her home town, Wellsport, ignoring her parents' pleas to marry Dick Holmes, her childhood sweetheart. On their honeymoon Nell learns Eric has two children, Meg, 17, and Robin, 15; that she must make her home with them and with Mrs. Beaumont, the mother of Hilda, his first wife. Hilda has married and lives in South America. Her children have been told she is dead. Granny tortures Nell with constant reminders of Hilda. Nell returns to Wellsport with her ready-made family, where Eric has an engineering job. Nell is home alone one afternoon when a solicitor's clerk calls, with news that Hilda's husband had died, leaving her destitute. Nell arranges to send her a weekly sum secretly. The man leaves gloves behind which granny finds and insinuates Dick Holmes had been calling on Nell. Eric discovers money missing from the housekeeping account, and thinks the man who called may have taken it. Nell tells Eric she is expecting a baby. Her mother gives her £50 for expenses.

INSTALMENT XXII.

A LIE DISCOVERED.

Just as they were sitting down to tea, Dick Holmes drove up with a load of fencing rails. He came in and had tea with them while Andrew Martin's farmhands unloaded the timber. Robin was there too, of course. He hoped his father wouldn't mind if he stayed over at the farm until Sunday, and would somebody kindly send him a change of underwear and two clean handkerchiefs. They could be sent out by Mr. Martin's milk carrier in the morning.

She took a lot of loot with her in the shape of eggs, butter and other from produce. And she also had mum's check for £50.

Dick was in his working clothes and declined an invitation to come in. Anyway, it was not a very pressing invitation.

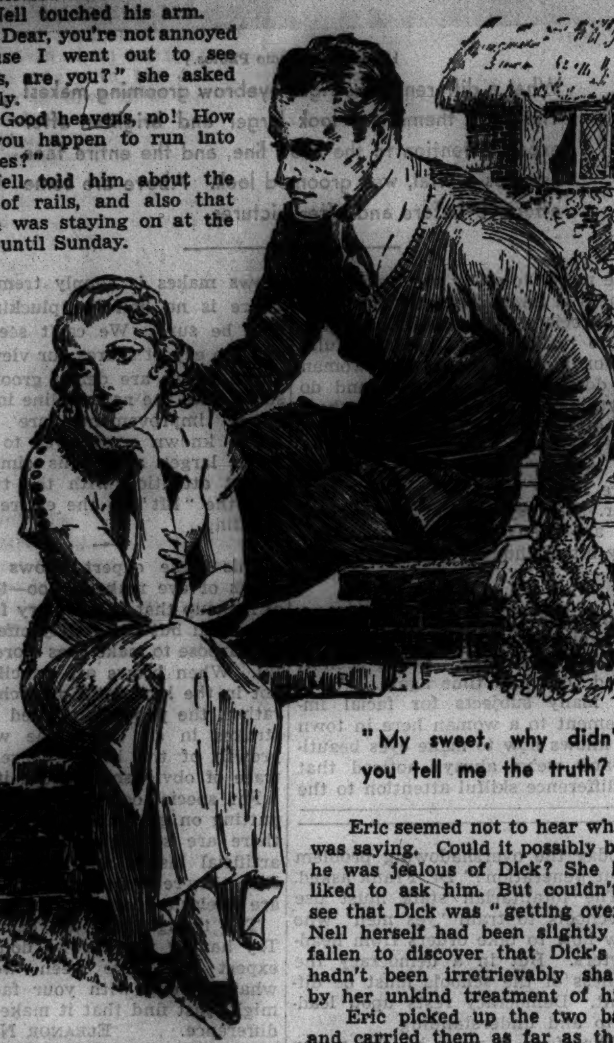
Nell knew at once that Eric was displeased or worried about something. He stood as though lost in thought staring at the lorry as Dick drove off until it was out of sight as though something about it had completely mesmerized him.

Nell touched his arm.

"Dear, you're not annoyed because I went out to see mums, are you?" she asked timidly.

"Good heavens, no! How did you happen to run into Holmes?"

Nell told him about the load of rails, and also that Robin was staying on at the farm until Sunday.



"My sweet, why didn't you tell me the truth?"

Eric seemed not to hear what she was saying. Could it possibly be that he was jealous of Dick? She hardly liked to ask him. But couldn't Eric see that Dick was "getting over it?" Nell herself had been slightly crestfallen to discover that Dick's heart hadn't been irretrievably shattered by her unkind treatment of him.

Eric picked up the two baskets and carried them as far as the side terrace, Nell walking beside him, feeling awkward because of his silence and not knowing what to say herself.

He set the baskets down on the terrace and glanced toward the sitting room windows.

"You appear to have had a successful day," he said. "Seems to me we practically live off your father and mother."

"There's so much at the farm. They can't cope with it all . . . . Eric, something's the matter. What is it? Meg, again? Or—or granny?"

"No—no. And I don't want to bother you about it really, only——"

"Please tell me, Eric. I should be much more bothered if you didn't."

"Let's sit down here, then . . . I don't suppose you found that money after all? I mean, perhaps you had put it somewhere else."

"No, I—I haven't found it."

If only she had been a little quicker and thought to say that she had found it elsewhere. That didn't occur to her until the words were out of her mouth.

"Then I feel pretty sure I was right," Eric said. "It must have been that fellow who called here yesterday. Something happened this afternoon —a sort of coincidence."

Nell experienced a tightening of the breath.

"I had to stop at the Wellsport hotel on my way back," Eric went on. "There was something I had to see Parmlee about. And a funny thing—that canvasser, or whatever he was, had been in the hotel for tea yesterday. He spoke to Parmlee and asked to be directed here. He had the address and my name and everything, but he didn't know Wellsport. He told Parmlee he was a solicitor's clerk."

"Yes, it was a very strange thing," Nell faltered.

Her face was flaming.

"As the trains run, he couldn't have been in town more than an hour and a half altogether," Eric said, with a question in his voice.

"Darling, it certainly sounds queer," Nell forced herself to say more brightly. "But I feel sure it wasn't the same man. It might have been some one who wanted to see you at your office."

"O no, and it couldn't have been anybody but that man. He left his gloves behind him at the hotel, too, and Parmlee sent the porter after him with them."

She hadn't told many lies in her life and now this one had come home to roost altogether too promptly.

Eric must know that she had lied to him. He would never be able to trust her again.

Eric put his arm around her shoulders.

"My sweet, why didn't you tell me the truth?" he said gently. "I kept hoping you would."

"I—I didn't want you to know," she whispered.

"But I can't let you shoulder any responsibilities—not all of them, anyway. It isn't good for me to be spared so much. You're always doing it, darling. Do you think I haven't noticed?"

She straightened up, staring at him a little blankly, answering his rueful smile with a questioning one of her own.

"Well—?"

"Well, Eric?"

"If you won't tell me, I'll tell you," he said. "It was one of those confounded bills that are forever dogging me, and you paid it. Now—have I guessed right?"

Amazing. How cleverly he had solved the thing for her. Her mind was in such a whirl that she could never have thought of it for herself; not under the spur of immediate necessity, at any rate.

"I hated your thinking the man stole the money," she said slowly.

"Yes, that was a bit hard on him. Was it a bill that Meg had run up for me in her own name?"

"N—no, I don't think so. Why?"

"Because Parmlee said he asked if there was a daughter, a Miss Margaret Cameron, in my family."

So Nell wasn't out of the woods yet. She must make a bold bid for it. Surely her imagination, so vivid on the subject of Hilda, could rise to this occasion which only needed a trifle more courage and daring. The inspiration, however, refused to come. She could think of nothing at all but the refuge of tears and they needed little coaxing.

"O, I do wish you'd stop nagging me!" she cried, fumbling for her handkerchief.

The door to the terrace creaked and opened. Granny trailed out very magnificent in her yellow satin teagown with its cascades of black lace, leaning heavily on her ebony stick with one hand. In the other she had a small parcel.

"The postman's just been here," she said. "He brought this for Meg. I thought mebbe she was out here."

Mrs. Beaumont stood there, her black eyes snapping with excitement. She held out the little parcel, inviting his attention.

Cleansing Lotions Effective.

M. P.: Cleansing lotions are effective if you prefer them to creams. It is well to give the face one soap and water cleansing every day. Use a bland soap, and rinse with warm, then cold water.

For Gooseflesh on Arms.

P. M.: For gooseflesh on the upper arms, you will find scrubbing the arms with soap and a bath brush most helpful. The friction stimulates the circulation, and removes the dead scales.

Saving Money Teaches Child Self-Discipline

But Hoarding Shouldn't Be Considered a Virtue.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I know that the hands of many thrifty souls were held up in horror at yesterday's article, of which the gist was: Let your child learn the value of money by spending, not saving.

That I firmly believe. I have proven it in my own family.

Yet, in saying that, I did not say that I did not believe in a child's learning to save. But I am sure many parents must have jumped at the conclusion that I did not believe in children's saving, and that I scorned all the "cunning litte banks" that are contrived for children's use.

This is quite contrary to my ideas. For a child to learn to save is a fine thing—but not just for the sake of saving. To learn to save for some purpose—to buy something that would cost five or six weeks' allowance—is an exercise in self-discipline.

It is, on a smaller scale, merely a parallel of what we grownups do. We save [if we value money truly] not just to possess a larger sum, but because immediate self-denial will make it possible for us to have money later on for something we want more than that immediate thing. It may be for security, for a house, for our children's education, for life insurance.

But I don't believe in forcing this impulse to save. Let a young child experiment with his allowance for a long time, and if in his family there is an intelligent use of money, he usually will come around to some sort of saving.

This matter of saving will be continued tomorrow.

try their luck. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linn left Sunday to spend ten days in the south and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm are leaving tomorrow for a fortnight's trip.

Stanley Fields Return from Winter Home.

The Stanley Fields have returned from their winter home at Sarasota, Fla., and are in their Lake Forest residence for the summer.

Mrs. Walker Szukalska has returned to her apartment in Lake View avenue after having spent the winter in Palm Beach.

The Joseph T. Bowens have returned to Lake Forest from their Arizona ranch and their daughter, Miss Gwendolyn, who preceded them east, has joined them on the north shore. She was with her paternal grandmother in town until her parents returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank will be back in Chicago on May 24 from a trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Mulford unavoidably have been delayed from week to week from leaving for their home in Stonington, Conn., but they expect to get away at the end of a fortnight. They purchased a house in Stonington last year and have been remodeling it.

Mrs. Mulford's brother, Russell Mott, who formerly lived in Highland Park, left yesterday for his Virginia home after spending a few days here at the Blackstone.

James R. Walkers at Stockbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ransom Walker, who spent the winter in Thomasville, Ga., now have opened their summer place, Fair Acres, at Stockbridge, Mass. They have spent their summers in the Berkshires for more than thirty years.

Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson is at Stockbridge now for the annual meeting of the Austen Riggs Foundation, of which she is a trustee. Mrs. Ryerson will return home in about a week.

William P. Sidley of Winnetka is in Williamstown for the annual May meeting of the board of trustees of Williams college, from which he was graduated in 1889.

The Prentiss Coonleys, formerly of Lake Forest, who now live at Folly farm in Great Barrington, Mass., have as their guests Sir Gordon and Lady Ley of King's Sonburne, Furze Down, Hants, England. Sir Gordon is master of foxhounds at Furze Down and is the owner of a large stock farm. The Coonleys gave a large picnic recently for their English guests.

Mrs. Eugene du Pont Visiting Her Parents.

Mrs. Eugene du Pont III., the former Margaret Chapman, has come from Delaware to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Chapman, in Lake Forest. Mr. du Pont is not coming west, for his wife is to be here a short time only. She will leave for home a week from tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Burton and Miss Babbs Burton of 1448 Lake Shore drive have taken Mrs. Thomas W. Ritchie's house on the Indian Hill club grounds for the summer. The Burtons will move to the country the end of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deere Wiman are leaving today to spend a week in their Moline home. They have taken an apartment at 900 North Michigan avenue and plan to divide their time between Chicago and Moline.

Return from Trip Around the World.

The Lanning MacFarlands and Lewis Linn McArthur, docked in New York on Monday on the Normandie after her first 1936 crossing. They arrived in Chicago on Tuesday. The trio had made a three months' trip around the world.

Noble Brandon Judah has taken the McPherson Holts' house in Lake Forest for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Holt will make their headquarters with Mr. Holt's mother, Mrs. Charles S. Holt, at her home on Green Bay road in Lake Forest. Mr. Judah's handsome house in Lake Forest is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Kieckhefer, formerly of Milwaukee.

A large number of reservations have been made at the Arts club for the luncheon which will follow the lecture on "Progress of Painting" by Baroness Hilla Rebay at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The baroness will be a guest at a luncheon Mrs. Charles H. Swift is giving for Rudolf Bauer, whose paintings are on exhibit at the club.

President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago and Mrs. Hutchins are giving a dinner at home tonight for the board of trustees of the university.

"49 BOTTLES" may seem a lot "hanging on the wall"—but 490,000 bottles to wash every day is an almost unbelievable chore. Each bottle is washed 3 times for 21 minutes and sterilized before it is clean enough for Grade A milk.

BY MARY MEADE.

"What every bride should know" about the care and feeding of a husband is a treatise which should include, according to most men, a pretty fair knowledge of successful broiling technique. Puffy, hot, broiled steaks and mixed grills are masculine food loves to which the clever miss wants to cater in the interests of true connubial bliss.

So, the new bride or bride-to-be, or any woman who wants to please a man with her cooking, must needs review these general broiling principles.

First, the meats that can be successfully broiled. Tender steaks and chops are destined for direct heat broiling or grilling, and these alone if she'd avoid disparaging references to shoe lether! The cuts should be from one to two inches thick. Fresh pork cannot be broiled well because its high fat content requires long, slow cooking to bring out the true rich flavor, and veal is likely to be dry and tasteless when cooked by broiling. So a wise cook sticks to tender beef and lamb cuts.

Second, the hows of easy and effective broiling. Begin by preheating the oven broiler to 500 or 550 degrees F. Then lay the steak or chops on the broiler rack, which is so placed that there are about three inches between the top of the meat and the heat. There's less likelihood of burning or smoking fat if the oven door is left slightly ajar. Broil the meat, without turning, until the top side is nicely browned. Searing both sides and frequent turnings have been outmoded, so only one turning is necessary.

Season the browned top of the meat and turn to finish cooking. When both sides are browned and seasoned the broiled meat is ready to be served immediately on a hot platter. And remember that delay is fatal to the goodness of a sizzling broiled steak!

Third, the time of broiling occupies the attention of the amateur cook. A steak one and a half to two inches thick, if it is to be broiled "medium rare," requires 25 to 30 minutes, total cooking time. Lamb chops one inch thick will be broiled to a turn in 10 to 15 minutes.

A mixed grill, featuring lamb chops, cheese topped potatoes, broiled tomatoes stuffed with corn, and grilled peach halves makes a highly successful dinner, and one simply prepared. The inexperienced cook may well be proud of a grilled meal such as this.

Lamb Chop Grill

[Amounts for Two]

4 loin or rib chops
2 cooked small potatoes
2 tablespoons grated cheese
2 small tomatoes
½ cup whole kernel canned corn
2 large canned peach halves
Whole cloves
Butter
Salt, pepper

Broil the lamb chops on one side, as directed above. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and turn. Around the chops arrange the halved cooked potatoes sprinkled with grated cheese, the whole tomatoes scooped out to hold the canned corn, and the peach halves stuck with the cloves. Broil until the chops have finished and the other foods are piping hot, then season with melted butter, salt, and pepper, and serve immediately.

According to CULBERTSON

A great many players adopt a technique as declarer that is comparable to the one used by the ostrich. They bury their faces in their own cards, lifting their heads only to peer at the dummy. They are either deathly afraid of their opponents or, perhaps, feel that nothing can be gained by watching the cards they play.

This is exactly opposite to the technique used by experts. An expert studies his own hand and dummy thoroughly and, having fixed the cards at least roughly in his mind, watches for the defenders' follow-suit cards and discards as keenly as though each were a separate clew to a murder mystery. The declarer in today's hand was the ostrich type.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 spade	Pass	2 dimds.
2 hearts	3 dimds.	3 hearts	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

It would have been wiser for North to have shaded honor requirements and to have opened the bidding with one heart than to have come in at the two level, where he might have been massacred. West's double of the less-than-game contract was aggressive, but not greatly to be criticized, considering his singleton of partner's bid and reasonable strength in three suits. East, despite his dislike for the double, had to trust his partner, since the double of a three bid denotes exceptional strength, inasmuch as failure to defeat the contract results in a game for the opponents.

East opened the spade king and followed with two more high rounds. On the second round West discarded the seven of clubs and, on the third round, the deuce. But declarer paid no more attention to these discards than if he had not been at the table. As a matter of fact, West's discards were bad and gave an opportunity [which was not capitalized] for the fulfilment of the contract. Possibly he hoped that his partner had a solid four card suit, and that he would be able to get rid of all his clubs so that he could ruff that suit immediately. But when dummy's ten spot became established on the fourth round, East decided to make his partner kill that good trick by a ruff. West duly ruffed, but was over-ruffed, and now declarer led a small heart to the king and another back to his ace, leaving West with only a high heart. A diamond to the ace put the lead in dummy and, at this stage, the declarer was "home" had he not made a terrible play. He led the queen of clubs! West covered with the blank king and East's ten thereby was promoted to a full trick.

The veriest novice should have realized that after West's two club discards nothing could be gained by leading the queen of clubs. Either West did not have the king or had it unguarded. In both cases a small club was the proper play and, had it been made, the doubled contract would have been fulfilled.

Metropolitan Buys Painting; Artist Can Pay Room Rent Now

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—A picture by Bob Godfrey, 25 years old, who had to ride several nights in the subway the winter before last because he did not have a place to sleep, has been bought by the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Mr. Godfrey is both unknown and comparatively untaught. Tall, thin, white faced and red haired, he works as a teacher on the WPA federal art project.

He declined to tell the price he got for it. He attended school at Grand Rapids, Mich., and the American Academy of Art at Chicago for thirteen months. He left the academy and came to New York to develop his own technique.

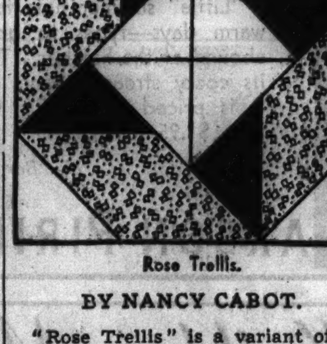
Court Upholds Adoption of Child Movie Player

Hollywood, Cal., May 13.—[Special.]—The adoption proceedings under which Patsy Doris May, 2 years old, $200 a week motion picture child player, became the daughter of her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross May, was upheld in Superior court today. The adoption had been challenged by the child's father, James Dittemore, on grounds "an atmosphere of make believe will rob her of her natural sweet simplicity." The child's mother died at Gosport, Ind., a few days after the baby's birth. The baby plays in "Our Gang" comedies.

"Rose Trellis" Quilt Variant of Windmill Design

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.



Rose Trellis.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Rose Trellis" is a variant of the familiar windmill design, but when this pieced block is used as an all-over pattern the pinwheel effect is lost and an interlaced trellis is visible across the entire coverlet. Rose, rose and white print material, and plain white form a most effective color combination to carry out the "Rose Trellis" theme. The finished quilt measures 76 by 96 inches, and is composed of 63 pieced blocks, a three inch border, and a narrow one-half inch binding around the border.

Riding Bicycle Is Delightful Way to Slenderize the Legs

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Got your bicycle costume yet? Anyway, a wide plaited skirt? You'd better be looking into this cycling sport. It's beginning to look as if all the now defunct Tom Thumb golf courses would be taken over for the new rage. The idea of being able to rent a bike for an hour for 25 cents is inviting, as a number of our bicycling enthusiasts tell me. And having a track thrown in for your money when the worst that can happen to you is to be thrown by an amateur rider. What would happen if our new cycling enthusiasts ever took over the automobile streets is a terrifying thought. But in certain of the cities bicycle paths already are established in parks, so that one may pursue her figure remodeling in a spirit of good fun.

I see a limited outlet for the cycling sport, but the mere fact that legs are being put into action again is heartening. If you can get them going round and round on a bicycle pedal, you might eventually get them to doing a good old time sprint on their own. And here's something into which you women of the figure problem might look. A famous nutritionist tells us that one burns up three times the number of calories when walking fast than one does walking slowly, which is the usual custom, if walking is done at all. So, here's your chance to hop out now and do your three-in-one attack on the fat.

It is interesting to note that the nutritionist also tells that one can burn up twice the amount of calories by walking slowly that one would burn in the same space of time devoted to sitting down. Which gives you a further idea of how you can "sprint" down the threatened weight.

I was reporting this information to an indolent acquaintance. To be funny, she said: "But how can you get up once you're comfortably seated?"

There's an answer for that, too. The incident reminded me to pass it along. It's a simple little exercise which is perfectly grand for the thighs and calves of the legs, also a perfect spur for rising out of the chair in which you should not be sitting. Another qualification this exercise may boast is teaching you to take a seat and rise from it like a really young person.

You know how older women give themselves away with that heavy, ponderous rising from and falling into a chair. Practice getting up and down. Simply place one foot ahead of the other; lift yourself, holding the upper body erect, out of the chair without aid of chair arms. Go back down into the chair ditto. Do this rise-and-sit 20 times at a stretch, and just watch how quickly you can acquire that young manner of taking a chair and rising from it. The final effect is to keep you out of the easy chair and up and away to something better for the silhouette.

Try Spry!

Double your money back
—if it isn't the best shortening you have ever used

HERE'S OUR OFFER
Get a can of Spry from your grocer. Use all of it you want. Give Spry every test in pies, cakes, biscuits, fried foods. If you don't find Spry absolutely the best shortening you've ever used, simply send your name and address to Lever Brothers Company, Cambridge, Mass., with the strip of tin that comes off the can when you open it. You will promptly receive back, without question, twice what you paid for Spry. This offer is limited to one can to a family.
TRY SPRY NOW —Offer expires May 28th

WE'RE NOT AFRAID to make this daring "Double Your Money Back" offer. For there's never been anything like Spry for baking or frying! You can tell at a glance it's better—it's so white and smooth and creamy. It's the new, purer ALL-vegetable shortening that everybody's talking about.

Spry stays sweet indefinitely right in the pantry—no need to keep cold. Spry contains NO animal fat. Never varies in quality. Won't smoke in frying—won't absorb odors. Never develops off-flavors under intense cooking heat, as some seemingly fresh shortenings do.

Women rave about it!

Perhaps your next door neighbor has been telling you about Spry. Telling you of the marvelous cooking results it gives—of pies and cakes and pastries that are a revelation of delicate lightness and flavor! Of doughnuts, fritters, croquettes and other fried foods so crisp and tender and greaseless that they are actually as easy to digest as if baked or boiled! No wonder Spry is hailed everywhere as a sensational advance in cooking science!

You simply MUST try it!

Cook with Spry just once. You'll never want to use old-fashioned cooking fats or shortenings again! How perfect it is for frying! In the clear depths of Spry, fried foods are done to a golden brown turn . . . all their flavorful goodness sealed within a tender crust of crisp delight.

Use Spry for shortening in cake, pastries, biscuits, in place of the shortening you now use. When did you ever achieve such light, uniform texture? Such delicate flavor? Truly, Spry does make a world of difference in all your baking and frying. Try it—see for yourself!

And remember, you run absolutely no risk. You get DOUBLE your money back if you're not delighted!

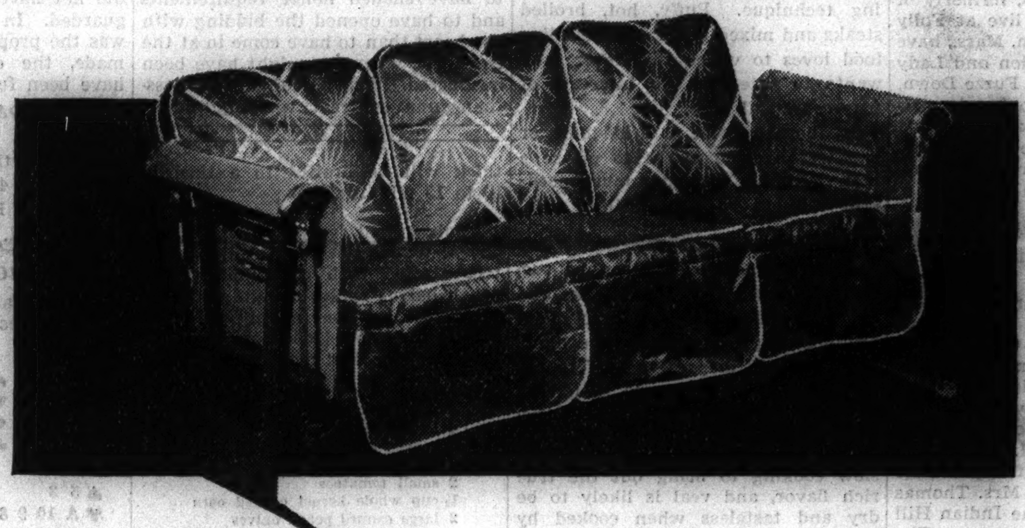
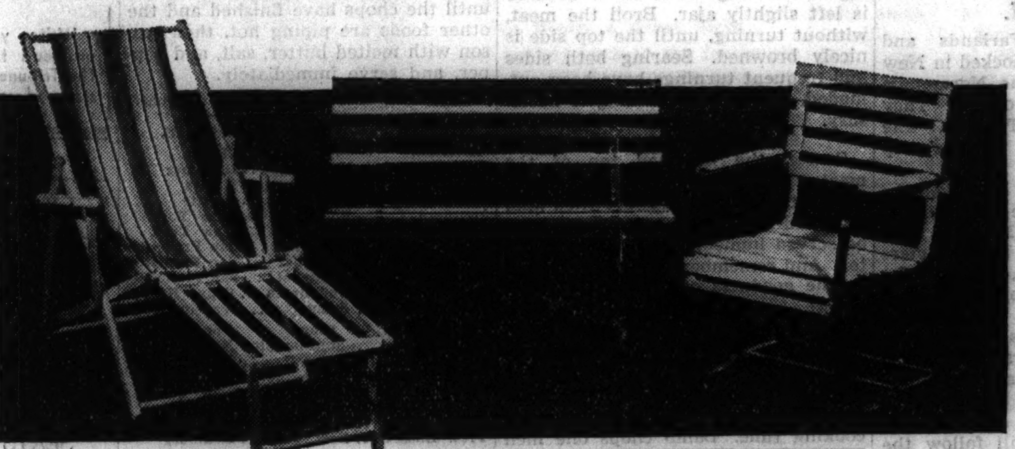
SMART COMFORT FOR SUMMER LIVING



6-Cushion, Streamline, Coil Spring Glider $19.95

As comfortable as a favorite chair. Three favorite chairs in fact, because each seat cushion is on a separate and distinct coil spring base, and we believe you know what that means in the way of comfort. Everything about it is attractive . . . the streamline design, the gay colors of the cover which is fabricoid and sensibly water-repellent. Ball-bearing construction makes it glide with the greatest of ease. And besides all that, it is easily "winter-stored" because it's collapsible.



Steamer Chair $1.49

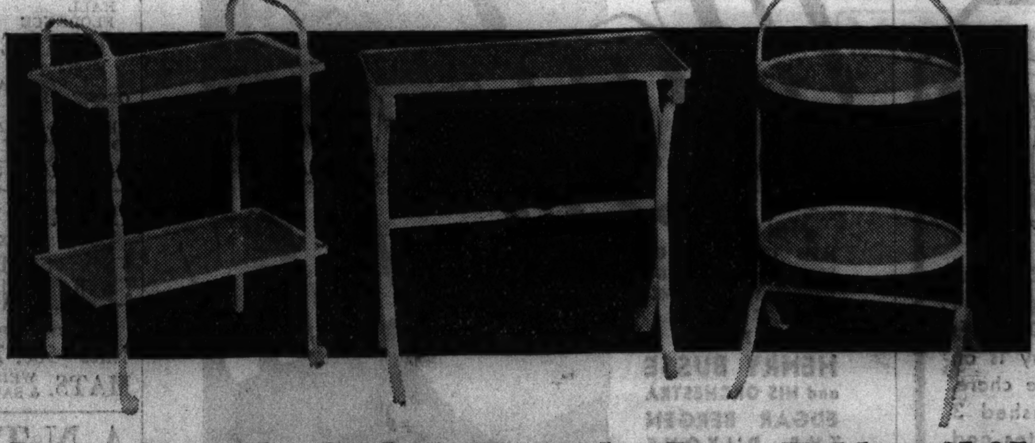
You can't really have too many of these chairs! Effectively colorful, with a removable footrest. Has four different sitting positions. Frame of hard northern maple, and collapsible.

Lawn Settee $1.95

A two-seater with a frame of metal and slats of wood. Strong, sturdy underbracing . . . heavy enough that it would take quite a wind to carry it off. Green and orange. Quantity limited.

Spring Chair $4.95

One of those grand metal chairs that "gives" with your weight and is so comfortable. Strong and sturdy black frame with orange or green wooden seat and back slats.



Very Cleverly Styled Wrought Iron Tables $1.95

We needn't, we believe, point out the many advantages of small tables for summer living quarters. Here are three styles, stunning combinations of white and color . . . the frame-work white, the tops and shelves of green or orange and removable, so they may be used also for trays.

FINK VS. CLARK: THERE'S A FIGHT WITH WALLOP

Punchers Will Clash in Golden Gloves.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

So much has been said and written about Jimmy Clark, National A. A. U. middleweight champion, about Milton Shivers' great fight with Frank Nelson, who then lost to Clark in the semi-final preliminaries of the National Golden Gloves tournament last week, that Ord Fink of Syracuse university may have been lost in the shuffle.

In case you have forgotten, Ord Fink will be Clark's opponent Wednesday night at the Chicago Stadium for the middleweight championship of America and the right to fight in the Olympic games at Berlin next August. If you have conceded Clark the title, scan Fink's record.

Fink Is Undefeated.

In two years of competition at Syracuse, including his freshman year, Fink never has been whipped. He is the Eastern Intercollegiate and National Collegiate champion. Prior to his participation here in the National Golden Gloves Fink won 16 bouts in dual meets, 13 of them by knockouts.

During the college season he fought in the 165 pound division and frequently was outweighed from eight to ten pounds. He is more at home in the A. A. U. middleweight division of 160 pounds. Coupled with his punch is speed and boxing ability which may be the basis for a victory over Clark. Fink is exceptionally fast, knows how and when to defend himself and counters with the rapidity of the crack of a whip.

He's An Honor Student.

Fink lives in West New York, N. J. He is an outstanding athlete, an honor student, recipient of the Syracuse award last year for the outstanding freshman. This fall he plans to report for varsity football and because of his high jumping ability, as well as knowledge of how to use his hands, he probably will be placed at one end of the scrimmage line.

Coach Roy Simmons, who taught Fink how to use his left hand, and thus made a natural slugger into a dangerous boxer, believes his charge will whip Clark. He doesn't predict a knockout, and few would after seeing how often and how hard Frank Nelson hit Clark and couldn't put him on the floor, but he does believe that Fink can trade punches, if necessary, and he is certain that Fink can outbox the Jamestown, N. Y. champion.

Now about this 21 year old colored boy who won the National A. A. U. championship by knocking out five opponents in the first round of the meet at Cleveland last month. Clark can punch. He proved that by dropping his opponent in the quarter-final of the tournament at the International amphitheater.

Can Clark Knock Out Fink?

Perhaps that knockout blow won him his next fight against Nelson, for he did not exert himself as much as Nelson did in beating Shivers. This reserve strength proved of utmost value in the three round semifinal for he had the pep to punch out victory in the closing minute.

Clark also won a National A. A. U. championship in 1935 at St. Louis, competing in the welterweight class. In that tournament he won four of his five matches by knockouts. If additional evidence of Clark's phenomenal ability is needed, we offer his record in winning the invitation tournament at Paris, France, last September. The United States sent four boys to the meet. Clark won the welterweight title and Louis Nova, of San Francisco, took the heavyweight championship.

Clark has been boxing three years. He was born in Norfolk, Va., and was graduated from the Titusville, Pa., high school. His ambition is to attend college rather than turn to professional boxing.

Eight championships will be decided Wednesday night. None offers more thrills than this scrap between the only university champion from the national collegiate meet who survived to the finals and the best middleweight of the A. A. U. Knockout or no knockout, the ever-present possibility will lend excitement to the battle.

Fight to Be Broadcast.

Three broadcasting chains, the Mutual, National, and Columbia will carry reports of the bouts to America. Four news reel companies will have men at ringside and there will be a score of newspaper reporters sending their word pictures of the bouts.

Hundreds of excellent seats remain. If you wish to see the climax of 1936 Golden Gloves, to see the boys selected to represent this nation at Berlin, get your tickets today. They are on sale at the Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of Tribune Tower. Ticket orders still will be accepted by mail. Make your check payable to THE TRIBUNE and send it to the Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Telephone orders may be made by calling Superior 0100 and asking for "Golden Gloves Tickets."

Prices for the championships are 55 cents, $1.10, $1.65, $2.20, and $3.30.

SUIT OVER DATES AT SPORTSMAN'S PARK DISMISSED

Judge David Finds No Evidence of Fraud.

After trying vainly to effect a friendly settlement, Judge Joseph B. David in the Superior court yesterday dismissed the suit of the National Jocky club against the Illinois racing commission, in which the club sought to have its meeting lengthened from eighteen to twenty-seven days. The club owns Sportsman's park, where the commission has decided to permit racing from Oct. 12 to 30. The club was allotted twenty-two racing days last year.

The club sued to force the commission to change the allotment on the ground it had exceeded its jurisdiction and arbitrarily refused to reconsider the schedule.

Yesterday's hearing was marked by several outbursts by Judge David over the question of legalized horse race betting, and by charges that the racing commission was influenced by politics.

Other Tracks Represented.

In dismissing the case Judge David ruled that Attorney S. K. Markman, lawyer for the plaintif, had failed to prove that the commission was guilty of "corrupt practices and outright fraud." He held the commission was within its rights in ruling arbitrarily against the club.

The charge of politics came when Attorney Markman pointed out that the Washington Park race track had not been allotted a season embracing Labor day until after the track was bought last year by a group headed by John P. Harding, restaurant man and prominent Democrat.

At this point Attorney Bruce A. Campbell, counsel for the owners of the Lincoln Fields race course, told Judge David his clients had held the Labor day allotment for several years, but that now the day is included in the Washington Park allotment.

Foster Defends Action.

"Why was Labor day taken from Lincoln Fields?" Judge David demanded of George H. Foster, secretary of the racing commission.

"Because Washington Park has three times its seating capacity," Foster replied. "The commission is not amenable to politics. Its acts have been for the accommodation of the $2 betters."

"More people stand than sit at the races," Judge David said. "Is that accommodating the public?" He continued without waiting for an answer. "Horse races are nothing but gambling. The legislature should never have empowered the courts to pass on this question of gambling."

The judge declared that city officials and other politicians are not charged admission to the race tracks.

"That's for gambling purposes," Judge David said. "Why don't they pay the public to come in? Only this morning I got these two grandstand season tickets for the Aurora track. I don't want these bribes."

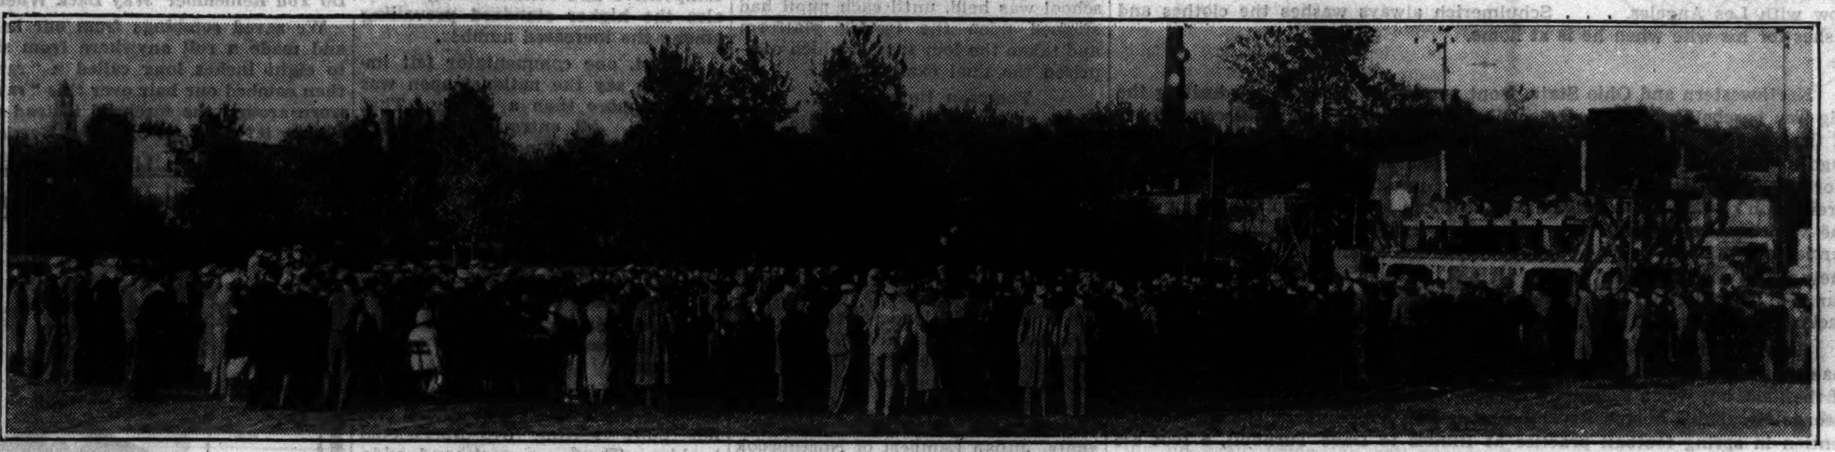
He flung the passes out into the courtroom, where spectators engaged in a lively scramble for them.

Don't Gamble! Buy Now!

Take no chances on being disappointed. Order your tickets today for the finals of the National Golden Gloves tournament at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, May 20. The Tribune offers you the greatest boxing show in amateur history. The rest is up to you. Winners of the May 20 bouts will fight for Uncle Sam in the Olympic games in Berlin next August.

Choice seats are still available at 55 cents, $1.10, $1.65, $2.20, and $3.30. All seats are reserved. Tickets are available at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn, and in the Tribune Tower from 9 a. m. until 11 p. m. You may order by telephone. Call Superior 0100 and ask for "Golden Gloves tickets." Address mail orders to Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

COMMENCEMENT NIGHT AT THE GOLF SCHOOL



Part of the crowd of 5,000 that witnessed the commencement exercises for the Tribune's fourth annual free golf school at Mid-City last night, where the four prize winning pupils were chosen by the leading tournament professionals in America. The record enrollment of 34,166 for this year's school, in which 52,000 free lessons were given, brought the aggregate enrollment for the four years to 81,000, setting a world's record for mass instruction. Exhibitions by some of the game's greatest players climaxed the judging of the 44 finalists, from which four prize winners were selected.

Grimm Plans Trade to Put Pep Into Cubs

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 13.—Instead of another battle with the Giants as scheduled the Cubs drew a blank today because of rain. The resultant leisure was just what they wanted.

They not only wanted it but needed it. After four straight defeats the champions are back on their heels, worrying about the promised bonuses which so far none has earned, and wondering just what happened to the skill that enabled them to stage a 21 game winning streak good for a world series entry last fall.

In their last four games the Cubs, after finishing with such parts of the league as appear to have a minor league touch, haven't had a spark of fight. That was their big asset during the last half of the 1935 season. In their three futile battles with the Cardinals at Chicago they were clearly shaded on aggressiveness alone. Yesterday they were the same dead outfit, and when a Cub team, no matter how weak, can't arouse itself to battle its traditional New York enemies, it is a serious symptom.

Grimm Hopes to Make Trade.

Knowing that something should be done to revive the patient, Manager Charley Grimm, before starting on a useless trip to the Polo grounds this noon, said he would make the attempt to find a restorative.

The Cub boss has his own ideas as to which of his athletes he'll hang up as bait and this is where a hitch probably will occur. He insists that he will consider dispensing with only two of his present ensemble. One is Tuck Stainback, the bench warming outfielder, and the other Gene Lillard, who was purchased last fall from the Los Angeles club.

Dodgers Can Use Outfielder.

Just where Grimm plans on doing his shopping he didn't say, but he'll probably concentrate on the Brooklyn and Philadelphia clubs. The funny Dodgers have pitchers to spare and crave a hitting outfielder. What Manager Casey Stengel thinks of Stainback isn't known and whether he could use Lillard is doubtful.

Grimm's idea in talking to the Phillies would be to coax from them the services of Pitcher Curt Davis. Grimm has tried this before but met with no luck because the Chicago club displayed no desire to dig deep into the pocketbook. There is even a chance that Grimm might try to get back First Baseman Dolph Camilli from the Phils or take one of their outfielders

The delay caused by rain today meant an extra twenty-four hours of rest for Lon Warneke who will be the carry-over starter tomorrow. But the same rain provided a rest of similar length for Carl Hubbell, who will oppose Warneke.

Brooklyn Boxer Stabbed in Back; Youth Is Held

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Anthony Maucheri, 23, Brooklyn, a welterweight boxer, was stabbed in the back and right lung today when he insisted on singing in a bar and grill. Joseph Marioni, 18, who refused to give his home address, was held as the assailant.

The winners, ladies and gentlemen! These pupils were judged to have the best form among the 34,166 students in the school. They are (left to right): Bruno Dziak, 2116 North Kostner avenue, representing Big Oaks in the men's division; Irene McIntosh, 5438 Glenwood avenue, Mid-City, girls' division; Joe Moore, 6927 Perry avenue, Jackson park, boys' division, and Mrs. Casper Epstein, 5110 Kenwood avenue, Mid-City, women's division.

Umps' Big Feet Dig Up Field; Sox Game Off

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Comiskey park groundminders yesterday worked all day under a bright sun erasing the footprints of Umpires Ormsby, McGowan, and Quinn from the new diamond. The job was such a severe one that the second scheduled game between the White Sox and the Washington Senators was postponed.

Though calling off a ball game on account of umpires' footprints is a rather unusual procedure, the circumstances yesterday seemed normal enough, since the trouble grew out of the fact that the field was soft on account of Mr. Comiskey's biennial spring plowing, said plowing being a phase of a sly means which the Sox owner has to focus his outfield walls according to the range of the fellows on his roster.

It's Really a Great Sight.

But getting back to the footprints. To those who have never seen umpires judging the degree of wetness of a baseball diamond, it should be explained that umpires never trust their eyes in such appraisals. They use the foot method exclusively, starting with the umpire who has the largest feet and tapering off with the one who possesses the tiniest dogs.

After the downpour in the third inning of Tuesday's game, Red Ormsby was the first to wade around the diamond. It was found that he was rather buoyant and practically glided across the ooze. Umpires McGowan and Quinn, however, sank to their shin bones and by the time they had waded for 30 minutes the nice new diamond was in terrible shape. Hence yesterday's postponement on a fair day.

Stratton vs. Russell.

The delay was in no sense a baseball stratagem, for the White Sox are enjoying perfect health, possess a .500 rating in the American league standing, and have won four straight games, including two out of two with the Senators. They have won six of their last seven games, starting with a victory over the New York Yankees, who come to town tomorrow for a two game series.

Managers Dykes and Harris last night decided on hold over policies for their pitching assignments. Monty Stratton will pitch today for the Sox and Jack Russell will go for the visitors.

Dykes also announced that Pitcher Ed Durham, out for two years with a damaged arm, has been released on option to Dallas. Catcher Muddy Ruel also was taken off the active players' list and appointed a coach.

GUS HENDERSON NAMED PRO COACH AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—(AP)—Elmer [Gloomy Gus] Henderson was named today to coach Los Angeles' entry in the National Professional Football league next fall. The county council of the American Legion, sponsor of the team, anounced the appointment.

5,000 SEE PROS JUDGE FORM OF 44 FINALISTS

Little and Thomson Give Exhibition.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The fourth annual free golf school of THE TRIBUNE came to a happy, if somewhat chilly, conclusion at the Mid-City Golf club last night, when a jury of the game's leading tournament professionals named the four prize students. These were selected from among the honor students in the original enrollment of 34,166 which had taken the regular three week course of lessons on the courses of the Chicago park district and the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association.

A graduation throng of more than 5,000 relatives and friends of the 44 contestants lined the space before Mid-City's lighted driving range for the commencement exercises of the largest system of free group instruction in the history of the game, one which has taught the fundamentals of golf to 81,000 men, women, and children during its four year existence.

The Winners!

The winners in the four classes, chosen on the basis of form by the jury of playing stars, who included Lawson Little and Jimmy Thomson and several Chicago lights, were:

Men—Bruno Dziak, 2116 North Kostner avenue, Big Oaks.

Boys—Joe Moore, 6927 Perry avenue, Jackson park.

Girls—Irene McIntosh, 5438 Glenwood, Mid-City.

The voting in the men's division was the closest in the history of the school. Dziak, a 20 year old machinist, and Joseph Conard Jr., 5150 Talman avenue, representing Evergreen, were tied twice after the judges had cast their ballots, but Dziak was finally given the decision on the third test.

Mrs. Epstein polled the highest total of the night, 656 points. Miss McIntosh, 17 years old, is a stenographer with an insurance company, and Joe Moore, winner in the boys' class, is a seventh grade student at St. Bernard's parochial school.

Memberships for Youngsters.

All four winners received a bag and a set of clubs awarded by THE TRIBUNE, while Miss McIntosh and young Moore received, in addition, a playing membership at the Olympia Fields Country club, presented by Jerry Glynn, professional in charge at the world's largest golf plant.

Winners of second and third places were given a dozen P. G. A. balls by THE TRIBUNE. These included Conard and Leonard Arnold of 1357 Glenwood avenue, Deerfield, from Vernon, among the men; Mrs. Lloyd Lundberg, 1417 Elmdale avenue, from Big Oaks, and Mary Doyle, 6432 South Rockwell avenue, from Evergreen, among the women; William Zinowich, 6540 Gunnison avenue, from Big Oaks, and Park Brown, 860 Vernon avenue, from Techny Fields, among the boys, and Gloria Olson, 5419 Bernard avenue, from Elmgate, and Doris Maxwell, 2842 Sheridan road, from Diversey, among the girls.

Walsh Takes Charge.

Despite the raw, chilly weather, the show was run off smoothly, the entire demonstration requiring only 90 minutes. Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley acted as master of ceremonies, working with a public address system supplied by THE TRIBUNE. Walsh introduced each of the professionals on the jury, which included Little, only amateur ever to win the British and American titles two years in succession, and who made a special trip from Hartford, Conn., to attend; Jimmy Thomson, the game's longest driver; Tommy Armour of Medinah; Harry Cooper of Glen Oak; Horton Smith of Oak Park; Johnny Revolta of Evanston; Tony Penna of Itasca; Dick Metz of the Mill Road Farm

PARK DISTRICT OPENS FOUR GOLF COURSES TODAY

Marquette Links Will Be Ready Next Month.

The Chicago park district will open officially four of its five golf courses today, according to an announcement by Harry O'Hare, supervisor of golf and beaches. They are the 18 hole course at Jackson park and the nine hole layouts at Columbus, Waveland, and Diversey. The fifth course, nine holes at Marquette park, will not be open until late in June, due to construction work. The rate at Jackson will be 40 cents for 18 holes, while Waveland will have a 25 cent fee for its nine holes, and Columbus and Diversey 20 cents each. Jackson, Diversey and Columbus were classrooms during the recent TRIBUNE golf school.

Two tournaments, the first one day handicap event of the Chicago District Golf association at the Glen View club, and Midlothian's press party, head the local golf schedule today. The handicap event is expected to draw a number of the district's better amateurs, while sports editors, reporters and photographers will be paired with their hosts at Midlothian after a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. Dinner will be served in the evening.

The coming week-end will be the busiest the Chicago district has seen thus far, with three invitational events scheduled for Saturday, followed by two exhibitions on Sunday, and the second annual golf party of the Illinois P. G. A. at the Morrison hotel on Monday night.

Butterfield, Westward-Ho, and Olympia Fields all anticipate record turnouts for their opening events Saturday. Olympia will open a membership and booster party which will continue through Sunday. Butterfield, where Tom Grace is chairman of the sports and pastimes committee and Andy Anderson is manager, always has been successful with its spring tourney, and Caryl Dempsey, president of Westward-Ho, sees this year's Bang-Up day at the west side club as the biggest in its history.

The exhibition matches on Sunday are two of the finest ever presented from the standpoint of playing talent. At Oak Park, Lawson Little and Jimmy Thomson will pair up against the brothers Smith, Horton, and Ren of the home club. Admission will be $1, and all amateur photographers are invited to bring their cameras and make as many shots as the four stars hit. The match will begin at 2:30.

The other match, at the Itasca Country club at 3 p. m., will bring together Harry Cooper of Glen Oak, accepted by brother pros as one of the game's ablest stylists, and the three leaders in the Chicago district trials for the national open last Monday.

Paired with Harry will be Johnny Revolta of Evanston, the national professional and western open champion who led the qualifying round for the open. Their opponents will be Tommy Armour of Medinah and one of the Silver Scot's protégés—Tony Penna, the little Italian who already has scored in his new job as pro at Itasca.

The golf party of the Illinois P.G.A. on Monday, a success in its inaugural last year, moves downtown this year to the Terrace room of the Morrison hotel. Officials of the United States, Western, Western Women's, Chicago District, Chicago Women's District, and Chicago Daily Fee associations will be in attendance again, as will be a number of tournament stars, including Lawson Little and Jimmy Thomson. Lew Waldron of Mohawk, and Bob Elson of W-G-N, will share the task of master of ceremonies, and will be assisted by a number of W-G-N acts, among them Tom, Dick and Harry and Carl Hoefle; Paul Small, and Henry Hoople.

The women's golf committee of the Olympia Fields Country club will hold a luncheon at the clubhouse on Saturday at 1:00 o'clock. Mrs. Harold S. Sines is chairman.

Bob o' Link will hold its first tournament of the 1936 season next Wednesday for the purpose of acquainting new members with the old. Play will be at 18 holes, with prizes awarded at a dinner in the evening. Nick Kearns, chairman of the tournament committee, announces the following dates for the remainder of the Bob O' Link schedule: June 23-24—Hullabaloo day; July 21—Civil War day; Aug. 18—Midsummer tourney, and Sept. 29—Harvest Home.

U. S. ARMY BOXERS BEATEN, 5 TO 4, BY CHICAGO SQUAD

A team of Chicago amateur boxers defeated the champions of the Hawaiian division of the United States army, 5 bouts to 4, at the 124th Field Artillery armory last night. Jackie Reed, Chicago middleweight, stopped Corp. Ezra Shaw in the fourth round of one of the two five round bouts on the program. The results follow:

Al Baker, Chicago, beat Private Buel Shockley, Hawaii [3]; Private James Joseph, Hawaii, beat Orville Eighmey, Chicago [3]; Sergt. Alfred Rogacki, Hawaii, beat Donald Sandham, Chicago [3]; Sergt. Louis Angelucci, Hawaii, beat Louis Guadardo, Chicago [3]; Tony Musto, Chicago, beat Private Virgil McDonald, Hawaii [3]; John Helstrom, Chicago, beat Paul Benelime, Hawaii [3]; Eddie Helstrom, Chicago, beat Sergt. Jack Maguire, Hawaii [3]; Jackie Reed, Chicago, stopped Corp. Ezra Shaw, Hawaii [4]; Private Ernest Farmer, Hawaii, beat Mike Krismus, Chicago [5].

Kentucky Tennis Team Defeats Notre Dame, 7-2

Notre Dame, Ind., May 13.—[Special.]—Kentucky defeated Notre Dame in tennis here today, 7 to 2, winning five of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles contests. Capt. Joe Waldron, Notre Dame number one man, was the only Irish victor.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MISS SONJA HENIE was such a big attraction in Los Angeles last week that she will give two more shows. . . . The Olympic skating champion packed the arena in her first two appearances. . . . Hollywood cinema stars were among her most ardent admirers. . . . The White Sox and Cubs are planning to tour together on the way home from California next spring. . . . In their first fifteen home games the Boston Red Sox played to 200,000 fans. . . . Joe Engel, a master of ballyhoo, announced he would donate a house and lot to a lucky fan at a recent night game in Chattanooga and drew 24,639, an all time record for the Southern association. . . . The University of Chicago chapter of Alpha Delta Phi claims the fastest fraternity one mile relay team in the country. . . . Against Western State Teachers last Saturday four Alpha Delts, Dick Wasem, John Ballenger, Jack Webster, and Ray Ellinwood, covered the mile in 3 minutes and 26 seconds. . . . Lon Warneke of the Cubs may be an expert knitter, but he has nothing on Wes Schulmerich, formerly of the Boston Bees and Phillies, now with Los Angeles. . . . Schulmerich always washes the clothes and dishes for his wife when he is at home. . . .

Northwestern and Ohio State, front runners in football, are trailing the Big Ten baseball race. . . . Oscar W. Worthwine, national vice commander of the American Legion, was a football letter man at the University of Chicago in 1907 and 1908. . . . Bob Swisher and Bob Carter, pole vaulters on Northwestern's track team, are eligible for medals from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. . . . When loosening up the shavings in the vaulting pit recently they found four newly born rabbits. . . . They carried the bunnies to a new home outside the stadium. . . . The next day they again went to work on the pit and to their surprise there were the bunnies nestled amid the shavings, mother bunny having carried them back during the night. . . . This has been going on for several days. . . .

Riley Smith, Alabama's All-American quarter back last fall, failed to make the school's baseball club. . . . He hammered fast balls to all corners of the field, but was a sucker for curves. . . . He will play pro football with George Marshall's Boston Redskins. . . . Bob Zuppke gave considerable attention in spring football practice at Illinois to Dave Turnbull, 6 foot 4½ inch sophomore, who weighs 190 pounds. . . . The Irish will be pleased to learn that a half back named McCarthy will be heard from at Notre Dame next fall. . . . Abe Lyman, the bandmaster, thinks Joe Louis would have been easy for Jack Dempsey. . . . Lyman leaves the loop next week and will return by easy stages to New York, where he will devote all his time to broadcasting. . . . The Detroit Tigers donate bats, balls, and other equipment to the high school baseball league in the city. . . .

President William Harridge of the American league and President Ford Frick of the National are in Boston today going over arrangements for the fourth annual all-star interleague game. . . . This department, which has more than passing interest in the enterprise, has suggested that the leagues not only revive the fans' poll, but that they require the managers to abide by the wishes of the fans as far as the starting lineup is concerned. . . . If the public wants Joe Bloke to play third base for the American league, he should be permitted to play, provided he is physically fit the day of the game, regardless of the opinion of the manager. . . . This contest is baseball's concession to the fans. . . . If their wishes are not respected, the game is meaningless. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—A crowd of more than 65,000 was expected to watch seventeen thoroughbreds start in the fifty-second running of the Kentucky Derby. . . . The three horse Bradley entry ruled the favorite. . . . Bud Taylor defeated Tommy Ryan in ten rounds at Louisville. . . . Young Stribling pounded out a ten round decision over Johnny Risko in New York. . . . Brooklyn and Cincinnati were tied for first place in the National league.

Braddock Helps Louis Celebrate 22d Birthday

Lakewood, N. J., May 13.—[Special.]—Joe Louis, heavyweight contender and former Chicago Golden Gloves champion, celebrated his 22d birthday today in the presence of 60 guests which included James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion whom Louis hopes to meet for the title before the year is out.

The celebration served to open formally Louis' training camp here, where he will condition himself for his fight with Max Schmeling June 18 at the Yankee stadium. He cut a huge birthday cake and received a gold mounted belt from Nat Fleischer, editor of a boxing magazine, for doing most for the sport during the last year.

The birthday marked the end of the greatest year in the young boxer's career. A year ago at this time he had been matched with Primo Carnera, but the fight world was still waiting to see what he could do. Since then he has become the outstanding challenger for the heavyweight championship.

While Louis was cutting the birthday cake, it was disclosed he has grown an inch in the last year and now measures 6 feet, 1¼ inches and weighs 216 pounds, the heaviest he has ever been. But he does not intend to weigh more than 204 pounds for the Schmeling fight.

Louis, who has been indulging in a leisurely outdoor life at Lafayetteville, N. Y., will now get down to serious training. Six sparring partners have been engaged to report Saturday.

NORTHWESTERN GOLFERS DEFEAT CARLETON, 17-1

Northwestern university's golf team defeated Carleton college, 17 to 1, at the Kildeer Country club yesterday. The Wildcats swept the singles matches and yielded but one point in the two doubles matches. Jim Marek, Northwestern sophomore, turned in the best medal score of the day, a 35—38—73. Summaries:

DOUBLES—Marek and McKenzie [N.] defeated Harper and Posselt [C.], 2 to 1. Kostelecky and Graham [N.] defeated Leonard and Sigmond [C.], 3 to 0.

SINGLES—Wagner [N.] defeated Leonard [C.], 3 to 0. Saielli [N.] defeated Harper [C.], 3 o 0. Marke [N.] defeated Posselt [C.], 3 to 0. Jackson [N.] defeated Sigmond [C.], 3 o 0.

Art Shires to Play with Mills Semi-Pro Team

Arthur [The Great] Shires, former White Sox first baseman, yesterday signed to play with the Chicago Mills semi-pro team and will make his first appearance with the squad against the Duffy Florals at Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, Sunday afternoon. Shires last year managed the Harrisburg club in the New York-Pennsylvania league.

course, and Jerry Glynn of Olympia Fields.

After Tom Walsh had completed the introductions, the judges ascended to the roof of the starter's house on the driving range and took their places. They remained there through a chilling hour and a half similar to that in which the first lesson of the school was held, until each pupil had stepped upon the testing platform and taken the four swings which comprised the final examination.

Thomson Busts a Few.

Then Revolta, Cooper, Little, and finally Thomson stepped out on the driving range and gave an exhibition of shots. Revolta concentrated on the mashie niblic, Cooper on the mashie, Little went from the No. 4 iron to the woods, and Thomson, the Scotch siege gun, topped it off with an exhibition of the tee shots which have made him the longest driver golf ever has seen. Meanwhile Tom Walsh was explaining the mechanics on each swing, with the humor of the evening being supplied by the comments of the other judges on their colleagues' shots. Julian Lambert of Northbrook compiled the scores and announced the winners.

It was the spirit of willing coöperation with which these tournament stars entered into the finals of the school for the fourth consecutive year that has made it the biggest teaching plan in any sport for the individual who wants to play but is financially handicapped to learn the rudiments.

Extra Lessons Planned.

The lessons at Mid-City were so popular that the club announced last night that it will give a series of six free group lessons within the next six weeks. The first will be held for women and girls next Monday. Men and boys will be taught one week from tomorrow.

NORTHWESTERN BEATS CARLETON AT TENNIS, 6 TO 0

Using as a lineup three reserves and the No. 4 member of the regular team, Northwestern's undefeated tennis squad continued its shutout winning streak by scoring a 6 to 0 victory over Carleton college yesterday at Evanston. It marked the seventh time this season that Wildcat opposition on the courts has drawn a blank. Three of the shutouts have been achieved since Monday. Northwestern lost but a single set in whipping the Carleton team. Summaries:

SINGLES—Rugg [N.] defeated Benn [C.], 6-4, 6-2; Adelman [N.] defeated Lewis [C.], 6-4, 6-3; Rasmussen [N.] defeated Krause [C.], 6-3, 6-0; Doherty [N.] defeated Poore [C.], 6-2, 6-2.

DOUBLES—Rugg and Adelman [N.] defeated Benn and Lewis [C.], 7-9, 6-0, 6-3; Rasmussen and Doherty [N.] defeated Krause and Poore [C.], 6-1, 6-1.

OPEN GOLF.

WHEN a score of 152 for thirty-six holes fails to qualify for the American open golf championship to be held at Baltusrol next month it's pretty tough going. That's what happened to Lawson Little, American and British amateur champion, since turned professional. Leo Diegel, veteran shot maker, also fell by the wayside. There were also other notable casualties among the 1,278 [largest number on record] players who sought to be among the 170 qualifiers.

These figures show not only the increased number of participants in competitive and commercial golf but also the higher standard prevailing among the increased number.

In fact, one commentator felt impelled to say the national open was scarcely more than a lottery. That is not so. All entrants among the 170 qualifiers have not equal chances. One might, however, pick ten or twelve with the best chances on previous form and still miss the winner, as occurred last season when Sam Parks was successful on his home course.

The distance of seventy-two holes operates against rank unknowns, who may "go crazy" for one or two of the rounds.

With all this uncertainty The Wake often has wondered why there was not more betting by professional bookies. There are pools and odds, of course, but public betting is comparatively nil. That there is not more public betting unquestionably is for the best interests of golf. Scandal stalks quickly where the human element enters. Remember the old gambling maxim, "Never bet on anything that can talk."

Close to my window promises me.

Opportunities?

Helper Dee Jay of Evanston takes exception to the prevalent idea that opportunities for young men graduating from college are not what they once were. In support of his argument he cites the case of Charles E. Morgan, who resigned his position as city chemist of Miami, Fla., to accept a post as chief chemist at the new laboratories of the racing commissions of six northeastern states. There Mr. Morgan, according to our informant, will be engaged chiefly in making saliva tests for New York race tracks and also will engage in research work. "What a wonderful field for other technically trained men!" adds Helper Dee Jay.

FIX $25 TOP FOR ROSS' BOUT IN AUSTRALIA

Champ to Get $65,000 for Title Defense.

Barney Ross, welterweight boxing champion, will meet Jack Carroll, Australian titleholder, in an international title bout at Sydney Sports field in Australia on Tuesday night, Dec. 8, it was announced yesterday at a luncheon at the La Salle hotel. Ross will be paid approximately $65,000 for the 15 round bout, the money to be placed in escrow in a Chicago bank about ten days before the champion's departure for Australia Oct. 7 or Oct. 13.

The arena will be arranged to seat 60,000, the promoter, Charley Lucas, said. Lucas, who will leave for home tonight, stated tickets will be priced at $25 down to $1, plus tax. A sell-out will gross about $160,000.

There will be a tax on each $25 ticket amounting to twelve shillings and eight pence, about $2.50.

Frankie Talaber, middleweight wrestler, son of Lou Talaber, former champion, will meet Henry Bleidestel in one of two wrestling bouts on the amateur athletic program tonight at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. Seven boxing matches also are carded. . . . Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, Wash., fighter, making a comeback at 30 years of age, sparred with Jack Kranz at Trafton's gymnasium yesterday. Kranz boxes Charley Belanger in the main bout at the Marigold arena Monday. . . .

RED SOX DEFEAT TIGERS, 3-1, ON WERBER'S HOMER

Bill Connects with 2 On in Fourth.

Detroit, Mich., May 13.—(AP)—With Bill Werber driving in all of their runs with his first homer of the season, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers, 3 to 1, today for their third victory in four starts against the world champions this year.

Werber's hit came in the fourth inning with Schoolboy Rowe on the mound and Jimmy Foxx and Eric McNair occupying second and first, respectively. Al Simmons' single, two walks and a double play gave the Tigers their only run in the last half of the same inning.

Lane Tech Is Undefeated in 9 Games

Lane Tech of the north section remained the only undefeated team in the City High School league baseball race by defeating Washburne, 5 to 3, at Paul Revere park yesterday.

It was Lane's ninth consecutive victory. With three games remaining on its north section schedule Lane is sure of a place in the quarter-final round.

Five walks in the sixth inning coupled with wild pitches enabled Fenger to defeat Parker, 7 to 3, in the feature south section game.

The loss placed Parker in a tie for first place with Bowen as the latter team halted a Hirsch rally to win 7 to 6. Parker and Bowen each has won six games and dropped two.

A single by Pitcher Ed Zydowsky driving in Danielson was the feature of the Amundsen-Schurz game as the latter won 3 to 2. It was the fifth victory in seven starts for Schurz.

Bees Defeat Pirates, 4-3, in Ten Innings

Boston, Mass., May 13.—(AP)—Waite Hoyt yielded one hit and issued one base on balls in six innings of relief pitching today, but that hit and walk gave the Boston Bees a 4 to 3 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates in ten innings.

Relieving Bill Swift at the start of the last half of the fifth with the score deadlocked at 3 to 3, Hoyt retired the next 15 Bees in order. Danny MacFayden, who also replaced John Lanning on the mound for Boston in the fifth, coaxed a pass out of Hoyt to start the Bees' half of the tenth. Bill Urbanski sacrificed. Baxter Jordan then shot a hit through Arky Vaughan and the game was over.

Cardinals Sign Secl, 220 Pound Hawkeye Guard

Coach Milan Creighton of the Chicago Cardinals yesterday announced the signing of William Secl, of Cedar Rapids, varsity guard at the University of Iowa for three years. Secl is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 220 pounds. He will be graduated at Iowa next month.

Coach Ossie Solem, of Iowa, described Secl as "the only player I ever had who took his training too seriously." Solem told him: "You're getting heavy. Why don't you get a job that will keep you in shape for the fall?"

Secl obtained a job in a packing house refrigeration plant. When he reported for practice last fall it was discovered heavy lifting in the cold storage plant had literally tied the star guard in knots. It was nearly a month after the season started that he loosened up sufficiently to reach his customary efficiency in the line.

Secl was rated as the fastest line man in the conference despite his size. Solem used him to lead the interference on end runs, commenting: "He was the only guard fast enough to get out of the line ahead of Dick Crayne and Ozzie Simmons."

"—NINE, TEN"

New Timer to Be Used at Golden Gloves

The National Golden Gloves finals Wednesday night at the Stadium will introduce a new timing device to Chicago boxing fans. This clock, suspended above the ring, registers the three minute rounds, sounds the bell for the ten second periods prior to the start of the round and automatically counts the number of seconds when one of the boxers is on the floor.

The 250 pound clock is operated by two buttons which must be punched by the timers. The first starts the clock. The other is pushed when one of the boxers is knocked down. In this instance, the mechanical speaker automatically counts "one, two, three" and so on until the boxer arises or is counted out. This insures accurate timing. By hooking this machine with the Stadium's public address system, it can be heard regardless of the noise.

The clock also has a rectangular surface below, on which a black shade operates so that spectators and boxers may see the progress of the rounds. A black shade moves up for three minutes in full view until the end of the round, then drops for one minute, sounding a warning signal at 50 seconds for the coaches, and starting up again when the bell sounds at the beginning of the round.

The clock was used at the preliminaries of the National Golden Gloves tournament at the International amphitheater. It is designed and patented by Robert Steeneck of the Western Union.

NONPOLITICAL CONSERVATION SETUP ASKED

Sportsmen at Springfield to Discuss Plan.

BY BOB BECKER.

Sportsmen from many Illinois counties will meet in Springfield today to discuss a state-wide drive to obtain a nonpolitical conservation plan for the state. Those attending the convention will represent approximately 15,000 members of sport clubs in Illinois. It is hoped that this gathering will endorse a "model plan" for a nonpolitical department of conservation—something that Illinois has needed for many years.

This Springfield meeting comes during Illinois' conservation week—an ideal time for sportsmen and others interested in Illinois' outdoor resources to get together and make plans to change the conservation setup in this state.

Commission Form Needed.

This department has urged a commission form of conservation department for many years. There is nothing new in having the department of conservation directed by a commission which is not controlled by any political party. As this department has pointed out, states like Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, and many others established a commission plan and immediately a new efficiency in spending the sportsman's money and building up fish and game resources was noted. The secret of effectiveness of the commission plan is in the organization of the department personnel, the way well trained men are chosen to head up the game departments, the fish department, and others, and the fact that those in the department do not have to drop their work for some political party.

Directors Change.

In Illinois the director of conservation is appointed by the governor. When the governor is voted out the conservation director goes with him, and the whole personnel of the department changes. This system naturally does not make for efficiency. Often good policies started by one director are discarded and thus the sportsman's money is wasted.

Charles F. Thompson, director of conservation, who has been receiving the commendation of many sportsmen in the state for his work in law enforcement and in building up the state's fish and game resources, has issued a special booklet on Illinois conservation. It is in commemoration of the state's first organized effort to focus attention on the problem of conserving our outdoor resources.

INDICT FOUR FOR USE OF MAILS TO START LOTTERY

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Four persons were indicted by a federal grand jury today for using the mails in the promotion of the sale of lottery tickets on a sweepstakes based on automobile races held April 13 in Monte Carlo. The bill, which contains three counts, names Mario Montrezza, Rene Montrezza, Julio Ricci, and Warren Connelly.

According to the indictment the defendants opened a mailing service, and caused many sacks of letters containing books of lottery tickets, circulars, and advertisments to be mailed from the city hall branch of the postoffice.

The circulars described a lottery sweepstakes to be held in Monte Carlo under a permit granted by Monaco to the Casino de Monte Carlo. It was called the Grand Prix de Monaco and the prizes for distribution totaled $668,000, including a first prize of $167,000.

William Woodward's Flares Wins Newmarket Stakes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Norway and Belgium Split Davis Cup Singles

OSLO, Norway, May 13.—(AP)—Norway and Belgium divided the first two singles matches of their second round Davis cup encounter today. A. Lacroix of Belgium, defeated Johan Haanes, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2, and F. Jensen evened the count by beating P. Geelhand of Belgium, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Brooks Handicap on Saturday's Card at Aurora

The C. Wayland Brooks handicap, a $1,500 added event, will be the feature of Saturday's eight race program at Aurora. Brooks, Republican nominee for governor of Illinois, will present a floral trophy to the winner. A considerable number of his supporters from Chicago and the northern counties are expected to be on hand for the race.

◆

Two new candidates were named yesterday for the $12,000 added Illinois Derby which ends the Aurora meeting a week from tomorrow. R. A. Coward named Reslon, which was a winner on Tuesday. George Ogle, Oklahoma owner-trainer, arrived at Aurora from his farm and named his Infidox for the race. Infidox was a double stake winner as a 2 year old last season, and has been racing well this year.

IVAN PARKE GIVES BROTHER A HINT AND HE TAKES IT

Charley Boots Home 3 Winners at Aurora.

Charley Parke, the 16 year old Idaho youngster who was America's leading rider of 1936 in number of winning mounts until the end of the winter meetings, received a letter at the Aurora race track yesterday that was not altogether complimentary in tone. It was from an older brother, Ivan Parke, who led all American jockies in 1923 and 1924, and who is regarded as one of the greatest race riders this country has produced.

The letter inquired as to the reason for Charley's dropping from first place to fourth place in the jocky standings since he came north for the summer racing season, and suggested that the reputation of the Parke family as race riders—it has sent Ivan, Burley, Monte, and Charley to the races—would be enhanced were Charley to begin booting home more winners.

Charley Takes the Hint.

The baby faced westerner took the hint without further prompting. He took John Oros' well backed Wise Eddie to the front at the start of the five and one-half furlong second race, and kept him there all the way round to score by a length and a half over Moonsan, with Sharp Thoughts third. Wise Eddie ran the distance in 1:08 over the good track.

Of course winning on Wise Eddie was no great feat of jockyship, for the horse had figured as the class of his field, and returned only $4.80 when the numbers had gone up in the infield slot.

Parke had a more difficult assignment set for him in the third race, a six furlong dash which enlisted nine sprinters. He was on Benny B., a 3 year old which is the only horse being raced by Ben Binion, wealthy Texas cattle man. Benny B. was held at long odds, but with his brother's criticism ringing in his ears, the price made no difference to Charley Parke.

He Comes Through Again.

He broke Benny B. fast from the extreme outside, had him a length in front before the field had gone a hundred yards, and punished him through the stretch to finish a nose in front of Empress Yvonne, with Beige third in a race run in 1:14 1-5. Benny B. paid $30.60 in the regular betting, and the successful Parke daily double combination of Wise Eddie and Benny B. returned $110.40 to those members of the crowd of 4,000 discriminating enough to back it.

It required more than riding ability on the part of Parke to win the race, however, for he was called into the stewards' stand to explain why he had struck the second place Empress Yvonne with his whip in the stretch. His explanation was that she was so close to him in the stretch that he did so inadvertently once. This evidently was satisfactory, however, for the result was allowed to stand.

And Once Again.

Parke was determined to improve his position in the American jocky standings, in which he was fourth after Saturday's races. Off slowly on Norman Hernandez' Loischen in the six furlong fourth race, be brought the filly from behind with a rush in the stretch to beat a field of Illinois Derby candidates by two lengths.

The three victories boosted Parke to within two winners of third place in the jocky standings, and now that he thinks he has hit his stride he is confident that he will be able to move up to third position before the Aurora meeting closes.

Owner Hernandez scored a personal double for the day when his 5 year old Woodlander beat Understand and Countess Ann in the Cherry Circle purse at a mile and seventy yards, which was the best of the afternoon's races for older horses. Woodlander paid $7.80.

RATE OF STEEL ACTIVITY DIPS 1 POINT TO 67½%

Output Unchanged in Many Areas.

Steel demand remained extremely encouraging last week, with ingot production declining only half a point to 67½ per cent of capacity and output in many important steel districts remaining unchanged compared to the previous week, said the magazine Iron Age yesterday.

No sharp decline in output is expected for at least another month, the journal said, though raw steel is being accumulated at a few plants. However, Iron Age says that finishing mill schedules are well sustained and mill backlogs are sufficiently large.

Labor agitation, the granting of vacations with pay to wage earners, and pending tax legislation have focused the attention of steel producers on prices during the last week. Advances on many finished products are being considered, but no important producer has yet determined a definite policy on the subject.

No Decision Before June.

Iron Age says it is certain no decision can be reached before June 1, and if higher prices are announced at that time consumers will be given ample opportunity to cover their summer needs at current price levels.

"The experience of the industry has proved that midyear price advances are not desirable. Demand is invariably declining at that time, and even though orders can be sharply stimulated during June by such action, business suffers accordingly in July and August," Iron Age said.

The magazine cited discriminatory New Deal legislation as increasing production costs, but declared that the steel industry realizes only too well that "the law of supply and demand cannot be flaunted by practical business policy even though political expediency may lead to any sort of untried theory."

Auto Demand Holds.

The automobile industry is contributing heavily to the maintenance of business, as it now seems likely that May assemblies will compare favorably with the heavy April output. Freight car construction promises to be an important factor in bolstering steel output against the expected automobile decline. Freight car awards this year have amounted to 13,300 units, compared with scarcely 1,500 in the corresponding 1935 period.

Construction activity is a less spectacular market factor, the journal said. The week's fabricated structural steel letting totaled 19,900 tons, compared with 14,400 the previous week, while new inquiries declined from 16,900 tons to 9,700. Pipe line construction is of growing importance, and there is some talk of construction of a second natural gas line from the midcontinent field into Chicago.

The Iron Age scrap composite declined to 41 cents a gross ton to $13.42, or $1.35 a ton under the year's high level and only 9 cents above the 1936 low. The pig iron and steel composites are unchanged.

OUTPUT SETS RECORD.

New York, May 13.—(AP)—The American Iron and Steel Institute today reported that sheet and strip steel output in 1935 was the highest in the history of the steel industry.

Combined output of these products last year was 7,823,146 gross tons, or 45 per cent higher than 1934, and above the previous record of 7,757,791 gross tons in 1929. Sheet steel production last year totaled 5,175,557 gross tons, and strip gross tonnage output was 2,647,589.

The high production record, the institute said, reflected mainly greatly expanded sales of automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, and farm equipment.

RAILS PERMITTED TO CUT NOTICE ON LOWER FARES

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today authorized railroads to establish new low passenger fares on five day's notice, rather than the customary 30 days.

Officials said the short notice was permitted to enable the filing of inter-territorial rates by June 2, when a commission order fixing fares of 3 cents a mile in Pullmans and 2 cents in coaches will become effective.

Filing of the inter-territorial schedules was held up by the delay of eastern carriers in reaching a decision to comply with the commission order. The eastern carriers, however, plan a court attack on the ruling later.

Labor's Union Interest Light, Says Expert

Despite the amount of labor legislation in the last three years and the New Deal's advocacy of labor unionism, the American wage earner remains largely an individualist opposed to class war and only mildly interested in collective bargaining, Whiting Williams, industrial consultant, declared in a luncheon address yesterday before the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Palmer house.

WHITING WILLIAMS.

The outstanding fact of the last three years, Whiting said, is that union membership has increased so little despite the various labor relations acts which have been adopted. It is unlikely, he said, that any great increase will follow from the present effort to preach the advantages of the "vertical" or industrial union to those workers in steel, rubber, and automobiles, who have shown only slight interest to date.

Small Part Unionized.

Of the 36 million workers in the country, only about 3½ million are union members, he said, and even during the sponsorship of labor organization under NRA, union membership increased less than 800,000 in two years.

The chief reason for the labor troubles of the last three years, Whiting said, was the mistake of legislators, industrialists, and the public in taking the labor leader more seriously than he deserves to be, while taking the rank and file worker less seriously than he should be.

"The industrial union," he said, "seldom interests the skilled, higher paid worker. This is because it opposes the innate wish of the American worker to raise himself through increased skill to higher levels.

"This desire to enjoy a higher individual, rather than a higher class, status means also that by far the greater number of industrial disturbances are found on close study to involve not great broad underlying class issues but, on the contrary, small individual grievances."

View on Management.

It is the responsibility of management to insure that small grievances do not accumulate and grow to such proportions as to cause trouble, Whiting declared.

"It is my observation," he said, "that the outsider is, as a rule, called in to help secure proper treatment only after the worker has become convinced that such proper treatment cannot be secured through the normal, inside-the-plant channels.

"If this is true, then the recent governmental and legislative pressure for collective bargaining should by no means prevent progress in genuine employé representation and other sincere methods and activities calculated to improve the condition of the worker and his relations with his employer."

SENATE PASSES BILL AMENDING BANKRUPTCY ACT

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—The senate today passed with a number of amendments the bill adopted by the house last January to modify procedure provisions of the bankruptcy act of 1934. The changes, which would apply to section 77B of the bankruptcy act, were intended to correct minor inequities which have resulted in actual administration of the 1934 enactment.

Several of the changes approved today concern petitioners for reorganization. Where the existing law provides that three creditors may apply for reorganization of a corporation, the bill would demand that these three applicants hold not less than 5 per cent of the existing indebtedness of the corporation.

Another would require that the court find a corporation was in need of relief not only at the time the petition was filed, as is the case at present, but at the time of signing the order as well. Where the court would appoint the manager of a business to be its trustee under law, as is often done, that individual would be prevented from drawing salaries both as trustee and as manager.

Kratzer Leads Chicago Unit of Institute of Banking

Earl C. Kratzer of the Pioneer Trust and Savings bank was elected president of the Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Banking yesterday. Other selections were: Donald D. Magers of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, vice president, and Howard S. Alsip of the First National bank, treasurer.

CUMMINGS REPORTS SMALL FIRMS BORROW MORE FOR EXPANSION

Expansion of business in some lines is resulting in improved demand for bank loans by companies of moderate size, Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the board of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, said yesterday.

W. J. CUMMINGS.

"Reports for last week show the Continental bank made quite a number of sizable new loans to customers who have not been borrowing for two or three years," Cummings said. "At least ten such loans, each in excess of $100,000, have been made during the week. In addition there have been quite a number of new loans under $100,000.

"Although this development has not yet gone far enough to indicate a definite reversal of trend it is regarded as a reflection of increased business volume in some industries."

Cummings said that the improved volume of new loans was not revealed by the bank's figures on total loans outstanding, because of the fact that during recent weeks several sizeable loans of several years' standing had been liquidated, the borrowers having paid off these loans with the proceeds of refunding bond issues.

STEEL WORKERS TO CONDUCT OWN UNION CAMPAIGN

Canonsburg, Pa., May 13.—(AP)—The country's biggest steel union voted today to launch an organization drive in the steel industry, under its own direction, along the one big union plan advocated by John L. Lewis, head of the mine workers.

By a vote of 53 to 31 the convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers settled the long dispute over the question which found Lewis backing the industrial plan against the opposition of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. Green supported a plan of craft unions for the industry.

Standard Oil Increases Gasoline Prices Half Cent

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana announced yesterday that it has increased prices of regular gasoline one-half cent a gallon at service stations and tank wagons, and ethyl gasoline one-half cent a gallon at service stations. The increases are effective this morning and they apply to the Chicago territory and certain adjacent districts. Shell Petroleum and other companies increased their prices yesterday.

H. K. Farrar Elected Head of La Salle Street Club

The La Salle Street club yesterday elected Holden K. Farrar, vice president of Edward B. Smith & Co., Inc., as chairman. Other officers elected included Neal B. Dawes, federal reserve bank of Chicago, vice chairman; John E. Blunt III. of Lee Higginson corporation, secretary, and Stanley L. Yonce of the Bankers Trust company, treasurer.

Power Output Totals 14.5% Above 1935

Arrival of warm weather last week, which increased use of electrical refrigeration, caused an upturn in the production of electrical power throughout the country, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. Production for the seven days ended May 9 increased 1 per cent over the preceding week and 14.5 per cent over the corresponding week of 1935.

The same factor was reported by the Commonwealth Edison company as responsible for power output in Chicago being maintained at a high level, although production was slightly below that of the preceding week.

Caused by Warm Weather.

Electric power production for the entire country totaled 1,947,771,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 1,928,803,000 in the preceding week and 1,701,702,000 in the corresponding week of 1935. The Edison Electric institute said this rise was almost entirely a result of the abrupt change from spring weather to the heat of the summer. The average temperature for the country was about 10 degrees above that prevailing during the corresponding period of last year and the week ended May 2 of this year. It was explained that 8 million electrical refrigerators were in use against 6,300,000 a year ago.

In the Chicago district electricity output was 108,612,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 97,658,000 in the corresponding week of 1935, an increase of 11.2 per cent.

Figures for Chicago Area.

Week ended	1936.	1935.	Pct. inc.
May 2	109,488,000	100,731,000	8.7
April 18	108,073,000	102,716,000	5.2

Increases for the week ended May 9 over the corresponding week of 1935 for the principal geographic sections of the country were: New England, 13.3 per cent; middle Atlantic, 12.1; central industrial, 14.5; west central, 16.3; southern states, 16; Rocky mountain states, 21.8, and Pacific coast, 16.6.

U. S. SETTLES BIG LIQUOR CLAIM FOR 3 MILLIONS

OTTAWA, May 13.—[Special.]—The United States treasury has settled for 3 million dollars its claim of 50 millions against Ontario and Quebec distilleries because of large stocks of Canadian liquor smuggled into the United States during the prohibition era, it was learned today.

The agreement is said to clear the way for quick export to the United States of more than $100,000,000 of Ontario and Quebec whiskies now in store. The dispute was held to jeopardize the recent Canadian-American trade treaty, and failure to settle it would have blocked shipments of Canadian whiskies favored under the tarif agreement.

Ends Embargo Plan.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—As a result of settlement of claims against Canadian distilleries for customs duties on liquor smuggled into this country during prohibition, the treasury will not press for enactment of an embargo against Canadian distillers against whom claims were pending.

COVERING OF SHORTS LIFTS FRANC; POUND DIPS AGAINST DOLLAR

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Efforts of bearish speculators to cover short positions were responsible today for another rally in the French franc which carried it well above the gold import point to 6.60 cents, ¾ point above Tuesday's final price.

Accompanying the lifting of pressure on the franc there was a decline in sterling which has lately been buoyed up by the flight of capital from France to London. The pound dropped to $4.96¾, off ⅞ cent.

In the face of the rally of the franc the Netherlands guilder closed unchanged at 67.60 cents, which is approximately the gold import point. The Swiss franc advanced 7 points to 32.40 cents, and the belga finished unchanged at 16.90 cents.

Gold previously engaged abroad continued to arrive here today. The Guaranty Trust company reported the receipt of $11,584,700 from France on the steamship Norfolk and the National City is scheduled to receive $5,485,000 tomorrow.

The daily gold statement of the federal reserve bank listed the arrival of $2,092,100 from France today, and $43,000 from Russia. The reserve bank also announced that $559,000 of gold had been engaged in Holland on Tuesday for shipment here, in addition to the engagements previously announced. This brought total gold engagements since April 24, to $144,100,000, of which $125,000,000 has been taken in France, $5,700,000 in Holland, $2,000,000 in England, and the remainder chiefly in India.

German travel marks, which have been declining recently under the pressure of increased offerings fell further today to 24 cents, compared with 24.75 cents Tuesday and 26.90 cents last week.

AM. ACCEPTANCE COUNCIL PLANS DISSOLUTION

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—The American Acceptance council, founded seventeen years ago to help develop an American bill market, will be dissolved and its fact-finding and educational functions will be taken over by the American Bankers' association, it was decided today at a meeting of representatives of leading banks.

The dissolution had been under consideration some time. Early this month the bankers' association agreed to take over the council's functions and to publish henceforth in its monthly magazine, Banking, the statistical and other material put out by the council.

A resolution to dissolve the council will be presented for ratification to the full membership next month.

N. Y. Order Cutting 'French Phone' Charge Held Illegal

Albany, N. Y., May 13.—[Special.]—The order of the public service commission reducing the charge of the New York Telephone company on "hand sets," or so-called "French telephones," from 25 to 15 cents a month, was today declared illegal by the Appellate court. The appeal by the company was entirely on legal grounds, and it did not seek at any time to prevent the reduced rate from going into effect. The decision is that the commission must receive testimony offered by the company which the commission excluded. The case is remanded to the commission.

CATTLE SUPPLY RISES AS OTHER STOCK DECLINES

Gains Despite U. S. Slaughter, Drouth.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Recent growth in the importance of cattle production is one of the striking developments in American farming of the last few years. The increase in the number of cattle on farms has occurred during a period which has included several years of lean feed crops and unprecedented drouth, when other live stock was declining in number. The cattle population has grown despite the governmental slaughtering program carried out during the drouth period, which temporarily reduced the number of farm animals.

The latest official United States census figures on animal poulations on farms are for Jan. 1, 1935. The number of cattle of all ages on farms at the beginning of last year was 68,284,000, an increase of 3,489,000 head, or 7 per cent, as compared with five years earlier.

Census Every Five Years.

The census is taken every five years, but interim estimates are made by the department of agriculture. According to that department the cattle population at the beginning of 1936 was about the same as a year earlier.

In recent months there has been unusually heavy marketing of cattle which was reflected in the figures on cold storage meat stocks on May 1 issued by the department of agriculture. Storage stocks on that date, with the exception of 1935, were the heaviest for six years.

Not only has the number of cattle increased but the number of farms producing cattle is substantially higher than in 1930. The census figures for last year show the number of farms producing cattle at 5,480,775, as compared with 4,803,174 at the beginning of 1930.

Indicates Further Growth.

The census bureau survey indicated the potentiality of a further growth in the animal population. The number of cows of mature breeding last year was considerably higher than that shown in the earlier census. Cows and hefers two years old or more last year numbered 36,931,000 as compared with 28,336,000 in 1930.

While the cattle population has been increasing other animals on farms have been declining in number. Hogs on farms at the beginning of last year amounted to only 66 per cent of the total in 1930. The swine population as fixed by the census bureau was 37,213,000 at the beginning of last year. This in-

More Concern Shown Over Federal Costs

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Increasing public concern over the cost of government, strong opposition to any increase in taxes on business concerns and to the fixing of prices of farm products, and an increasing opposition to the redistribution of wealth by taxation were reported today by the national industrial conference board.

The results of a survey just completed by the board were made public by the National Association of Manufacturers. The study was based on replies to a questionnaire sent to more than 10,000 editors of newspapers and farm magazines.

The editors were asked to give the prevailing opinion in their communities by replying to a series of questions under the four general topics of cost of government, social security, government and business, and government and labor.

Opposed to Radicalism.

According to the report, replies from editors whose publications represent a combined circulation of more than 12,500,000 readers indicated that public opinion "is not only preponderantly opposed to radicalism in government but is becoming increasingly so."

The report said also that important shifts in opinion on national questions were found by comparing the results of the current poll with a similar study made in 1934. The two-year period between these studies in public opinion brought a sharp rise in the number of persons who are opposed to increasing the federal public debt, the survey revealed.

"A conservative trend in public opinion has continued over the last two years in the face of statements and propaganda to the contrary," the board said. "Despite intensive efforts to unionize all industry public opposition to the closed union shop has increased in two years from 91.5 to 92.2 per cent.

Vote Against Tax Growth.

"Any increase in taxes on business concerns was opposed by 82.5 per cent, or approximately 8 per cent more than those who opposed increases on individual income taxes. An increase in taxes on sales of commodities and services was opposed by 85.8 per cent. Increases in state and local debts drew opposition from 94 per cent."

The board said that government control, participation in or competition with private business "was rejected emphatically in every case."

"More than 86 per cent were against the fixing of prices on farm products," it said. "Bounties to farmers were favored by 28 per cent. Although 58.9 per cent favored increasing the price of farm products, only 19 per cent were in favor of restricting crops. Government price fixing in manufacturing was opposed by 93.2 per cent and a reduction in tarifs on manufactured goods was opposed by 64.4 per cent.

"Two years ago 63.6 per cent of the votes were cast in opposition to distribution of wealth by taxation. Now the opposition has increased to 72.6 per cent."

ACTIONS PUZZLE STOCKHOLDERS OF YELLOW CAB

Two Changes Befog Corporate Jigsaw.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

An involved corporate jigsaw puzzle capable of taxing the mental processes of the sharpest stockholders was presented yesterday with two developments, one concerning the Chicago Yellow Cab Company, Inc., and the other the Checker Cab Manufacturing company. While covering apparently wholly unrelated subjects, ramifications of the two developments cross trails, mystifying stockholders.

BENJAMIN SAMUELS.

Taking up the first development it was disclosed here yesterday that stockholders of Chicago Yellow Cab Company, Inc., at the annual meeting held in New York Tuesday, approved a plan which in effect retires 100,000 shares of common stock from circulation, and elected three new directors to succeed three who were displaced.

Stock Sale Restricted.

This virtual retirement of 100,000 of the 400,000 shares issued of Chicago Yellow resulted from the action of stockholders in restricting the sale of the 100,000 shares held by the Waverly corporation, a subsidiary, except to the company or one of its subsidiaries, unless approved by a majority of the stockholders of Chicago Yellow Cab.

All the voting stock of the Waverly corporation is owned by Yellow Cab company [Maine], which is a subsidiary of Chicago Yellow Cab Company, Inc. Chicago Yellow Cab is a holding company, while Yellow Cab company [Maine] is the operating company, which runs the Yellow cabs and operates the garages in Chicago. Benjamin Samuels is the president of Chicago Yellow and Thomas B. Hogan is president of Yellow Cab. Hogan is vice president of Chicago Yellow and Samuels is a vice president of Yellow Cab.

Explain Relationship.

While Yellow Cab company [Maine] owns the Waverly corporation, the investments of Waverly consist largely of stock of Chicago Yellow Cab Company, Inc.

Hogan explained yesterday that the 100,000 shares of Chicago Yellow Cab were acquired by Waverly during the depression at such times as the stock sold below the book value. The effect of the action taken by the stockholders, he said, is to reduce the

LIQUOR STOCKS FEATURE MODEST CLIMB IN STOCKS

Prices Move Higher in Listless Trading.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 13.—With no special enthusiasm, stock prices were bid up fractions to more than 2 points today as traders followed the path of least resistance.

A mild flare-up in alcohol issues was the closest thing to a feature that developed during the session. Speculators exhibited little desire to participate in operations and trading volume amounted to only 585,890 shares.

Alcohol stocks, especially issues of Canadian firms, were benefitted by the agreement reached between the treasury and Canadian distillers on tarif claims for liquor smuggled into this country during prohibition. Another favorable development was the likelihood of a liquidation of the tax dispute between Pennsylvania and various distillers.

Hiram Walker Rises.

Hiram Walker was the biggest gainer in the liquor group, registering a gain falling just short of 3 points. Distillers-Seagrams was active and 2⅝ points higher while Schenley climbed 1⅞ and U. S. Industrial Alcohol increased $1 in value.

Traders were encouraged over the changes in the administration's corporate tax bill, which had been bitterly criticized in the street. Industrial news at mid-week was also construed as favorable.

One discouraging factor remained—the inactivity of the market. Brokers are more concerned with the fall in sales than with the trend of prices. They blame the SEC and the New Deal for the slump in business.

The boost in margin requirements was especially singled out as discouraging to trading by both large and small operators. Some quarters also attribute the dullness to a desire to await developments on the inflationary farm mortgage measure.

Steel Shares Advance.

Leading steel shares worked higher today, as did the motors, although Auburn reached a new low. United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors and White Motors gained fractions to a point or more. White was helped by reports of a government contract for 61 trucks.

Rails did better as reports by leading carriers indicated an increase in freight loadings for the week of 16 per cent over a year ago, although slightly under last week.

Mining shares finished higher, with Anaconda, American Smelters, McIntyre and U. S. Smelting moving up a point or more. Standard of New Jersey and Amerada closed a point above previous levels.

Arrangements were made today for the sale of membership in the exchange for $101,000, an increase of $1,000 over the previous transaction, made May 4.

CHICAGO STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR IN DULL TRADE

Chicago stocks were irregular but little changed yesterday in another dull trading session. Only 88 issues appeared on the tape in a 26,000 share turnover. Thirty-three issues advanced, 20 declined, and 28 were unchanged.

One issue to break through to a new 1936 high was Cherry Burrell, which advanced 2 points to 50 on a fifty share trade. Zenith Radio climbed 1½ to 18⅝ in 4,250 share turnover, which was one-sixth of the entire trading on the board. Merchants and Manufacturers A rose 1 point in 3,050 share trade.

Chicago Mail Order and Chain Belt, down 2 points on single trades of 50 shares each, and Northwest Utilities preferred, down 1½ on a 20 share trade, were weak spots in the market.

COTTON RISES MODERATELY ON UNFAVORABLE CROP TALK

Less favorable crop comments from the eastern section of the cotton belt and foreign buying of the deferred deliveries lifted cotton prices moderately yesterday. Pool selling of May at New York prevented an upturn in that delivery. Closing trades were at gains of 2 to 6 points on the active futures in Chicago, while other markets were 2 to 8 points higher. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent.] Reports from the western section of the cotton belt indicated conditions had been much improved by recent rains.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher, with New Orleans at 11.60 cents; Houston and New York, 11.65 cents, and Galveston, 11.55 cents per pound. Prices follow:

EVENTS PUZZLE STOCKHOLDERS OF YELLOW CAB

New Actions Complicate Corporate Jigsaw.

"This benefits present holders of Chicago Yellow Cab stock," Hogan explained, "and lightens the load of the management because it does not have as many shares outstanding on which it must pay dividends."

New directors of Chicago Yellow are James A. King, New York, mechanical engineer with the Parmelee Transportation company, with which Chicago Yellow Cab is affiliated; Walter Laird, Pittsburgh, connected with the Benzolene Motor Fuel company, and R. J. Wyatt, New York, treasurer of the Parmelee Transportation company. The directors who resigned are J. L. Kesner, J. J. White, and I. N. Nelson.

Cord Interest Shown.

Chicago Yellow Cab, besides owning Yellow Cab of Maine, owns the Benzolene Motor Fuel company of Pittsburgh.

Moving back to the Checker Cab Manufacturing development, that company disclosed in New York yesterday in a statement filed with the Securities and Exchange commission that a syndicate agreement between the Cord corporation and Morris Markin, president of Checker Cab, for trading in the stock of Checker Cab, has been extended for five years from last August 10 and broadened to include dealings in other securities.

The additional securities in which the syndicate may deal include stock of Chicago Yellow Cab Company, Inc., stocks or bonds of the Parmelee Transportation company, or securities of corporations allied to the taxicab industry.

Share Losses, Profits.

Cord corporation's interest in the capital of the syndicate consists of 64,067 shares of Checker Cab, valued at $497,694, and the interest of Markin is 6,500 shares of Checker, valued at $45,500. The Cord corporation is to furnish any additional capital necessary for the purchase of additional stock of Checker or other companies. All profits or losses of the syndicate are to be shared equally.

The statement to the SEC brings another ramification with the disclosure that the Cord corporation continues to hold 7,000 shares of class A stock of the Waverly corporation and 977 shares of the Cab Sales and Parts corporation, pledged as security for Markin's share of any losses.

Under terms of the syndicate agreement Cord corporation has the right to nominate during its life a majority of the directors and the official personnel of Checker Cab manufacturing and Markin has agreed to coöperate with Cord in placing Cord representatives in control of Parmelee Transportation, Chicago Yellow Cab, the Waverly corporation, Cab Sales and Parts corporation, and any other company purchased by the syndicate.

Elect Parmelee Members.

Two of the three members just placed on the board of Chicago Yellow Cab Company, Inc., are associated with Parmelee.

Another exhibit filed with the SEC showed that the Cord corporation had advanced $355,000 to Checker Cab Manufacturing company to finance the production of 500 taxicabs for instalment sale to the Checker Taxi company of Chicago. The latter is a competitor of Hogan's Yellow cabs in Chicago.

INTL. NICKEL'S EARNINGS SHOW SHARP INCREASE

Cerro de Pasco Profits Are Maintained.

Additional favorable earnings reports were made public yesterday by a number of well known companies, with one of the sharpest upturns shown by the International Nickel Company of Canada. The company for the first quarter of 1936 had a net income of $8,386,787, equal to 54 cents a share, as compared with $4,917,627, equal to 30 cents a share, in the corresponding 1935 period.

The consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 1936, showed current assets of $65,812,996, including $37,758,074 cash and government securities. Current liabilities were $10,671,073. At the end of 1935 the company had current assets of $60,109,935, including $32,720,024 of cash and government securities. Current liabilities then were $9,621,001.

Cerro de Pasco Situation.

E. H. Clark, president of the Cerro de Pasco Copper corporation, at the annual meeting of stockholders in New York yesterday, said that earnings currently are running at approximately the same rate as in 1935 and the company should be able to maintain its present common dividend rate.

Clark said that despite the drop in the price of silver, earnings of the company are being satisfactorily maintained through the increased output of by-product metals and higher efficiency.

The Auburn Automobile company reported a consolidated net loss of $703,564 for the first quarter of its fiscal year, ended Feb. 29, 1936, as compared with a loss of $451,597 for the corresponding period a year ago. In its report to stockholders dated Jan. 20, the company said it expected a loss in the first quarter due to delays which had held up production of the new Cord models.

Economies Are Effected.

"Starting May 1 drastic economies were effected, not only in the plants of the Auburn Automobile company but in all subsidiaries, which should materially affect operations hereafter," the company reported.

U. S. Gypsum company reported for the quarter ended March 31 net profit of $436,617, equal to 25 cents a share on common stock, compared with $387,670, or 21 cents a share, in the same period last year.

Holly Sugar corporation reported that for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1936, consolidated net profit after all charges and taxes was $2,684,519, equal, after preferred dividend requirements to $5.02 a share, as compared with $1,066,723, equal to $1.78 a share, for the preceding fiscal year.

All accumulated and current preferred dividends were paid during the year and a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share was declared on the common stock, the first since the organization of the company twenty years ago.

Dividend Action Conservative.

"Earnings undoubtedly justify a higher dividend rate," Wiley Blair Jr., president, told stockholders. "However, the directors believe stockholders' interests are best served by declaration of a nominal dividend and the use of remaining earnings in building up of a substantial working capital and in the retirement of senior securities."

A special compensation fund of $162,750 was distributed among 113 officers and employés occupying positions of responsibility. The company said it is spending $1,000,000 this year to improve plants and beet receiving equipment. Acreage contracted to date is about 11 per cent larger than a year ago.

The Great Western Sugar company announced that its net income for 1935 totaled $5,515,240, as compared with $5,761,727 for the preceding year.

Cherry-Burrell corporation for the six months ended April 30, 1936, had a net income of $450,768, as compared with $319,629, in the correspond period last year.

MELLON $741,548 TAX VICTORY IS APPEALED BY U. S.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 13.—(AP)—The government appealed to the United States Circuit court today from a federal court decision awarding Andrew W. Mellon and executors of the estate of his brother, R. B. Mellon, a refund of $741,548 in income taxes. The case has no connection with the government's suit against the former secretary of the treasury for $3,089,000 in income tax and penalties on his 1931 income.

The Mellons won the judgment on taxes collected after the sale of the A. Overholt & Co. distillery and the West Overton Distillery company in which the Mellon brothers were partners with Henry Clay Frick.

Counsel for the Mellons said the liquidation took five years and taxes were paid annually on profits. They contended the government charged all the profits to one year's business.

Sales of Guernsey Cattle Rise 52 Per Cent in 1935

Chicago Bond Men Plan Field Day at Knollwood

The Bond club of Chicago will hold its twenty-third annual field day at the Knollwood club on June 5, it was announced yesterday by Edward K. Welles, chairman of the general committee in charge.

PACKARD MOTOR CAR BOOSTS DIVIDEND TO 15 CENTS PER SHARE

The Packard Motor Car company yesterday declared a dividend of 15 cents a share against 10 cents last February when dividends were resumed. It is payable July 1 to stock of record June 6.

"The action," said Alvan Macauley, president, "is direct indication of the company's favorable earnings, its greatly increased volume of sales, and its future earning outlook. Net earnings, after all charges, totaled $1,248,029 [about 9 cents a share] for the first quarter of 1936, a rise of 279 per cent over 1935."

The dividend payment will total $2,250,000 against $1,500,000 last February.

A quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock was declared by directors of the United States Gypsum company payable July 1 to stock of record June 15. This places the common stock on a $2 annual basis against $1, plus extras, heretofore. A regular quarterly disbursement of $1.75 on the preferred stock was also declared.

Eastman Kodak company declared the usual extra dividend of 25 cents a share along with the regular payments of $1.25 on the common stock and $1.50 of the 6 per cent preferred.

Hazeltine corporation declared a dividend of 75 cents a share on the common stock. The company paid a quarterly of 25 cents a share and an extra of the same amount on March 14.

Northern Pipe Line company voted a dividend of 15 cents a share on the common stock. On Jan. 2 a semi-annual dividend of 25 cents a share was paid.

AVIATION LINE COMPLAINS OF COMPETITION

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—North American Aviation, Inc., today complained to the interstate commerce commission against air line competition by American Air Lines, Inc., on routes from Chicago to Washington and Washington to Newark.

The complainant company contended that American Air Lines, by instituting a passenger and express service over these routes, had adversely affected its revenues.

North American Aviation holds contracts for the transportation of air mail over the two routes. It contends that the American Air Lines service is not necessary in the public interest and has the effect of increasing the cost of air mail transportation.

Signed by E. V. Rickenbacker, vice president, the North American petition asked the commission to order discontinuance of the competitive service.

BIG FARM POWER PROGRAM BILL NEARS PASSAGE

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—A 10 year, $410,000,000 program for electrifying American farm homes passed its last serious congressional hurdle today and neared the statute books.

The bills upon which conferees from the house and senate reached an agreement after weeks of dispute would create a permanent rural electrification administration to make loans for rural power lines and installation of electrical equipment in farm homes. It represented a compromise from the billion dollar program originally introduced in the session by Senator Norris [Rep., Neb.].

The administration, under the revised bill, would get $50,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for its first year of operation, and $40,000,000 annually for the next nine years from the treasury.

U. S. CHAMBER TO MAKE STUDY OF EMPLOYMENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—A special committee to survey the possibilities of expanding employment in private industry was announced today by Harper Sibley, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

John W. O'Leary of Chicago, president of the Machinery and Allied Products institute, will act as chairman. It was O'Leary who persuaded the chamber's directors to set up the special committee in answer to President Roosevelt's demand that private business take up the slack in employment.

Sibley said the committee would be able to outline its program within a week.

INTL. TELEPHONE VOTES CUT IN CAPITALIZATION

Baltimore, Md., May 13.—(AP)—Stockholders of the International Telephone and Telegraph company voted today to reduce the amount of capital represented by one share of stock from $33.33 to $20.

Shareholders also decided to retire 243,506 shares of stock, of which 206,808 shares were the balance of the stock held by trustees for employés' stock purchases. The other 36,698 shares are held in the treasury of the corporation.

Bendix Buys Interest in Jaeger Watch Company

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Bendix Aviation corporation has purchased a substantial interest in the Jaeger Watch company of New York, it was announced today. The deal combined design and manufacture of precision instruments between Jaeger, the Pioneer Instrument company, a wholly owned Bendix subsidiary, and the Jaeger company of France and Switzerland.

WHEAT PRICES RISE SHARPLY AS SHORTS COVER

Uneasiness Shown Over Foreign Outlook.

North American wheat markets advanced sharply yesterday, reflecting short covering induced by uneasiness over the European political situation. Liquidation which had been so effective in depressing prices on Tuesday, disappeared.

There was no material pressure and prices closed near top for the day with gains of around 1 cent in Chicago, 1⅜ cents in Minneapolis, and 1 cent in Winnipeg. Liverpool, which opened slightly lower on cheaper offers from Canada, rallied sharply on less favorable political news from the continent and closed ⅝ to 1¼ cents per bushel higher.

Report Kansas Wheat Sold.

Some buying of futures made its appearance here on reports indicating part of the 900,000 bushels of cash wheat recently bought to come here from Kansas City had been sold into commercial channels. The quantities disposed of were not disclosed. Reports from the southwest indicated more interest war being shown by buyers of flour.

Comments on the winter and spring wheat crops yesterday indicated that with favorable weather the winter wheat yield this season will be the largest since the record breaking total of £18,000,000 bushels grown in 1931. Increasing mention was made of the possibility of final returns being around 500,000,000 bushels or more. A Salina, Kas., grain man estimated the Kansas crop at 127,000,000 bushels or more, compared with the government May 1 prediction of 114,000,000 bushels.

Compare Closing Prices.

Closing prices on the July delivery of leading grains with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Week Ago.
Wheat	$0.85⅝	$0.84⅝	$0.88
Corn	.60¼	.60⅝	.61½
Oats	.26¼	.25⅝	.26½
Rye	.53⅝	.52⅝	.51⅝

Speculative interest in corn was light and the close was somewhat irregular. The September delivery gained a small fraction. Shipping sales of 114,000 bushels were reported and charters were made for 100,000 bushels for shipment via lake to eastern Canadian ports.

Oats were unsettled with September showing strength. Rye continued to feel the effect of the recent bullish government report and advanced around 1 cent.

REVISE PLAN TO REORGANIZE ROSENBAUM UNIT

Bondholders of the Chicago Elevator Properties, Inc., subsidiary of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation, were notified yesterday of a change in terms of the proposed reorganization plan.

The revised plan provides that interest on the new bonds be fixed at 5 per cent after the first five years instead of payable if earned throughout the life of the issue. Interest during the first five years will be payable if earned and cumulative at the rate of 5 per cent.

As a concession to the underwriter of the new bonds—James Norris of the Norris Grain company — the amount may be deducted for management and executive costs in arriving at "net earnings" each year is increased from $30,000, originally proposed, to $40,000.

Charles Frye to Head Financial Advertisers

Members of the Chicago Financial Advertisers association yesterday elected Charles S. Frye, advertising manager of the Chicago Journal of Commerce, president at the annual meeting at the Hotel Sherman. Other officers elected were J. Mills Easton, advertising director of the Northern Trust company, vice president; Helen G. Laycock, advertising manager of the Oak Park Trust and Savings bank, secretary, and E. A. Hintz of the Casper American State bank, treasurer.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, May 13.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today and based on last sales of nearby sugars, spots were quoted nominally at 3.72c per lb. There was nothing available below 3.85c. The only sales reported was 37,500 bags of Porto Ricos concluded late yesterday for June shipment to an outport refiner at the 3.85c level. Futures showed little variation, except for a reaction in the spot month at the close under liquidation, while the steadiness in other positions was attributed to trade buying and covering. Final prices were 3 points lower on the spot month and unchanged to 1 higher on other deliveries. Sales were 2,700 tons, of which 2,000 tons were in May, 1937.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound:

creased during the year to 42,541,000 on Jan. 1, 1936, according to the department of agriculture's estimates.

Slaughters Many Pigs.

In its efforts to bring about higher prices for hog producers the federal government in 1933 slaughtered 6,188,000 pigs, 222,149 sows, and 1,400,000 market hogs at a total cost of 40 million dollars. Drouth and the poor corn crops harvested during part of the period were also responsible in part for the decline in the number of hogs.

The heaviest reduction in the number of hogs occurred in the corn belt states, particularly in the western corn belt, where the drouth was most severe.

While the number of swine in the corn belt was declining, however, the southern states assumed a new importance as a hog producing region. Southern farmers turned to feed crops when a substantial part of their acreage was taken out of cotton production. Corn production in the southern states increased materially with the largest gains in Mississippi, Arkansas, the Carolinas, and Alabama.

Big Gain in South.

In the south central states, the census bureau survey showed, the number of cows which farrowed in the first six months of 1935 was 52 per cent larger than in the corresponding 1930 period. In the South Atlantic states the gain was 37 per cent.

Figures on sheep and lambs, horses, and mules disclose a decline in population in the last few years. The sheep population at the beginning of 1396 was 51,673,000 head as compared with 53,946,000 in 1932. Compared with the 1930 total of 51,383,000, a small increase was shown this year. It is estimated that 11,637,000 horses are on United States farms, the smallest number in more than ten years. The number of mules, estimated at 4,685,000, is also the smallest in more than a decade.

PRICES OF HOGS TURN HIGHER AS DEMAND RISES

Strong Despite Loss in Pork Market.

The steady decline in hogs which has been underway for some time was checked yesterday as prices advanced an average of 10 cents a hundred pounds.

Action was decidedly improved as demand expanded, despite further concessions granted by packers in the pork trade, and advances in some of the heaviest of the butchers ranged upward to 25 cents.

Pork Prices Decline.

Further downturns were recorded in wholesale fresh pork loins, the top in Chicago declining 50 cents, to $18.50, a new low for the current break. Both pork and hogs have been under pressure for three weeks, but the downturn in pork has been slower than in live costs.

Some top grade hogs were taken off the market for selling later in the week when only 11,000 were estimated en route for today's trade.

The live lamb market was unsettled by sharp fluctuations in the wholesale market, where various cuts sold from $1 lower to $2 higher per hundred pounds. Better grade live lambs were steady. Others were weak to 25 cents lower. Wool stock sold for slaughter at $11 to $11.25, with shorn at $9.25 to $10.25. A sharp break hit the trade for old sheep.

Beef Offered Lower.

Packers offered concessions of 50 cents per hundred pounds to move beef out of a congested wholesale trade yesterday, but live costs were forced 10 to 25 cents higher by light receipts. Farmers marketed only 7,000 head, the smallest Wednesday run in five weeks.

Most steers brought $7 to $8.50, with top sales at $9.10. Cows and hefers were strong to 25 cents higher. Top hefers reached $8.75, only 35 cents under the top steer sale. Bulls advanced 10 cents. Calves were strong, selling as high as $10.

ARMOUR ADMITS TAX DEFICIENCY FOR 1925 TO 1928

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—A stipulation was entered today before the board of tax appeals by Armour & Co. admitting income tax deficiencies of $1,412,011 for the period 1925-'28.

The basis of the compromise agreement with the treasury department was not disclosed in the stipulation.

Principal items in controversy were the disallowance by the treasury of losses claimed by the company in the sale of investments in several foreign corporations, and disallowance of deductions as amortization of bonds of the company. Appeals for the separate years have been pending since 1931.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Grass for Steers.

May 13, 1936.

EXPERIENCE in feeding cattle on THE TRIBUNE'S Yorkville Experimental farm has convinced Clarence Thurow, farm manager, that fattening steers on grass is one means of economic gain. The 1935 crops grown on the farm are being fed to steers; 251 head of whitefaces still are on feed.

The steers now on feed are being handled in two different ways. Eighty head of these Herefords that have been on feed since last fall have just been turned on pasture, where they will be kept on a full ration. The other 171 head are in dry lots where they have been all winter and spring.

Average 800 to 1,000.

The 80 head on grass now weigh from 800 to 1,000 pounds each. They have been divided into two groups. Forty-two of them are running on a 55 acre pasture of timothy, alfalfa and clover mixed. The other thirty-eight are grazing in a woodland native grass pasture of 160 acres.

The steers on grass are being kept on a full feed of corn and linseed oil meal. At the present time they are given daily an average of 9 to 10 pounds of shelled corn and 1½ to 2 pounds of linseed oil meal, pea size.

Mr. Thurow says that the steers relish their daily allowance of corn despite the fact that they are grazing on grass that is tall enough to wave when there is a breeze. He finds that they not only make rapid gains when being fattened on grass but that they take on a much finer finish.

"Grass hurries the hair off," he says.

Shelled corn and hay make up the bulk of the ration given to the 171 steers in the dry lots. There are 62 head in lot No. 1, 52 in lot No. 2, and 57 head in lot No. 3.

Shear in Two Weeks.

The Wheaton farm flock will not be sheared until about the last week in May, according to the manager's present plan. Practically all of the ewes have lambed. The last count showed that 215 lambs dropped this spring still are alive. Lambs are so thick in the pastures that turkeys are having a tough time finding a place to build a nest where the nosy wooley faces will not disturb them. Last week an old Bourbon Red hen that gave up trying to find a nesting place in the pasture decided to lay her eggs in a turkey hover at the corner of the flockmaster's orchard. After she laid three eggs three lambs decided to rout her out and use the hover for sleeping quarters on chilly days.

Wild Life Excitement.

Six goslings hatching out in the nest of a wild Canadian goose is the latest happening to cause excitement on the ponds where the wild fowl are nesting.

A ground hog tried to "upset the apple cart" in the poultry yard last week. He was caught hanging to the branches of a cherry tree at the edge of the yard surveying the laying and roosting houses. Ground hogs have a bad record at the Wheaton farm, where they are charged with stealing eggs and chickens. Feathers have been found in the burrows on the farm.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 13.—A firm undertone prevailed throughout the listed bond market today. While trading remained dull and featureless, the course of least resistance was toward moderately higher levels in most of the major groups.

The sales volume again reflected the indifference on the part of traders, transactions amounting to $7,229,000, as compared with $7,103,000 on Tuesday.

Federal List Higher.

United States government obligations continued to creep upward on a turnover of less than $500,000. Gains ranged from 1-32 to 4-32 point, with both the guaranteed and direct loans participating in the movement.

Rallying tendencies also predominated in the market for foreign dollar bonds with the French government issues making further progress, advancing 1 to 3½ points. The Latin American section was marked by a brisk demand for Buenos Aires bonds which carried those issues up fractions to 2½ points. Others in the foreign list held within comparatively narrow limits in quiet trading.

Domestic Issues Strong.

Irregularly higher prices ruled throughout the domestic corporation issues with many of the higher grade loans moving up fractionally on a few sales. Strong spots included American Type Founders 6s and Lehigh Valley Terminal 5s, which rose 2⅛ and 3 points, respectively, while less extensive gains extended over a fairly broad list of railroad liens and selected utility issues. Manhattan Railway bonds responded to a good demand with gains of 1⅝ to 2¼ points.

Laclede Gas Light.

Investors' Guide: Will you please furnish available information in regard to the Laclede Gas Light company?—E. E.

Answer: Laclede Gas Light company, a subsidiary of Utilities Power and Light company, furnishes natural and manufactured gas to the city of St. Louis.

Gross revenues of the company declined over a period of several years. Some expansion in gross occurred in 1934 and 1935, but net income continued to diminish. The record follows:

	Operating revenues.	Net income.	Inc. per com. shr.
1935	$6,845,000	$ 73,000	$ 0.49 [*]
1934	6,775,000	266,000	1.32
1933	6,739,000	623,000	4.65
1932	7,214,000	939,000	7.61
1931	7,537,000	922,000	7.44

Records going back to 1922 show that 1935 was the first year in which preferred dividends were not covered. Net income for 1935 was equal to $2.92 a share on the 5 per cent preferred stock. No dividend on preferred stock has been paid since Dec. 15, 1933.

It has been agreed with bondholders that no further dividends will be paid until earned surplus reaches $7,005,000. On Dec. 31, 1935, earned surplus was $3,386,000. Interest charges on the funded debt were covered only 1.03 times in 1935.

The company is contesting an order of the Missouri public service commission fixing a valuation of $39,000,000 on the gas properties, reducing the rate of return to 6½ per cent, and fixing the annual depreciation rate at $500,000.

On Dec. 31, 1935, current assets were $2,132,000, against current liabilities of $1,309,000.

Engesser Brewing.

Investors' Guide: Kindly mail any information you have regarding Engesser Brewing company.—P. S.

Answer: Engesser Brewing company, which was established in 1856, has been engaged since then in manufacture and sale of cereal and carbonated beverages. Its plant is at St. Peter, Minn.

In April, 1933, 150,000 shares of $1 par 7 per cent class A common stock were offered. It has no voting power, but has preference as to assets and dividends and is entitled to one-third of earnings left after class B shares [45,797 outstanding] have received $7 a share.

Net income in 1934 dropped off to $8,500 or only 6 cents per class A share from $26,000, or 17 cents a share in 1933. Current position was poor on Dec. 31, 1934, current assets being $31,000 and current liabilities $72,000.

The stock is highly speculative. Nothing has been paid on it since issuance of the A shares.

EGGS DECLINE DESPITE COLD STORAGE SHORTAGE

Despite the severe shortage in cold storage supplies of eggs, futures on the Mercantile exchange declined ½ cent yesterday, with October closing at the bottom at 23 cents per dozen. Liquidation and new selling entered the market at the start, due to reports of heavy receipts here and at New York, and a decline of ½ cent per dozen in the local spot market. Sales of futures were 171 cars.

Government purchases of 44,000 pounds of spot butter were reported here yesterday, making a total of 1,171,000 pounds taken since April 22. Futures were somewhat firmer, with November closing ⅛ cent higher at 27 cents per pound. Sales of futures aggregated 26 cars. Cheese gained ⅛ cent, one car changing hands. Prices follow:

LARD DEVELOPS FIRM UNDERTONE; PRICES RISE

While some selling of lard futures occurred yesterday on the disappointing report on supplies in cold storage as of May 1, and pressure from warehouse interests, the market developed a firmer undertone, largely in sympathy with cottonseed oil and hogs. Closing trades were unchanged to 7½ cents higher. Deliveries of 150,000 pounds of cash lard were made on May contracts. Salt pork closed nominally 12½ cents lower. Cash lard was quoted at $10.47½; loose, $9.75; leaf, $9.62½, and clear bellies at $13.12½ per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds follow:

OWENS GLASS DISCLOSES PLANS FOR EXPANSION

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Owens-Illinois Glass company of Toledo, in a registration statement filed today under the securities act of 1933 for issuance of 63,300 common shares, $25 par value, stated that, subject to modifications due to changing conditions, it was contemplated by the company and its subsidiaries to engage during the next two or three years in a $12,500,000 program of expansion and improvement of existing facilities.

The shares to be issued are to be offered for subscription pro rata to shareholders of the company at $100 per share in the ratio of one share for each twenty shares held of record at the close of business on June 5.

Seek Exchange Listing.

Transferable warrants evidencing the right to subscribe will be issued to shareholders by June 13, and will expire July 24. Arrangements now are being made to have them listed for trading on the New York Stock exchange.

Proceeds from the sale, the company said, would be mingled with its general corporate funds. A part, it was said, may be used for acquisitions, although no specific action of that kind now is under consideration, except a small can manufacturing plant for which not to exceed $350,000 would be paid.

As to the general program of expansion and betterment the company said that, unless it was modified, expenditures would be approximately as follows:

Improvement to the registrant's Streator, Ill., container plant, $2,500,000; improvement of other such plants of the company, $2,500,000; expansion of facilities for production of industrial materials such as glass blocks and glass fiber, $2,000,000.

Plan Coast Plant.

A total of $2,500,000 will be spent for construction of a new container plant at Oakland, Cal., by Owens-Illinois Pacific Coast company, a subsidiary; expansion of facilities for the manufacture of thin blown tumblers and stemware and glassware by Libby Glass company, subsidiary, will require $1,000,000; and expanding facilities by Owens-Illinois Glass company will cost $2,000,000.

It is now contemplated, the statement said, that the expansion and improvements by subsidiaries would be paid for out of funds of the particular subsidiaries insofar as they are available and adequate.

WHERE TO FIND A GOOD JOB!

Because the Tribune is the foremost market place for employment in the middle west it is the best place to look for a job.

Into this great market come scores of individual employers in all lines of business and industry on the lookout for workers. The Tribune prints two and a half times as much help wanted advertising from individual employers as any other Chicago newspaper.

Leading employment agencies likewise use these columns to notify job-seekers of attractive positions in every branch of work. The Tribune prints seven times as much help wanted advertising from employment agencies as any other Chicago newspaper.

These facts are good to know when you start out to hunt a job. Check through the help wanted columns of the Chicago Tribune first. The Tribune prints three times as much total help wanted advertising as any other Chicago newspaper and far more than all others combined.

The Tribune does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisments which misrepresent the nature or terms of employment, or advertisments for sales help which do not indicate the type of product or service to be sold, and the form of compensation.

LONG-SHORT HAUL REPEAL URGED BY ALL RAILROADS

File Briefs in Favor of Pettengill Bill.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Representatives of all American railroads appeared before the senate interstate commerce committee today, urged passage of the Pettengill bill repealing the long and short haul clause in the present interstate commerce law, and charged the present law is unjust and unfair and serves no useful purpose. Its repeal, they declared, will operate to the advantage of the shippers as well as the carriers.

Those who urged passage of the legislation, which already has passed the house, were Harry Wilson, vice chairman of the Trafic Executive association for the eastern section of the country; J. E. Tilford, chairman of the Southern Freight association, representing lines operating in the south as well as the Intercoastal Steamship lines operating between North Atlantic and South Atlantic ports; F. H. Plaisted, freight trafic manager of the Southern Pacific Lines, who spoke for the transcontinental lines, and D. R. Lincoln, freight trafic manager of the Missouri Pacific Lines, presenting the railways operating west of the Great Lakes and the Mississippi river and east of the Rockies.

Offer Written Statements.

These witnesses submitted their statements in writing with the understanding that they will be subjected to the scrutiny of committee experts after which some or all of them may be recalled for cross-examination.

Wilson declared a lower rate for a longer haul is unlawful only when it is unduly low or creates unjust discriminations, or undue preferences and prejudices, he said.

"Repeal of the clause can and will injure no one, and will not make possible any unlawful rail rate," he said.

Sees Benefits to Farmers.

Tilford supported the position taken by Wilson. Plaisted pointed out that railroads and farmers constitute the two largest industries in the nation, that both operate a fixed plant which cannot be moved to a new location at will. Farmers, he said, have a vital interest in the passage of the Pettengill bill, which will enable the railroads more readily to make reductions on agricultural products where necessary to admit these products to market on a basis profitable to the producer. Lincoln submitted a short brief in which he supported the arguments advanced by Messrs. Williams, Tilford, and Plaisted.

Tomorrow the committee expects to call representatives of labor who will have one or two days in which to state their position on the bill.

RAILROAD PROFIT FOR 1935 PLACED AT 162 MILLIONS

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Allowing for heavier expenses this year in most divisions and based upon a predicted gain of 10 per cent in trafic, the railways should earn net income in 1936 of about $162,000,000, according to Young & Ottley, Inc. This would be the first profit to be shown since 1931. It would compare with net losses of $287,538 in 1935, $16,887,000 in 1934, $5,862,000 in 1933, and $139,203,821 in 1932.

The forecast takes into consideration estimated increases for compulsory pensions and social insurance, higher taxes, rising fuel and material costs, flood damage, and generally larger sums for maintenance. Wages are not expected to advance this year, the study says.

Preliminary returns indicate that gross revenues and net operating income of the railroads in April reached high levels for the year and surpassed the $34,600,000 reported for April, 1935. Flood conditions of March ceased to exert an appreciable influence in April.

Early estimates indicate that gross revenues of class 1 railroads in April approached $310,000,000, compared with $308,300,000 in March, and $274,600,000 in April, 1935.

Slight Drop Indicated in Rail Freight Trafic

Reports of individual carriers indicate that railroad freight trafic throughout the country dipped slightly last week, but held substantially above a year ago. Cars moved last week by various roads follow:

CHICAGO-TEXAS TRAIN RUNNING TIME TO BE REDUCED ON MAY 17

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway, in connection with the Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis and San Francisco, and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroads, will cut the present running time between Chicago and Texas points on May 17, J. B. Ford, vice president of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, announced yesterday. The time between St. Louis and Dallas will be reduced two hours and forty-five minutes.

To connect with the trains for Texas out of St. Louis the Chicago and Eastern Illinois' Century of Progress will leave Chicago at 12:30 p. m. Chicago time instead of 1:15 p. m. Chicago time as at present. It will arrive in St. Louis at 5 p. m. central time instead of 5:45 p. m. central time as at present.

Northbound, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois will leave St. Louis at 12:07 p. m. central time and will arrive in Chicago at 6:37 p. m. Chicago time instead of 6:55 p. m. Chicago time as at present.

NORTH WESTERN REVENUES GAIN, BUT COSTS RISE

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Gross revenues of Chicago & North Western railway in April increased approximately $500,000 over a year ago, according to Fred W. Sargent, president, but the company had an increase of nearly $1,000,000 in operating expenses. Expenses for maintenance of equipment for the month rose approximately $525,000; for maintenance of way and structures, about $40,000; transportation, $300,000; and taxes, due to social security bill and railroad retirement act, $200,000. Reduction of about $1,000,000 in the net operating revenues showing for April against the like month last year, when there was net operating income of $234,813, means net operating deficit for the month of about $800,000.

"April is always a bad month for us," Mr. Sargent said. "May is usually better. Trafic this month is holding around 8 per cent to 10 per cent above a year ago and prospects are good. Soil conditions along our lines are excellent and there is a substantial amount of residential building."

NICKEL PLATE REPORTS GAIN IN FREIGHT TRAFIC

The New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, known as the Nickel Plate, reported to its stockholders yesterday that freight revenues in 1935 showed an increase while passenger income declined. Freight revenue gained 3.65 per cent and passenger income declined 11.97 per cent.

As previously reported the road had net income of $1,016,929, which was transferred to profit and loss, compared with a deficit of $41,241 for 1934. President W. J. Hanrahan reported that total operating revenues were $34,243,513, against $33,143,864 for 1934. Total operating expenses were $23,107,185 for 1935 and $22,692,256 for 1934.

Hanrahan called attention to the fact that the employés retirement act of 1935 is being tested before the Supreme court, but if it is sustained it will reduce the company's net income for 1936 by approximately $485,000, or $1.44 a share of common stock.

SENATORS CLASH ON SPLITUP OF M. & ST. L. ROAD

Dieterich Terms Probe of Sale "Unusual."

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(AP)—Although denying he sought to stop an investigation of the proposed sale and dismemberment of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railway, Senator Dieterich [Dem., Ill.] told a senate committee today he considered its procedure "unusual."

SENATOR DIETERICH.

Dieterich, member of a special interstate commerce subcommittee considering the Benson resolution for a full senate investigation of the proposed deal, objected to what he said was an effort to stop the proposed sale without having a better solution in mind. The hearing started today.

A group of northwest railways, organized into Associated Railways company, petitioned the interstate commerce commission to approve the sale, and asked the Reconstruction Finance corporation to lend them funds to buy the road. The purchase offer is approximately $8,000,000.

Clashes Frequent.

At one time the discussion became so heated Shipstead denied the committee, through its questioning, was charging any governmental agency with bad faith, an implication he credited to Dieterich. The latter replied Shipstead had magnified his remarks and that he had made no such imputation.

Dieterich objected to a statement by Shipstead that it was his understanding the RFC was in favor of the proposed sale. When Shipstead produced as proof a press release of the RFC Chairman Jesse Jones, Dieterich held the evidence insufficient because the release was put out prior to filing of the application.

The senate subcommittee had called Oliver E. Sweet, director of the bureau of finance of the ICC, as its first witness when Dieterich interposed his objection.

Questions Motive.

"Isn't it piling up a lot of valuable time to consider something which might not happen at all?" Dieterich asked.

Shipstead replied the committee had been duly constituted by the senate and was required to conduct a hearing on the resolution.

During the short time Sweet was given to testify—the senatorial exchanges occupied much of the hour and one-half hearing he explained the Associated Railway company is made up of the Chicago & North Western, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Illinois Central, Chicago Great Western, Chicago Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Great Northern and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie.

Under the plan, Sweet said, 429 miles would be sold to the Milwaukee, 124 to the North Western, 92 to the Rock Island, 197 to the Burlington, 99 jointly to the Illinois Central and the North Western, 21 to the Rock Island and North Western, and 47 to the Great Northern. A total of 502 miles would be abandoned.

SARNOFF THINKS PHONES IN AUTOS CERTAIN TO COME

A day when Americans will be able to converse with their homes from moving automobiles and trains was foreseen yesterday by David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, on his arrival here yesterday to attend the annual RCA-Victor wholesale merchandisers' convention which will be opened this morning at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Sarnoff, who is here with other RCA officials to introduce a new line of sets for the coming season, disclosed that engineers in RCA laboratories are perfecting short wave sets for popular communication.

Executives and Managers.

Well Known National Mfr. of Roofing and Siding

can place several experienced roofing and siding salesmen in responsible positions. Several of our lumber and building supply dealers in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan want to open roofing and siding application departments and have asked us to locate men who have the necessary experience and ability to successfully head the operations for them.

Applicants must know the roofing and siding business thoroughly; be able to hire, train, and supervise salesmen; be good closers, and own a car. Unimpeachable references must be furnished.

Salary and commission arrangement, or drawing account against earnings. No investment required.

If willing to move out of town, and if you possess the qualifications outlined above, write, giving a brief outline of your past experience and connections, references, age, and phone number. A personal interview in Chicago will be arranged. All replies confidential. ADDRESS X Y 325, TRIBUNE.

THE CHANCE OF A LIFETIME!

YOU CAN BUY A FINE CAR AT A REAL BARGAIN PRICE FROM

STUDEBAKER

SALES CO. OF CHICAGO AND PAY

IMPORTANT!

In order to get out from under the biggest stock of used cars in their history, Studebaker Sales Co. of Chicago is making this sensational offer. For a limited time only—you can purchase any car in their great selection on time payments, and absolutely pay no finance charge or interest. Think of it! All the red tape and the extra expense of financing is disposed of—and you obtain the car of your dreams at the lowest price possible.

REMEMBER!

This is only because the sales of 1936 Studebakers have swamped us with the greatest array of "trade-ins" in our history. We admit we can't handle all these cars. We haven't got the room. And so because Studebaker maintains its own finance department we are able to make the astounding offer of selling cars on time without requiring you to pay a finance charge or interest.

LOOK!

IN ADDITION, ALL CARS HAVE BEEN SENSATIONALLY REDUCED IN PRICE FOR IMMEDIATE CLEARANCE. THESE ARE NOT FICTITIOUS REDUCTIONS, BUT ACTUAL LEGITIMATE REDUCED PRICES OF FROM 30% TO 70% PER CAR.

$800 cars now low as $595
$500 cars now low as $295
$350 cars now low as $195
$200 cars now low as $85

CHOOSE

from one of the largest groups of cars in Chicago. There are Fords, Chevs., Plymouths, Buicks, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles, Dodges, Chryslers, Packards, Studebakers, etc.—in Sedans, Coupes, and sport models—and all offered at prices that astound you.

in fine running condition, very clean throughout, that will give you thousands of miles of carefree transportation—priced each at

This bank is one of the few companies in the country which will lend on the same rates and terms regardless of whether you borrow on a new car or a used one, and, so far as insurance is concerned, Fire and Theft is all we require, although we strongly urge that every car owner insure himself against collision hazards. In all cases we want the insurance to be placed with the borrower's own broker or agent. Premiums may be added to the loan account, the broker paid in full, and the borrower settles up with us in monthly installments.
